PRINTING DEPARTMENT.

On July 13 to George Coleman & Co., as per following communication:

BOSTON, July 6, 1921.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,

Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—I respectfully request your Honor's permission to award the binding of the "1921 Police List" to George Coleman & Co. at an estimated price of $2,284. The next lowest bidder is the Union Book Bindery Company, whose bid is estimated at about $2,491.10.

Most of the binderies competent to do this work are now on strike except the firm of George Coleman & Co., who has handled the job for several years past and is thoroughly familiar with the work.

Last year the price was $843 for binding 250 copies—60 bound in cloth by wards and 190 in pamphlet form bound by precincts, of which there were 223 precincts containing about 6,570 pages. This year 400 copies are being printed, 100 bound in cloth by wards and 300 copies in pamphlets bound by precincts, of which there are 273 precincts and about 13,000 pages.

The job, therefore, is by far larger than last year. Hence your Honor's permission to grant the request as above stated.

Respectfully yours,

CHARLES S. LAWLER,
Superintendent.

ADDITIONAL APPROPRIATION FOR SOLDIERS' RELIEF.

BOSTON, July 11, 1921.

To the City Council:

GENTLEMEN,—This year for relief work by the Soldiers' Relief Department, there was appropriated the sum of $500,000, it being felt that this would be ample, in view of the fact that last year only $417,000 was spent of the $490,000 appropriated.

The demands upon the department, however, have been so great, because of widespread unemployment, that the department's funds are practically exhausted, and it becomes necessary to make available an additional sum of $375,000. The Soldiers' Relief Commissioner believes that this amount will carry him through until January 31, 1922. The city should do everything in its power to aid those veterans who are entitled to financial assistance, and I therefore recommend the immediate passage of the accompanying order. I hope that the City Council will pass the order at the meeting on July 11, for unless the money is immediately made available, the financial relief given by the Soldiers' Relief Department will have to be cut off.

Respectfully yours,

ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

BOSTON, July 5, 1921.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,
Mayor of Boston:

SIR,—I have the honor to request the appropriation of $375,000 for the use of this department under the heading in the budget "F, Special Items S, State and Military Aid, Soldiers' Relief and Burial." This request is necessary because of the great increase of expenditures under this heading during the six months ending June 30.

At this time it is not possible to state with accuracy what demands will be made for relief during the balance of the year. Based on the present situation, however, there will be required approximately $435,000. In the hope that conditions of employment will make it possible to reduce the amounts paid for relief, the present request is for $375,000.

While the recipients of aid from the Soldiers' Relief Department on account of service in the Civil War and the war with Spain, remain more or less constant in number, those receiving relief because of service in the World War have increased very largely in number as shown in the following table:

WORLD WAR CASES.

1921.	Total.
January 1	748
February 1	1,077
March 1	1,412
April 1	1,785
May 1	1,957
June 1	2,210
July 1	2,234

The amount appropriated in the budget 1921-1922 was $500,000, and upon this there were the following drafts in 1921 for relief to all classes:

February 1	$48,266 00
March 1	62,664 72
April 1	76,266 50
May 1	79,127 00
June 1	87,495 00
July 1	84,919 50
Total	$438,738 72

The increases indicated above, both in the number of applicants for relief and in the amount of money expended, are due to a great extent to the condition of business which makes it practically impossible for a man to obtain a position. In investigating along this line a conference was had with the Director of the State Employment Bureau, situated on Kneeland street, Boston, and he stated that as many as 3,000 men and women report in a single day at this office seeking situations. He stated further that for every position which he was able to obtain where a man or woman was wanted, there were fifty people looking for the situation. As long as this condition prevails, it is very probable that there will be no decrease in the demands made upon the Soldiers' Relief Department.

Very respectfully,

HENRY C. McKENNA,
Soldiers' Relief Commissioner.

APPROPRIATION FOR RIFLE RANGE.

Boston, July 11, 1921.

To the City Council:

GENTLEMEN,—I am transmitting herewith a communication from the Superintendent of Public Buildings requesting an appropriation to cover the maintenance of a rifle range as provided by law, and I recommend the passage of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,

ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

Boston, June 25, 1921.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—Replying to the inclosed memorandum from your office, having reference to the maintenance to the rifle range for the National Guard of the State of Massachusetts, I wish to say that I have just been informed by Colonel Brown, inspector of small arm practice, that the National Guard will indulge in work along this line just as extensively as heretofore, and the $5,000 appropriation will be absolutely necessary to carry on this work. As in former years, this rifle practice will be carried on at the Bay State Rifle Range, Wakefield, Mass.

Respectfully yours,

FRED J. KNEELAND,
Superintendent of Public Buildings.

HOSPITAL DEPARTMENT

SPEECH OF MAYOR PETERS

AT BREAKFAST IN HONOR OF SECRETARY OF COMMERCE HOOVER, COPLEY PLAZA, JULY 12, 1921.

Boston has for its guest today a man who during four cruel years stood between the embittered armies of Europe and fed a starving nation; a man who, after the storm had subsided, divined the true needs of the stricken peoples and made it his mission to minister to them, thereby helping to restore such sanity and friendliness as Europe now contains; a man who has written his name as large on the hearts of mankind as any statesman or soldier of this period. All this he accomplished as a private American citizen.

When the time came, he was called to take a place in the government of his native country. The authority assigned to him was of somewhat elastic scope. Held by a man of less energy and creative force, his position might exercise no more than a moderate influence. Under the present incumbent it is sure to loom large and, perhaps, affect powerfully the welfare of a whole generation; for he is one whose experience has fitted him to think in the broadest terms and whose vision corresponds to that older American ideal of a brotherhood among all mankind.

His insight enables him to reach the heart of difficult problems. His capacity for analysis permits him to master complicated details. His executive faculty is equal to the task of reconciling men of opposing interests and different schools. His character has earned for him the formidable support of the silent multitude of the American people.

Having persuaded us to forsake our darling sin and check the waste of consumption, he has now undertaken the no less necessary task of reducing waste in production. He is valiantly attempting to organize the foreign market so that our surplus of goods may find purchasers and at the same time industry the whole world over may receive the impetus to revival that it needs.

Whether we are producers or consumers or a mixture of both, he is the watchful guardian of our interests. I present to you one of the positive forces of our time, a fighting Quaker, a romantic engineer, a knight in modern homespun, an orator whose sole eloquence is that of deeds accomplished and reasons for making the good record better, the Secretary of Commerce, Mr. Herbert Hoover.

Among those present at the breakfast given by Mayor Peters to Hon. Herbert Hoover, Secretary of Commerce, at the Copley Plaza Thursday, July 12, were:

Albert H. Blake, Herbert T. Drake, James A. Munroe, Willis R. Fisher, Charles C. Hoyt, members of the City Council, Maj. George J. Cronin, Arthur D. Hill, Thomas C. O'Brien, Thomas F. Sullivan, J. PAYMENT FOR LEGAL SERVICES.

BOSTON, July 11, 1921.

To the City Council:

GENTLEMEN,—Some short while after the passage of chapter 159, Acts of 1918, "An Act to Provide for the Public Operation of the Boston Elevated Railway Company," which act when originally drafted as recommended by the Public Service Commission was changed without the City of Boston or any of its officials being notified, and which act I have always been opposed to in its present form, I was advised by the then Corporation Counsel, Alexander Whiteside, that the act was, as far as the City of Boston was concerned, unconstitutional, as it was in the nature of a taking of the subways without providing for compensation, as we held the subways in our proprietary capacity because of acts passed in 1902 and 1911, and said chapter 159, Acts of 1918, provided for the control of the subways by the Commonwealth through public trustees, appointed by the Governor.

This act also provided for assessment upon the City of Boston without a provision for the acceptance of the act by the city.

Acting upon said advice, I instructed the Corporation Counsel to institute proceedings to test the constitutionality of the act. Action was brought in the name of the City of Boston v. Burrill, the then State Treasurer, and the Boston Elevated appeared in said action and filed a demurrer, which demurrer was overruled in the Supreme Judicial Court for the County of Suffolk by a single justice. The case was appealed to the Supreme Judicial Court for the Commonwealth, and the finding of the single justice, who had retired from membership in said court and was no longer a member thereof, was reversed.

I consider the question of our private and proprietary rights in the subways as well as the question of the right of the state to tax the inhabitants of the city for the upkeep, repair and improvement of private property of a corporation and the payment of dividends on stock by a general tax levy of such iniquitous character as legislation that my opposition should continue until the highest court of the land, the Supreme Court of the United States, determines its constitutionality. During the proceedings in this case the Hon. Nathan Matthews was employed to assist as special counsel in the Law Department, and I feel that his services as special counsel should be continued so that regardless of any change in the personnel of the department, that he should act to the end, as he has from the beginning represented the city in the subway enterprises both at the Legislature and in court; as he was the chief supporter of the Acts of 1902 and Acts of 1911, wherein the Legislature provided that the City of Boston hold the subways in their private and proprietary capacity; as he argued the case of Brown v. Turner, involving the principles concerning these proprietary acts; and as he has been thoroughly conversant in this case from its inception; was engaged in the preparation and argument of the case in the Supreme Judicial Court for the county, and was engaged in assisting the present Corporation Counsel in the argument of the case before the full bench; as he has thus far received no compensation for his services, except a nominal sum of $300, and as I consider the sum of $7,500 which he will charge for services already rendered and to be rendered until a final decision is rendered by the United States Supreme Court, a reasonable amount to be paid, I recommend the passage of the accompanying order.

Respectfully yours,

ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

SPEECH OF MAYOR PETERS

AT MASS MEETING OF NATIONAL SHOE AND LEATHER EXPOSITION AND STYLE SHOW, MECHANICS BUILDING, JULY 12, 1921.

This is certainly a congenial city for a shoe and leather exposition. Almost everybody in Boston is an expert on shoes and the whole atmosphere is impregnated with the rich, strong odor of leather. As the wagons loaded with hides, oak or hemlock tanned, go jolting by, we like to remind ourselves that we are the principal leather market of the United States. When we watch the steamers leaving port for Savannah or Panama or Liverpool, we feel that they are probably carrying substantial shipments of New England shoes. The greatest shoe and shoe machinery cities of the world, Brockton, Lynn, Beverly and Haverhill, lie around us, within neighborly distance. There are not many places, I think, where the shoe man will feel more thoroughly at home.

I am glad you have made this exposition a "Style Show." I think we all agree that the American shoe is the last word of perfection in footwear. It has graceful outlines and artistic finish. If one may judge from observation, the average man in Boston gets as much pleasure from studying a shoe store window as the average woman does from a millinery display. The heels may be high and the prices higher. The chiropodist may smile as he thinks of his rush of patients. The reformer, who is always with us in Boston, may sigh for the good old days of moccasins or open sandals or wooden sabots, or what not. But the American eye unquestionably does get a lively satisfaction from the sleek, slender, neatly turned type of shoe that has been evolved by the ingenuity of American designers. It is style, as much as any other quality, that has carried American shoes all over the world. But, while this is true and gratifying to note, it is also true that the percentage of our output that is sold abroad is comparatively small. In Massachusetts in a recent year it was only 5 or 6 per cent. Here is an opportunity to push an American product of the highest quality. Of course, the European countries have no gold to pay us with and if we import commodities in exchange, we raise the whole question of foreign trade, which the war has bequeathed to us as an economic puzzle. Some of our statesmen want to protect the home market by higher tariffs. But without access to the American market, Europe, we are told, can hardly get on her feet again, and without rehabilitation of industry in Europe we may never receive the $10,000,000,000 owed to us by foreign governments. This is the circle in which our foreign trade is revolving and no one has yet pointed out a solution which will be satisfactory to all the interests affected.

If any one can suggest such a solution, it is the distinguished Secretary of Commerce, whom we are so fortunate as to have with us on this occasion. He is the guest of the City of Boston and of the National Shoe and Leather Exposition. I leave it to him to discuss this intricate subject, if he chooses to do so, as a part of the message he brings to Boston, and ask you all to share with him the welcome Boston extends to her visitors today. It is not often we entertain guests having so many interests in common with us as the shoe dealers or so celebrated and universally trusted and admired as Herbert Hoover. I assure you that Boston appreciates this double honor and double pleasure and will do her best to deserve them.

CIRCULAR FROM THE MAYOR.

BOSTON 9, June 24, 1921.

To the Heads of Departments:

GENTLEMEN,—On October 27 of last year I issued a circular letter (No. 60) in which I warned department heads against requesting transfers in appropriations, and pointing out that only in case of real emergency would I be willing to approve of such requests. In indicating the policy to be pursued in the preparation of the budget, I cautioned department heads to exercise the greatest care in the preparation of the amounts to be appropriated against the several items in their budget, so that it would not be necessary to request transfers during the fiscal year.

It now comes to my attention that a number of department heads are spending, or have spent to date, such an amount in numerous budget items that if the same average expenditure were continued throughout the year the amounts appropriated for these items would be greatly exceeded.

In the great majority of the instances which I have in mind there is not the slightest excuse for this high average expenditure. The only explanation seems to be a complete failure on the part of certain department heads to grasp the principle of the segregated budget. It was the duty of every department head when the budget was passed to ascertain the amounts allowed in each budget item, and to so arrange the expenditures under the several items that there would be no need of requesting transfers later in the year. I have repeatedly tried to impress this fact upon department heads, but, judging from the manner in which the money under some items has been expended, my warning has been of no avail. This responsibility, however, still rests with the department heads, and except in cases of extreme emergency there can be no justification for a department head requesting transfers.

I appreciate that there were some items reduced when I went over the budget, but this fact has nothing to do with the present situation. When items were reduced it simply meant that department heads must correspondingly reduce their monthly expenditures in order that they might be within the amounts allowed.

To recapitulate, over-expenditures mean one of three things,—either a disregard of my orders, or poor budget making on the part of department heads, or poor administrative ability,—and I dislike to admit any one of these three.

Very truly yours,

ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

A copy of circular letter No. 60 is herewith attached, and I again desire to call your attention to it, for failure to comply with its instructions constitutes a violation of the city charter.

Circular Letter No. 60.

Boston 9, October 27, 1920.

To the Heads of Departments:

GENTLEMEN,—The auditor has called my attention to a number of violations of the principle of the segregated budget. As a matter of fact, the instances that I have in mind are not only a violation of the budget system but are actually illegal acts and they must be stopped immediately.

In a number of instances recently, bills chargeable to a certain budget item have been received from several departments, the total of the bill chargeable to each specific budget item exceeding by a very large sum the amount of money available in that item. Instances such as these indicate either a total disregard of the principle of the segregated budget or a carelessness on the part of employees that cannot be tolerated.

I am now giving notice to department heads that if any bills are incurred in excess of the amount available under the item to which such bills are chargeable, a request for a transfer to take care of such bills will not be approved by me and department heads will be themselves responsible for the payment of the bills.

I appreciate, of course, that emergencies may arise calling for the necessity of expending a greater amount of money than is provided for in the various items in the budget, but the situation can be cared for if the department head, before incurring bills in excess of the appropriation item, will secure my permission for the incurring of such bills. Unless my permission is thus secured bills will not be paid.

I wish to point out that in the interest of strict adherence to the principles of the segregated budget this regulation cannot and will not be varied.

Very truly yours,

ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

PUBLIC EMPLOYMENT OFFICE JULY REPORT.

The month of June has not made the advancement the previous months of the year recorded. According to the records of the Public Employment office, 6 and 8 Kneeland street, June shows the daily average of orders from employers was 51, the same as May, but it shows a decrease of 58 per cent from June last year.

The number of people called for by employers shows a decrease of 5 per cent less than May and a decrease of 47 per cent less than June last year. The number of positions reported filled shows 2 per cent less than May and a decrease of 28 per cent from June last year.

The attendance of applicants for employment during June was a record breaker, the average being 3,160, taken one day each week, and is the highest in the history of the organization of which we have any record. This increase is no doubt due to the influx of boys and girls desirous of getting work for the summer, which began when the public schools closed for the summer vacation. While we only had few orders for boys prior to this time, they have fallen off altogether, owing, no doubt, to the boys scouring this district looking for positions.

During the month 2,733 service men (1,820 soldiers and 913 sailors) visited the office in search of work; of these 128 (92 soldiers and 36 sailors) were given introduction cards to employers and 58 (40 soldiers and 18 sailors) secured positions.

The principal demand in the men's skilled department has been for joiners, boilermakers, riveters and painters in the ship building and navy yards. There has been some demand from the printing trades which were quickly filled. The building trades have been very quiet. The few orders received were for jobbing and cleaning up work. There are hundreds of applicants for office and clerical work, with practically no demand for their services. The same is true of the hundreds of men applying for positions of chauffeurs, shippers and general factory work.

In the men's unskilled department the demand for competent bakers and cooks has been heavier than the supply. Applicants for culinary work have been plentiful with only a moderate demand from employers. There are hundreds of general workers visiting the office daily seeking work with no demand for their services. There has been little demand for farmers, but this is no doubt owing to the fact that the farmers, as a number of them state, have anywhere from three to five callers a day at their farms asking for work.

In the women's skilled department the summer hotel work has been the principal business. There has been a good demand for help with a fairly good supply. There are hundreds of school girls visiting the office daily in search of work in offices, stores and factories, but there has been little or no demand for their services.

Cooks for restaurants and hotels, both in and out of the city, has been the principal demand in the women's unskilled department with a very small supply on hand. The same can be said of laundresses in hotels, at beaches and summer resorts. The supply falls far short of the demand. There has been a fair demand for day workers and cleaners with a good supply of applicants on hand. Housework girls continue to be scarce with a heavy demand.

There were 1,270 orders calling for 1,534 persons. June, 1920, shows there were 2,035 calling for 2,579 persons.

The average daily demand for help was 61 as compared with 103 in 1920, 116 in 1919, 107 in 1918, 111 in 1917, 106 in 1916 and 63 in 1915.

The average daily number of positions reported filled was 46 as compared with 64 in 1920, 68 in 1919, 72 in 1918, 71 in 1917, 73 in 1916 and 54 in 1915.

Yours respectfully,

G. HARRY DUNDERDALE,
Superintendent,
U. S. Special Agent.

UNDERGROUND RAPID TRANSIT IN BOSTON.

The Boston Transit Commission, consisting of five members, two appointed by the Governor and three by the Mayor, began its official existence July 1, 1894, and ended it July 1, 1918, after seven extensions of the original term. It has constructed, under the authority of Acts of the Legislature, the following subways and tunnels, the ownership of which is vested in the City of Boston, and all costs to be covered by revenue from same, not by taxation: Tremont Street Subway, opened September 1, 1897, costing with subsequent alterations, \$4,416,000, the first municipal subway in the United States; East Boston Tunnel, under Boston Harbor and State street, opened December 30, 1904, costing \$3,336,000; Washington Street Tunnel, opened November 30, 1908, costing \$8,496,700 (including \$2,850,000 land damages); Cambridge Connection Subway, opened March 23, 1912, costing \$1,465,000; Boylston Street Subway, opened October 3, 1914, costing \$5,327,000; East Boston Tunnel Extension, opened March 18, 1916, approximate cost, \$2,450,000; Dorchester Tunnel, opened December 4, 1916, as far as South Station, on December 15, 1917, to Broadway, South Boston, and on June 29, 1918, to the Andrew Square terminal; amount borrowed to 1920 for the Dorchester tunnel, \$10,750,000. Total cost, approximately, for all subways and tunnels, \$36,000,000 (against which a sinking fund of about \$5,600,000 has been accumulated from the revenue), payable mostly in 49 years from date of each loan (loans since 1911 payable in 45 years), annual interest averaging 3.8 per cent. These underground ways (about 8.9 miles in all) were leased to the Boston Elevated Railway Company (which furnished the equipment) for term of 25 years (except Tremont street 20 years) at annual rental of $4\frac{1}{2}$ to $4\frac{3}{4}$ per cent of net cost (except East Boston Tunnel which was at $\frac{3}{4}$ of one per cent of all annual gross receipts of said company). In accordance with Chapter 741, Acts of 1911, the various leases were extended to July 1, 1936, the rental to be $4\frac{1}{2}$ per cent of net cost after expiration of the first-term leases.

By Chap. 185, Special Acts of 1918, the powers of the Transit Commission, whose term expired that year, were transferred to the Mayor, Commissioner of Public Works and City Treasurer, or such person or persons, not exceeding three, as the Mayor might appoint. By Chap. 3, Ordinances of 1918, the Transit Dept. was established as a regular City department, to be in charge of three commissioners.

CHILDREN'S ICE CREAM PROTEST PARADE.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—We, the children of the Roxbury and Dorchester districts, were unable to take part in the ice cream protest parade which was held in Boston on Thursday noon. However, we are united with those children that did march and we, too, want cheaper ice cream. Prices are too high for our mammas and papas to buy any, and we have to do without it. On Monday, July 18, we are going to have a parade in our districts. Frida White, fourteen years old, 534 Dudley street, started this parade, and we are going to stick with her.

OFFICIAL COMMUNICATIONS.

STATEMENT BY CITY COLLECTOR.

The district stations opened just after the Fourth of July to facilitate the payment of poll taxes will be closed July 30. Therefore persons who have not paid their poll taxes, and who wish to avoid the trip to City Hall, if payment is to be made in cash, should pay their taxes at the district stations before August 1.

A year ago stations were opened in every ward in the city to make it easier for persons to pay their poll taxes. Many who could not pay by check formerly had to come to City Hall and stand in line a long while to make their payments. By opening the district stations, the payment of taxes was greatly simplified, and the stations were therefore continued this year.

I feel, however, that a month is ample time for the stations to be kept open as in many instances the local station means that the deputy collector in that district has to work until late in the evening. I urge everyone to take advantage of the district stations before the 1st of August, because by so doing they will save themselves not only the expense of the trip to City Hall, but the possible expense of a demand and warrant.

VETO OF ORDINANCE.

To the City Council:

GENTLEMEN,—I am herewith returning without my signature the proposed ordinance passed by the City Council on July 11, 1921. Upon the receipt of this proposed ordinance I referred the matter to the Corporation Counsel for his advice. I herewith quote the following paragraph from his opinion:

"I am of the opinion that as the Legislature provided for the conditions to be expressed in the license, any ordinance passed by the City Council adding to those conditions would be of no force or effect. The second section of the proposed ordinance states that the ordinance shall be in addition to the conditions contained in section 123 of chapter 140 of the General Laws. The Legislature having dealt with this matter, the City Council cannot enlarge or abridge the section. I therefore am of the opinion that if passed the ordinance would not be legal."

I am vetoing this ordinance in view of the statement of the Corporation Counsel that it would not be legal.

Respectfully yours,

ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, July 15, 1921.

To the Mayor of Boston:

I respectfully request permission to designate Edward F. Murphy, division engineer of the Sewer and Sanitary Division, as Acting Commissioner of Public Works and Acting Commissioner for Boston of the Boston and Cambridge Bridges, for such time as I may be absent from the city during the four weeks beginning this date.

Yours respectfully,

T. F. SULLIVAN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

PERMISSION TO REMOVE BUILDING.

On July 15 the Mayor approved the following request of the Building Department:

BOSTON, July 14, 1921.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,
Mayor of Boston:

SIR,—In re premises, 62 and 64 Chadwick street, Ward 12, the department finds that said premises are unsafe, dilapidated and a fire menace. We find that the owner, Jennie K. Adams, is a resident of Los Angeles, California, but we are unable to find out the exact address and so serve notice upon her. We have notified Raymond M. Adams of 10 Tremont street, representing the owner, to remove the buildings, and we have also notified him of our intention to obtain your approval to take down the buildings that he may claim the materials as provided by law.

On our notice to him of May 9, 1921, he disclaimed ownership by Jennie K. Adams. We have been unable to get further information in regard to the ownership either through the assessors or the Registry of Deeds, and therefore, owing to the extreme danger, because women and children are entering the building and removing the supports for firewood, increasing the danger of a collapse, I ask your approval that I may take immediate action.

Yours very truly,

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Building Commissioner.

AUDITING DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, July 18, 1921.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,
Mayor of Boston:

SIR,—I hereby designate, with your approval, under authority of chapter 3, section 22 of the Revised Ordinances of 1914, William H. Hayward to act as auditor at such times as I may be absent during the four weeks beginning Wednesday, July 20, 1921.

Respectfully,

J. ALFRED MITCHELL,
City Auditor.

SIR,—At a meeting of the Board held this day, and in compliance with chapter 473 of the Acts of 1901, it was voted, subject to your approval, to take, for extension of the yard of the Dearborn

School, a certain piece or parcel of land in the Dearborn School District, bounded and described as follows:

Beginning at a point on Ambrose street 82.00 feet from the southwesterly corner of Dearborn and Ambrose streets, thence southeasterly by line of Ambrose street 94.00 feet to land of the City of Boston; thence turning and running southwesterly by land of said city 80.00 feet to land of said city; thence turning and running northwesterly again by land of city 95.00 feet to land of the Archbishop of Russian Orthodox Church in North America; thence turning and running northeasterly by land of said church and Bertha Ansel 87.00 feet to the point of beginning; and contains 8,519 square feet of land. Be all said measurements more or less.

We submit herewith the written opinion of the Superintendent of Schools thereon, and respectfully request your approval of an expenditure, not exceeding eminent domain, for carrying out the same.

Respectfully,

J. P. LOMASNEY, Chairman,
Schoolhouse Commissioners.

Approved July 20, 1921.

ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

Boston, June 29, 1921.

MR. FRANK V. THOMPSON,

DEAR SIR,—The Board of Schoolhouse Commissioners thinks it advisable to take, for extension of the yard of the Dearborn School, a certain piece or parcel of land in the Dearborn School District, bounded and described as follows:

The following letter was received by Mayor Peters:

PHILADELPHIA, PA., July 15, 1921.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,
 Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—In reference to this piece in the North American this morning, I wish to state that Jesse James is quite alive, for he is living in Philadelphia, Pa. Get me right now, not Jesse James the highwayman, but Jesse James the steam engineer.

Yours respectfully,

JESSE JAMES,
 (Kown the World Over.)

The clipping was as follows:

"JESSE JAMES IS DEAD," SODA STRIKE SLOGAN.

Hundreds of children paraded through the streets today demanding cheap ice cream and soft drinks. Among the banners they bore were several inscribed:

"Jesse James is Dead."

After the parade the children presented petitions to Governor Cox and Mayor Peters, urging them to take action.

UNDERGROUND RAPID TRANSIT IN BOSTON.

The Boston Transit Commission, consisting of five members, two appointed by the Governor and three by the Mayor, began its official existence July 1, 1894, and ended it July 1, 1918, after seven extensions of the original term. It has constructed, under the authority of Acts of the Legislature, the following subways and tunnels, the ownership of which is vested in the City of Boston, and all costs to be covered by revenue from same, not by taxation: Tremont Street Subway, opened September 1, 1897, costing with subsequent alterations, \$4,416,000, the first municipal subway in the United States; East Boston Tunnel, under Boston Harbor and State street, opened December 30, 1904, costing \$3,336,000; Washington Street Tunnel, opened November 30, 1908, costing \$8,496,700 (including \$2,850,000 land damages); Cambridge Connection Subway, opened March 23, 1912, costing \$1,465,000; Boylston Street Subway, opened October 3, 1914, costing \$5,327,000; East Boston Tunnel Extension, opened March 18, 1916, approximate cost, \$2,450,000; Dorchester Tunnel, opened December 4, 1916, as far as South Station, on December 15, 1917, to Broadway, South Boston, and on June 29, 1918, to the Andrew Square terminal; amount borrowed to 1920 for the Dorchester tunnel, \$10,750,000. Total cost, approximately, for all subways and tunnels, \$36,000,000 (against which a sinking fund of about \$5,600,000 has been accumulated from the revenue), payable mostly in 40 years from date of each loan (loans since 1911 payable in 45 years), annual interest averaging 3.8 per cent. These underground ways (about 8.9 miles in all) were leased to the Boston Elevated Railway Company (which furnished the equipment) for term of 25 years (except Tremont street 20 years) at annual rental of $4\frac{1}{2}$ to $4\frac{3}{4}$ per cent of net cost (except East Boston Tunnel which was at $\frac{3}{8}$ of one per cent of all annual gross receipts of said company). In accordance with Chapter 741, Acts of 1911, the various leases were extended to July 1, 1936, the rental to be $4\frac{1}{2}$ per cent of net cost after expiration of the first-term leases.

By Chap. 185, Special Acts of 1918, the powers of the Transit Commission, whose term expired that year, were transferred to the Mayor, Commissioner of Public Works and City Treasurer, or such person or persons, not exceeding three, as the Mayor might appoint. By Chap. 3, Ordinances of 1918, the Transit Dept. was established as a regular City department, to be in charge of three commissioners.

ABSENTEE VOTING AT STATE ELECTIONS BEGINNING IN 1920.

By chapter 289, General Acts of 1919, any registered voter absent from home at election time may vote by mailing an "official absent voting ballot" previously applied for and obtained from the Election Commissioners, to the latter so as to be received before the polls close. Said ballot must be marked by the voter privately but within the observation of an official authorized to administer oaths, and of no other person, in a municipality which is separated by at least two municipalities from that in which he is registered. The voter must make affidavit before said official, enclose ballot in official envelope and mail same on or before day of election.

To the City Council:

Laid over under the law.

MONEY FOR LEGAL SERVICES.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, July 5, 1921.
To the Honorable the City Council:

Gentlemen,—Some short while after the passage of chapter 159, Acts of 1918, "An Act to Provide for the Public Operation of the Boston Elevated Railway Company," which act when originally drafted as recommended by the Public Service Commission was changed without the City of Boston or any of its officials being notified, and which act I have always been opposed to in its present form, I was advised by the then Corporation Counsel, Alexander Whiteside, that the act was, as far as the City of Boston was concerned, unconstitutional, as it was in the nature of a taking of the subways without providing for compensation, as we held the subways in our proprietary capacity because of acts passed in 1902 and 1911, and said chapter 159, Acts of 1918, provided for the control of the subways by the Commonwealth through public trustees appointed by the Governor.

This act also provided for assessment upon the City of Boston without a provision for the acceptance of any act by the city.

Acting upon said advice, I instructed the Corporation Counsel to institute proceedings to test the constitutionality of the act. Action was brought in the name of the City of Boston v. Burrill, the then State Treasurer, and the Boston Elevated appeared in said action and filed a demurrer, which demurrer was overruled in the Supreme Judicial Court for the County of Suffolk by a single justice. The case was appealed to the Supreme Judicial Court for the Commonwealth, and the finding of the single justice, who had retired from membership in said court and was no longer a member thereof, was reversed.

I consider the question of our private and proprietary rights in the subways as well as the question of the right of the state to tax the inhabitants of the city for the upkeep, repair and improvement of private property of a corporation and the payment of dividends on stock by a general tax levy of such iniquitous character as legislation that may opposition should continue until the highest court of the land, the Supreme Court of the United States, determines its constitutionality. During the proceedings in this case the Hon. Nathan Matthews was employed to assist as special counsel in the Law Department and I feel that his services as special counsel should be continued so that regardless of any change in the personnel of the department, that he should act to the end, as he has from the beginning represented the city in the subway enterprises both at the Legislature and in court; as he was the chief supporter of the Acts of 1902 and Acts of 1911, wherein the Legislature provided that the City of Boston hold the subways in their private and proprietary capacity; as he argued the case of Brown v. Turner, involving the principles concerning these proprietary acts; and as he has been thoroughly conversant in this case from its inception; was engaged in the preparation and argument of the case in the Supreme Judicial Court for the county and was engaged in assisting the present Corporation Counsel in the argument of the case before the full bench; as he has thus far received no compensation for his services, except a nominal sum of $300, and as I consider the sum of $7,500, which he will charge for services already rendered and to be rendered until a final decision is rendered by the United States Supreme Court, a reasonable amount to be paid, I recommend the passage of the accompanying order.

Yours very truly,

ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

Ordered, That the sum of seventy-five hundred dollars be and the same is hereby appropriated for the payment of legal services rendered and to be rendered by the Hon. Nathan Matthews in connection with and expenses incident to the preparation, entry, argument or any re-argument of the writ of error or appeal taken or to be taken from the Supreme Judicial Court for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts to the United States Supreme Court in the case of the City of Boston v. Charles L. Burrill et al., involving the question of the constitutionality of chapter one hundred and fifty-nine of the Special Acts of 1918, an "Act to Provide for the Public Operation of the Boston Elevated Railway Company," said amount to be charged to the Reserve Fund.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

RENOVATION OF FRANCIS PARKMAN MONUMENT.

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, July 1, 1921.
To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I am herewith transmitting a copy of a communication just received from the Art Commission relative to an appropriation of $576 for the renovation of the Francis Parkman Monument. In accordance with the request of the Art Commission, I recommend the passage of the accompanying order.

Respectfully yours,

ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Art Commission, June 30, 1921.

Hon. Andrew J. Peters,
Mayor of Boston:

Sir,—A subcommittee of the Art Commission has examined the Francis Parkman monument and has found it badly stained and in need of repointing. The subcommittee further reported that parts of the foundation needed resetting, that forty-nine bronze letters were missing, and that considerable cleaning was necessary.

The commission has obtained from John Evans & Co. the inclosed estimate of $576 for doing the required work.

I am directed to inform you that this commission at its meeting this morning voted that this estimate be referred to his Honor the Mayor with the request that the sum of $576 be appropriated for the use of the Art Commission to put the Francis Parkman monument in good condition.

Yours respectfully,

J. T. COOLIDGE, Secretary.

Ordered, That under authority of chapter 261 of the Acts of 1893, the City Auditor be and hereby is authorized to transfer the sum of $576 from the Reserve Fund to the appropriation for Art Department, B-39, for the renovation of the Francis Parkman Monument.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

MAINTENANCE OF RIFLE RANGE.

Office of the Mayor,
Boston 9, July 5, 1921.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I am transmitting herewith a communication from the Superintendent of Public Buildings requesting an appropriation to cover the maintenance of a rifle range as provided by law, and I recommend the passage of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,

ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Public Buildings Department,
June 25, 1921.

Hon. Andrew J. Peters,
Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—Replying to the inclosed memorandum from your office, having reference to maintenance of the rifle range for the National Guard of the State of Massachusetts, I wish to say that I have just been informed by Colonel Brown, inspector of small arms practice, that the National Guard will indulge in work along this line just as extensively as heretofore, and the $5,000 appropriation will be absolutely necessary to carry on this work.

As in former years this rifle practice will be carried on at the Bay State Rifle Range, Wakefield, Mass.

Respectfully yours,

FRED J. KNEELAND,
Superintendent of Public Buildings.

Ordered, That under authority of chapter 261 of the Acts of 1893 the City Auditor be and hereby is authorized to transfer:
From the appropriation for Reserve Fund,

$5,000, to the appropriation for Public Buildings Department, F-6, Military, $5,000.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

MONEY FOR RELIEF OF VETERANS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, July 5, 1921.
To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—This year for relief work by the Soldiers' Relief Department there was appropriated the sum of $500,000, it being felt that this would be ample, in view of the fact that last year only $117,000 was spent of the $490,000 appropriated.

The demands upon the department, however, have been so great, because of widespread unemployment, that the department's funds are practically exhausted, and it becomes necessary to make available an additional sum of $375,000. The Soldiers' Relief Commissioner believes that this amount will carry him through until January 31, 1922. The city should do everything in its power to aid those veterans who are entitled to financial assistance, and I therefore recommend the immediate passage of the accompanying order. I hope that the City Council will pass the order at the meeting on July 11, for unless the money is immediately made available the financial relief given by the Soldiers' Relief Department will have to be cut off.

Respectfully yours,

ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Soldiers' Relief Department,
July 5, 1921.

Hon. Andrew J. Peters,
Mayor of Boston:

Sir,—I have the honor to request the appropriation of $375,000 for the use of this department under the heading in the budget "F, Special Items—8, State and Military Aid, Soldiers' Relief and Burial." This request is necessary because of the great increase of expenditures under this heading during the six months ending June 30.

At this time it is not possible to state with accuracy what demands will be made for relief during the balance of the year. Based on the present situation, however, there will be required approximately $435,000. In the hope that conditions of employment will make it possible to reduce the amounts paid for relief, the present request is for $375,000.

While the recipients of aid from the Soldiers' Relief Department on account of service in the Civil War and the War with Spain remain more or less constant in number, those receiving relief because of service in the World War have increased very largely in number as shown in the following table:

WORLD WAR CASES.		Total.
1921.
January 1		748
February 1		1,077
March 1		1,412
April 1		1,785
May 1		1,957
June 1		2,210
July 1		2,234

The amount appropriated in the budget, 1921-22, was $500,000 and upon this there were the following drafts in 1921 for relief to all classes:

February 1		$48,266.00
March 1		62,664.72
April 1		76,266.50
May 1		79,127.00
June 1		87,495.00
July 1		84,919.50
Total		$438,738.72

The increases indicated above, both in the number of applicants for relief and in the amount of money expended, are due to a great extent to the condition of business, which makes it practically impossible for a man to obtain a situation. In investigating along this line a conference was had with the director of the State Employment Bureau, situated on Kneeland street, Boston, and he stated that as many as 3,000 men and women report in a single day at this office seeking situations. He stated further that for every position which he was able to obtain where a man or woman was wanted there were fifty people looking for the situation. As long as this condition prevails it is very probable that there will be no decrease in the demands made upon the Soldiers' Relief Department.

Very respectfully,

HENRY C. McKENNA,
Soldiers' Relief Commissioner.

Ordered, That the sum of $375,000 be and the same hereby is appropriated for Soldiers' Relief Department, F, Special Items—8 State and Military Aid, Soldiers' Relief and Burials, that the same be raised by taxation upon the polls and estates taxable in the City of Boston, and that all orders heretofore passed by the City Council relating to appropriations, taxes and the interest thereon apply to the taxes herein provided for.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

BENCHES ON WILLIAM E. CARTER PLAYGROUND.

LEGALITY OF PARK PRIVILEGES.

Coun. DONOGHUE offered an order—That the Corporation Counsel be requested to inform the City Council as to whether or not it is legal for the Park Department to give away the privileges at Franklin Park and at the Headhouse at City Point.

Coun. DONOGHUE—Mr. President, I don't want to make any extended remarks in reference to this matter, because I think everybody here is conversant with it, but it has come to my attention that the refectory building has been given to the Women's Educational Industrial Union, the president of which is a resident of Arlington, Miss Marion Churchill. I feel if any of these privileges are to be given away they should be given, as I said a few weeks ago, to the disabled war veterans. If they are going to give away the two largest concessions that the Park Department has to give out, in this way, there isn't any reason to my mind why all the other concessions that the Park Department or any other department gives out should not be given away gratis to some one who does not live in Boston. Owing to present building conditions in Boston you have to go to the Building Department to get a permit to shingle your house, and they tax you a dollar for it—a dollar for this, half a dollar for that, picayune charges of that kind. We have such taxes placed upon residents of the City of Boston who are trying to improve their own property and to better existing conditions, and then on the other hand we find here a case where the Mayor of the City of Boston has allowed privileges such as these to people who come in from outside the city—privileges which have brought into the city $5,200 per year from the Headhouse in South Boston and $4,100 per year from the refectory building in Franklin Park, under five-year leases, making practically a total of $9,300 in just these two cases, given away to people who do not reside in the City of Boston. The Park Department last week sent to us a reason for this procedure. I was not here at the time and I did not have an opportunity to even see it until I read it in the City Record. But their answer, to my mind, was a very poor one. They said that in the past the privileges had not been conducted as they should have been conducted. The answer to that is that they should have supervised them so as to see that they were conducted in a proper way. As far as any claim they may make about the superiority in the quality of goods sold by certain people as compared with certain others is concerned, that does not amount to anything, because you and I know that there are only a few people who deal in ice cream, cakes, tonics, and the other refreshments that are handled in connection with these refreshment privileges. You must buy them all from some one of a few concerns, and there cannot be a great deal of difference in the quality of the food served in these various places. If, however, there has been any bad food sold, it is up to the Health Department to see that that sort of thing is not allowed; and if the Park Department has allowed such a condition to exist for any length of time, it has been negligent and derelict in the performance of its duty. But certainly up to this time we have not heard of any question of that kind being raised. We find now that they have not only given away this refectory privilege to the Women's Educational and Industrial Union, the president of which comes from Arlington, but they further want to give the other privilege, at the headhouse in South Boston, to the same organization. I do not understand what is behind all this sort of camouflage, but there certainly must be something back of it all. It does not seem reasonable to me that, after all these years that concessions have been advertised and granted to the highest bidder, at this late date they should give away to people who do not reside in the City of Boston privileges of this sort. I certainly hope that the Law Department will so construe the law that they will be unable to grant these privileges to the Women's Educational and Industrial Union.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

FILLING OF CARROLL POND.

Coun. DONOGHUE offered an order—That his Honor the Mayor be requested to send to the City Council a request for an appropriation of $10,000 to be expended for the filling in of Carroll Pond in Germantown.

Coun. DONOGHUE—Mr. President, I hope some action will be taken on this particular matter by the Mayor. We held a public hearing out in West Roxbury and found the people in the Germantown section up in arms over what they consider an eyesore and menace to the public health, something which exists in their midst, which has been condemned by the State Board of Health and has been condemned by Dr. Jordan of the Health Department. The taxes on the property have not been paid for years, and still the property has not been taken over by the City of Boston. They have been trying to locate the one who was supposed to be the owner of the property, and at one time they did locate him and put him into court. Since that time he has gone to parts unknown, and it is impossible to locate the owner of the property. In my opinion, Carroll's Pond, as the people of that district term it, is a nuisance that ought to be abated. It should be filled in. There ought not to be any more dilly-dallying about it and chasing around to the various departments by the residents of that district. I think the City of Boston is morally, if not legally, bound to see to it that the health of the people of that district is protected, that they are guarded against diphtheria germs, malaria, and all those diseases that have stricken themselves and their children, coming from that place. There is no doubt that the pond should be filled in and that an appropriation adequate to perform the work should be sent to the Council, and I hope that the order will pass.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

RAYMOND EARL BENNISON SQUARE.

Coun. WATSON offered an order—That the square named for Raymond Earl Bennison who lost his life during the World War while serving as surgeon on board the ship "Malta" be changed to Raymond Earl Bennison square.

Passed under a suspension of the rule.

Jennie Pearlstein, 17 Shawmut avenue, Ward 8.

Michael S. Rosenbaum, 59 Shawmut avenue, Ward 8.

Herman Rosenthal, 360 Washington street, Ward 25.

Joseph Sonabend, 2136 Washington street, Ward 13.

South End Loan Company, 73 Dover street, Ward 6.

J. Stone, 16 1/2 Broadway, Ward 5.

The question came on accepting the reports and granting leave.

Coun. MORIARTY—Mr. President, I am going to vote against all permits for the sale of firearms, and I want to clearly state my position in the matter at this time. I am going to say that for the first time since I have been a member of the Council courtesy has not been extended to an absent member, myself in this case, by delaying action upon a matter in which he was interested, during his absence, a matter that could perfectly well have awaited action until his return. During my absence this Council did pass some permits. The members who did so did not show the courtesy they should have shown to me as a member of this body. While some of them may have felt that they made a mistake in taking the action they did, they have even shown me the discourtesy of rubbing it in, saying, "Because we have granted some permits we now feel that we have got to grant permits to all others who apply here." That is the statement that is made, that is the reason that they give for voting to allow others to sell firearms in this city. It has got to a point, as one of the Boston papers said in an editorial two weeks ago, that you can buy firearms in Boston as easily as a child buys a penny stick of candy. And the members here cannot even rectify their mistake. When they have made a mistake, these big men who have been elected by the popular vote of the people, instead of trying to correct the mistake and protecting the people who elected them, are simply going to protect themselves, continuing the mistake that they made about one month ago. Mr. President, if they have voted to allow some pawnbrokers in this town to sell firearms, that is no reason why they should grant others permits to do so, particularly in times like the present. If there were no other arguments, we might consider what has been said by the Soldiers' Relief Commissioner today, in regard to the $375,000 for soldiers' relief, to the effect that the reason for the necessity of such a large expenditure is because of the unemployment situation. If the soldiers in this town are unemployed, if a big percentage of the citizens of Boston are unemployed, and if the thing is going to continue and progress from now until the winter months, and it is going to continue to be easy at any time for anybody to buy a gun, you are going to find in a short period ahead more disasters, more hold-ups, more robberies, more assaults by men carrying guns. The members of this body frequently complain because their powers are so slight, but they should certainly at least use the power they have in putting every possible barrier in the way of getting guns in this city. Everybody is in favor of the city ordinance that I have presented here today, but I cannot see how a man can consistently vote to stop the sale of firearms without a permit, on the one hand, and the next moment vote to grant twelve licenses to pawnbrokers in this city. Mr. President, it was said in executive committee that a revolver is a legitimate article. I saw a news item in the paper a short time ago where a man by the name of Thompson, I think the head of Thompson's restaurant, offered anybody $1,000 for any good reason why a gun should be carried by anybody. Thompson's thought was the manufacture and the handling of guns should be taken over and supervised by the United States Government. I say to you as men that you would not be afraid to meet anybody, in the day or night, if you knew that he did not have a gun. But your fear of anybody who stops you on the street or who enters your house in the night is that he is armed with a gun. If you knew that he was not armed with a gun you would take your chances with him as man to man. I say to you men, in the interest of the protection of the life and limb of the residents of this city, those who made it possible for you to be here, that you should defeat the applications for these ten or twelve licenses that you have granted here today.

Coun. FORD in the chair.

Coun. WATSON—Mr. President, I do not think the remarks of the councilor opposite should go without a reply from some one, and therefore I am desirous of going on record as at least attempting to refute some of the statements made by him, or to show that our original action—action participated in, I believe, by the councilor opposite—was what led to the wrong, if we are wrong at all. We voted to give a monopoly to three or four concerns dealing with firearms in Boston. We voted to do that without hesitation, because we were informed that such concerns as Iver Johnson Company, the William Read Company and a few others, were legitimate, tax-paying business men, reputable concerns. So we voted unhesitatingly in favor of granting them the right to lease, sell and rent firearms. We took that action quickly, I voting with the rest, and I believe the vote was unanimous. I am quite confident that the gentleman opposite (Coun. Moriarty) voted as I voted. Nevertheless, we voted to give a monopoly in a certain line of business to three or four concerns in Boston, and we took it for granted that all the pawnbrokers dealing in firearms were rather slack in their conduct of the business. We have since been informed that a man can more easily secure a revolver from the Iver Johnson or the Read Company than from a pawnbroker, for the reason that the police have a stricter supervision and make a more thorough examination of the pawnbrokers selling, renting and keeping firearms, than they do of the large reputable business houses I have named. But the fact remains that there is a greater opportunity to secure firearms from Iver Johnson, the Read and other concerns, than there is from a pawnbroker. In regard to the gentleman's statement that there is liable to be a large number of unemployed this winter and that our action is apt to lead to a great deal of trouble because of that fact, I think that argument falls of its own weight, because any man who wants to get a revolver to commit a crime, using it for purposes of burglary or highway assault, has only to go across the line into our neighboring city of Chelsea, or to the cities of Cambridge, Somerville or Newton, procuring a gun there and coming back and committing a felony if he so desires. Furthermore, while I don't know that it entered the gentleman's mind while he was speaking, I think when he comes to consider he will realize that his statement was somewhat of a reflection on the unemployed. I have more confidence in the level-headedness and good judgment of our law-abiding citizens, both employed and unemployed, than his remarks would lead us to believe that he has. I am satisfied, also, that if there is not strict enough supervision over the sale, renting and leasing of firearms in Boston, the fault is not with this body. I have voted for the ordinance that the gentleman has introduced, looking to the regulation of this matter. I think we all feel that there should be supervision and regulation so that there will not be reckless sale of firearms and the placing of them in the hands of reckless individuals. That is a dangerous proposition, and it ought to be regulated in some way, if it can be done legally. The monopoly situation I have dealt with. As I say, I think our original vote along that line was unanimous. I afterwards felt—and I am speaking for myself alone—that we had done an injustice to others by granting a monopoly to the three or four concerns to whom we gave the right to sell, lease or rent firearms, and I felt that we were not entitled to take away from others the opportunity to do some business, the same opportunity which we had given to the few. That side of the question was presented to us here very forcibly, and I think if the member himself had been present he would have agreed with me and with other members in the position we took, in view of the statements made. It is an unfortunate situation, of course, but I do not think the position of my colleagues and myself in voting as we did on the question of granting these permits ought to be criticised as strongly as the gentleman has been criticising it. I think if our action was wrong, it was an error of the heart rather than of the head, or of the head rather than of the heart, whichever way you want to put it. Therefore, I intend to vote to grant to these men doing business as pawnbrokers the right to sell, rent or lease firearms, under the restrictions and penalties existing, in order that they may have the same opportunity given to them that is afforded to William Read, Iver Johnson and other concerns, which can sell firearms to a child if they desire to do so.

Coun. MORIARTY—Mr. President, I am going to go back a little farther, so far as criticisms are concerned. Some time ago there was a motion made in the Executive Committee that a special committee be appointed to look into the subject of the regulation of firearms. At the next meeting an order along that line was submitted by the Executive Committee, and Coun. Hagan, the acting president of the Council, upon the passage of the order, appointed Coun. Ford, Lane and myself as said committee, and all of the pawnbrokers' licenses were laid on the table until the committee made an investigation. As one member of the committee I remember that we had a meeting one day after the Council meeting. I was seated directly between Coun. Ford and Lane, as they are seated here today. There was no further activity of that committee. Certainly I, as one member of the committee, have never been notified of another meeting since that day. Still, I was told today in the Executive Committee that the committee did make a report. Of course, if it was a mistake of the head or a mistake of the heart, as the councilor who just preceded me has said, that is his fault and not mine. I want to say, as a member of the Council, that at the first meeting after I returned from my trip I served notice in the Executive Committee, so far as courtesy was concerned, that never since I have been a member of the Council had I seen such tactics used while a member was away on important business. It certainly cannot be said hereafter that it was a mistake on my part. I am not going to hide behind anything. One of the councilors said inside that he realized the day that the licenses went through that they should be held up until I got back, that he did not care about putting them through. I certainly feel that, without a motion to reconsider the laying of the matter on the table until that committee made a report, no such action as was taken should have been taken, and I feel that all of the action of the Boston City Council since that time is illegal and that the licenses granted were granted illegally. The understanding was that the matter should lie on the table until that committee made an investigation. That was my impression, and I think it was the impression of everybody here. If it were not so, what was the committee appointed for? To kid me or to kid the public, or to kid whom? The committee has not done the work that it was appointed to do, and until the committee does do the work it was appointed for, I think the action of this Council, without a reconsideration, was illegal; and there was no vote reconsidering the action that was taken at that time, laying the matter on the table until the committee had reported. The councilor says that he has more confidence in the unemployed than I have, as indicated by my remarks. That may be so, but I will say to you this, that history will only repeat itself, and during times of unemployment in the past there have been more robberies, more holdups, than in times of good business. When you have these men who have families, and they see their youngsters starving, what else is there left for them to do but to go out and get some of the world's goods to save them? I feel, as far as employment is concerned, that we are going to have the worst winter that Boston has seen in a good many years. I may be wrong in my judgment, but that is my feeling in the matter. The gentleman says that even if we did prevent this sort of thing in Boston they could go over to Chelsea, to Cambridge or to Brookline. They do not have any pawnshops out in Brookline. When anybody living in Brookline wants to dispose of anything in a pawnbroker's shop he comes to Brookline's dumping ground, Boston, Chelsea? Yes, they could go over to Chelsea. They could go to any other city in the state. But that is not our hunt. We are not legislating to protect the citizens of Chelsea, the citizens of Cambridge or the citizens of any other city in this Commonwealth. We were elected by the citizens of Boston, and if we do our duty it may be possible that Chelsea, Cambridge and the other cities alongside of us may take similar action. Let Cambridge take care of herself and let Chelsea do likewise; but I am here as a representative of Boston and I am going to use every honorable means to make it impossible, if within my power, to buy firearms in Boston. As far as the trust or monopoly is concerned, while I don't think my brother did it intentionally, I think he gave a wrong impression by his remark in regard to that. I think there were seven or eight concerns to whom licenses were granted, who sold new revolvers. Monopoly? I never thought of a monopoly. I thought of a minimum, and I tried to protect myself by not giving the maximum. Then he says that it is harder to buy a revolver in a pawnshop than it is in Iver Johnson's, to use the same name that he used. We will give them some advertising, anyway! All that is required, in buying a revolver in this city, is to go into a place and purchase it, either in a second-hand store or in one of the stores that sell new revolvers exclusively. You pay over the money and write your name and address in a book, and that book is left open for the inspection of the people who grant the license. It certainly proves to me, if it does not prove it to the councilor who just took his seat, that there must be some justification for saying that the pawnbrokers are not legitimate when the police observe the supervision they do over them, watching them more closely than they do the stores selling exclusively new revolvers. If the police do not do their duty in supervising Iver Johnson and the other concerns to whom we have granted permits, that is the fault of the police, and not of ourselves. Let us stand on our own feet. If the police are not doing their duty—and I don't want to say anything about the police or inject my feelings in regard to them into this matter—that is up to the police. For some unknown reason, the police, body and soul, have been taken from the hands of this Council. I simply say to you men that if we can, by rejecting these permits, prevent one man from carrying a revolver, we will be doing justice to the citizens of our city; and I believe, as a preventative measure, we should reject, for the protection of the citizens of Boston, each one of these petitions.

Coun. WATSON in the chair.

Coun. FORD. Mr. President, I simply want to say one word about the committee that has been referred to, I being its chairman. Coun. Collins, when he said in the meeting of the Executive Committee that we made a report, was in error. We made no report, Coun. Lane and myself, to the Executive Committee. What we did was this. We told them about the different letters that were coming in and the different applications that were being made. We told the Executive Committee about the absence of our good friend (Coun. Moriarty) in the West and then left it to the Executive Committee, without any report at all, to decide whether or not they would take action. The Executive Committee voted, although some of us did urge that the matter be delayed until the councilor got back, to take action. It does not matter what individuals voted or did not vote for that, the Executive Committee voted to take the applications from the table and vote upon them. When the Executive Committee took that action they were fully informed in regard to the absence of the other member of the committee. They knew about his absence in the West and they did consider the question whether or not they should delay action until the councilor got back. But they voted that they would not delay action on the matter, and they took action, as they had a right to do. They were entirely within their rights and were acting properly in taking action on the applications, because the applications were properly before the Executive Committee.

Coun. COLLINS—Mr. President, if Coun. Moriarty refers to me as the gentleman who made that statement to the Executive Committee, he is misinformed, because I simply stated that the committee made a report to the Executive Committee without recommendation. That is, the committee, consisting of Coun. Ford and Lane, made no recommendation that there should be speedy action or otherwise, but the Executive Committee afterwards did act upon the matter. As one member of the Executive Committee, at the meeting we had on that day, I did suggest that perhaps it would be well not to take action in your (Coun. Moriarty) absence. But there was a strong impression made upon the members of the committee at that hearing, and there was an impression among members of the Council that if you were there and had listened to the evidence, Coun. Moriarty, you would have been of the same opinion. Today we have had here an ordinance offered by Coun. Moriarty in good faith, with a view to trying to restrict the sale of firearms. The great difficulty with the proposition is that we are regulated by statute. The City of Boston is a part of the Commonwealth, and as a municipal corporation is regulated by the statute laws of the Commonwealth. The statutes of the Commonwealth provide the conditions under which firearms may be sold, and my primary purpose in opposing the ordinance was due to the fact that I did not think we had the authority to limit the sale of firearms as defined in the ordinance offered by Coun. Moriarty. For that reason I wanted the opinion of the Law Department. The Council in Executive Committee voted not to ask the opinion of the Law Department, voting down the motion that it be obtained. So the question came on the main question, the passage of the ordinance offered by Coun. Moriarty restricting the sale of firearms. The whole question is one that needs investigation, but in order to have it effective it should come by virtue of legislative enactment. As has been pointed out here, the neighboring cities could go ahead and make such rules and regulations as they saw fit, thereby destroying the effect of any regulation made by the City of Boston, even if we had the authority to act as set forth in that ordinance. But I do not think we have the right to do so. Looking at the matter, however, from a broader standpoint, and trying to accomplish some results, it struck me, following the hearing we had, that the action of this Council was arbitrary and very unjust, denying to a large class of the citizens of Boston the right to sell firearms, while that right was given to others, and was given to them by unanimous vote of the Council. In a nutshell it comes down to this: Are we going to give such a right to a few persons and deny it to others of equally good repute? I don't think we should do so. As I understand the law, at this time all we can do is either grant or deny those permits, and until I have more light or information as to our rights in the matter I do not intend to act arbitrarily or unjustly. For that reason I take the position I do, being impelled, as I feel that other members of the Council have been impelled, by a sense of fair play and justice.

Coun. MORIARTY—To be brief, Mr. President, all I have to say is this. Two weeks ago today ten licenses that are being voted on today were laid on the table, without a protest from any member of the Council, and you were all present here two weeks ago today. But two new licenses came in today, and if the two new ones had not come in today we would not be voting on twelve. I don't believe it was the intention of any member to show fair play, as they call it, to those that were laid on the table at the last meeting. If they want to show fair play today, why didn't they show fair play two weeks ago, when they voted to place the applications on the table? Of course, there is always a way to get out of things. I wish I knew some way to revoke the licenses not only of the pawnbrokers but of Iver Johnson and every other firm in Boston that is selling firearms, and I want to say to you that I may be around one week from today or two weeks from today asking that some of them be revoked. What happens? We give them the right to sell firearms, and 75 per cent of the people to whom they sell firearms within five minutes after they make the purchase break the law, because 75 per cent of the men who buy firearms immediately put them in their pockets, thereby violating the law of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, as no person has a right to carry a firearm without a permit. My contention is that 75 per cent of the men and women who buy guns do so before they have permits to carry them. We are allowing today twelve more men to help the citizens of our Commonwealth to violate the law, not the law in regard to using guns, but the law in regard to carrying them. I will say to you this, that I would not care who I met in the dark or in the bright of the day, if there was a restriction on guns. I would not care how big he was, I would get a bite while he might be getting a meal. I believe that this Council ought to prevent the sort of thing that is going on. If we made a mistake in granting the others, that is no reason why we should grant these, making a second mistake. They say, use all people equally. There is not a law that is passed that puts all citizens on an equal footing. We have a Licensing Board up here. They grant licenses to whomsoever they see fit. They talk about our civil service, but there is no equality under it. The Legislature gave preference to the soldiers, but there is no equality about that. There is no such thing as equality in these matters. If there is ever to be equality, we may see it in the hereafter, but certainly none of us have ever seen it here. I will simply say in conclusion, Mr. President, that we ought to vote not to grant these applications.

President WATSON—The question is on the acceptance of the reports and the granting of the licenses.

Coun. MORIARTY—Mr. President, I ask for a roll call.

Coun. DONOGHUE—Mr. President, I want to say that I was not here two weeks ago when these other ten applications that have created all this controversy here today came before the Council. Therefore, I was not then in a position to move that the same privilege be given to these citizens of Boston that we had previously granted to other residents of this city of ours. I feel that there may be some justification for the statement made by the councilor on my left (Coun. Moriarty) that there is not any real reason why anybody should be allowed to purchase or carry firearms; but, on the other hand, we must admit that the Council, practically in its entirety, voted to grant certain firms in this city of ours the right to sell firearms. I personally do not believe in granting a monopoly to any group of citizens. I believe in equal rights for all and special privileges for none. I am, however, reminded of the old adage, that if you build a better mouse trap than anybody else a beaten path will be made at your door, even though you are located in the wilderness. If a person is desirous of securing firearms, he can do so in this city from half a dozen supposedly reputable firms, and he can do so no more easily if we were to grant all these people a license to sell firearms, or to buy and dispose of them under the regulations of the Police Department. I feel that I have made no mistake, and I do not feel guilty of having made a mistake. I have voted as my conscience has dictated in the matter, and I feel that I should not be subjected to criticism for viewing the matter as I do, conscientiously. I am entitled to my opinion on this subject, the same as any other member of the Council, and to be so severely castigated because of my vote does not rest very well in my system. I feel that we should treat the little fellow, who has no friend particularly interested in him, in the same manner that we treat the so-called big fellow. I will say that if it is shown to me in a sufficiently clear manner that it is unnecessary to have firearms sold to any one, I will be prepared to vote, if necessary, to stop everybody in the City of Boston from selling firearms, but treating everybody alike. On the other hand, if it is necessary to sell firearms, I do not feel that we should, as the Boston City Council, vote to grant to certain favored concerns a monopoly of the sale in this city of ours. I am prepared to stand by my vote.

9. Report on message of Mayor, communication and order (referred today) appropriating $7,500 for legal services rendered or to be rendered by Hon. Nathan Matthews for the City of Boston—that the order ought to pass.

The report was accepted, and the question came on the passage of the order.

Coun. MORIARTY—Mr. President, I want to say that I am going to vote against this order, and my reason for doing so is this, that we have a Law Department with five attorneys, more or less, to the best of my knowledge. I am not prepared to say just what the individual salaries are, but I think we are paying $9,000 to the Corporation Counsel, $7,500 to his assistant, $5,000 to another assistant, and so on. I think we are paying out approximately $50,000 a year for salaries in the department and that the department is costing us perhaps $100,000 or $150,000 a year. And still they go outside to hire special attorneys, paying them large sums. The Mayor comes in here with an order, which is now before us, to pay $7,500 for this special purpose, in this case, for this one man, and before we are through God only knows what his bill will be. I simply say this in protest, believing that if the Law Department is incapable of taking care of the city's affairs the Mayor should ask for their resignation and put in men who are capable of doing the business of the city. That is why I rise, knowing that I am going to be in the minority, that the order is going through, but simply to enter my protest. I want to say again that this is not the only case of the kind. A short time ago in the Executive Committee the Corporation Counsel told the Council that his law partner—lest I make any mistake I will not mention the gentleman's name—was to be hired to represent the City of Boston in the electric light hearings before the Public Utilities Department. It seems that they are starting in to hand out the plums, and if they are going to hand them out at the rate of $7,500 we will soon find that we have no reserve fund, but will be away beyond our appropriating and borrowing capacity, and if we want anything that we really need we will not have the money nor the credit to go out and borrow it.

President WATSON—I want to state that I am somewhat in sympathy with Coun. Moriarty's position in regard to hiring outside counsel; but, as I understand it, the work has already been performed, and there is some important work that may yet remain to be done. If there is a chance in a million of getting any court to say that the Elevated Trustee Act is unconstitutional, I would be willing to vote for any reasonable amount that would result in such a decision possibly being made.

Coun. COLLINS—Mr. President, the Corporation Counsel's office in special cases, and very rarely, hires outside counsel. In this particular case the work represented by the money involved was done by ex-Mayor Matthews. The work has largely been done, as I understand it. He was the senior counsel in arguing the very big question of the constitutionality of the Elevated Act of 1918, before the Supreme Court of Massachusetts. The Supreme Court decided that that act was constitutional, and the question now comes on the case being taken to the highest court of the land, to be tried out on the constitutional question. Mr. Matthews is, of all men in our city, the ideal man to select to argue such a question, by reason of his profound legal knowledge, his ability and his experience in street railway matters, dating back to the time when he was Mayor of Boston, and as such was the first Mayor to favor the old subway running under the Common. Since that time he has kept in very close touch with street railway matters, and I think the selection of Mr. Matthews by the Mayor and the Corporation Counsel showed the height of wisdom. As I say, also, he has done practically all of the work that will be required of him unless he argues before the United States courts. There is no question but what he could recover for services performed, if he sued, and I venture to say that the sum charged would be considered very moderate by many lawyers for the work already accomplished. Now, this order requires six votes for passage. One of our members has already left, and I don't know how he would vote if he were here. In view of the fact that it requires six votes, however, I am going to ask that action upon the matter be deferred until the next meeting of the City Council. I move, Mr. President, that the matter lie on the table.

The question came on the motion to lay on the table.

Coun. MORIARTY—Mr. President, I want to say that I am not opposed to the carrying on of the fight to see if it is possible to have the Supreme Court decide that the act referred to is unconstitutional. Don't let anybody infer that that is my position. My attitude is strictly this, that if the men who are now members of the Corporation Counsel's force are not capable of carrying on the city's business, they should resign. That is my contention. If every time when a case of this sort gets into court we have got to pay what some consider a nominal fee of $7,500 to some outside man, I wish to say simply that while that may be nominal in some people's minds it is not nominal in my mind. I, as well as other members of the Council, have had occasion to be brought in contact with the methods of the Law Department, and we know what they did in connection with the gas question, for instance. They went out and hired some public accountants and spent $20,000, and the paper that the report of those accountants was typewritten on was worth more than the report for which the city had paid approximately $20,000. There is your Law Department. Now, here they go out and buy up Nathan Matthews, and the Corporation Counsel also comes in and tells us that he has hired a man from his law office to do another job. Why, we would get the inference that all the jobs they do are special jobs. I think that the Law Department is spending enough money of the city to take care of all the city's business in court without going out and hiring any special attorneys for anything. That is my reason for protesting. I realize that the bill is going to be paid.

Coun. Collins' motion to lay the matter on the table was carried.

FINANCE.

Coun. DONOGHUE, for the Committee on Finance, submitted a report on message of Mayor, communication and order (referred June 6) for loan of $125,000 for widening and construction of North Beacon street—that the order ought to pass.

The report was accepted, the order was given its first reading and passed, yeas 6, nays 0.

The order will be given its final reading not less than fourteen days from date.

RAFT AT ORIENT HEIGHTS BEACH.

Coun. LANE offered an order—That the Park Commissioners, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to furnish a raft for the Orient Heights bathing beach.

Passed under a suspension of the rule.

COUNTY ACCOUNTS.

Coun. FORD, for the Committee on County Accounts, submitted a report on communication from Chief Justice Bolster of the Municipal Court of the City of Boston (referred June 6) giving notice of appointment of Thomas G. Davis as probation officer at an annual salary of $2,600—that the same be placed on file.

The report was accepted and the communication was placed on file.

Later in the session it was voted, on motion of Coun. MORIARTY, to take the matter from the files, and lay the same on the table.

In connection with the above Coun. MORIARTY offered an order—That the compensation of Thomas G. Davis, probation officer of the Municipal Court, determined by the justices of said court at $2,600 per annum, be and the same hereby is disapproved.

Coun. MORIARTY—Mr. President, I want to say my reason for introducing the order is this, that the citizens of Suffolk County are paying the bills of Suffolk County and I feel that it is about time that the judges of the Municipal and Superior Courts, appointed to serve in Suffolk County, should give preference to people who live in Suffolk County when they are making appointments to positions in the court. This man is not even a resident of our county, but lives in Newton, and a number of other probation officers who are pulling down from $1,800 to $2,600 are nonresidents. That is my reason for introducing this order. I don't know this man, Mr. Davis, by sight or in any other way, and I do not desire to injure anybody, but I believe it is about time that we made it possible for residents of our district to receive positions. It would be impossible for any resident of Suffolk County to go into any other county in Massachusetts and receive an appointment, and I believe the same position should be taken with reference to residents of Suffolk County, as far as positions in the Suffolk County courts are concerned.

Coun. COLLINS—Mr. President, in voting against this order I do not want to be misunderstood. The opinion of all the members of this Council, including my own, is that, all things being equal, positions in this county should go to residents of the county. Service, however, is paramount to everything else. I submit, on the question of probation officers for Suffolk County, that we can get plenty of good men here in Boston. But that is not the question before us, as set forth in this order. The statute under which we are acting—I read it several times some years ago, when I served as chairman of the Committee of County Accounts—provides that the judges of the Municipal Court may appoint such probation officers as they deem wise, and that the salaries shall be or shall not be approved by the members of this body, acting as county commissioners. From listening to the remarks of the gentleman who has just spoken one might be led to the conclusion that we had a right to confirm the appointees. Our duty here is not to confirm, at all; we have no right under the law to confirm. The only question for us to decide is, whether or not another position should be occupied, that of probation officer in the Municipal Court. One of the former incumbents of that office has been promoted to the Superior Court, Mr. McManus. That has left a vacancy. The question for us to decide at this time is simply whether or not the salary for the person appointed to fill that position should be approved by us. Consequently, feeling that the salary should be approved, I shall vote against the order as offered by Coun. Moriarty.

Coun. MORIARTY—Mr. President, I am going to move to suspend the rule so that the order may be placed upon its passage. Again they say, "Give equal opportunity," and this is one place where there isn't a chance for equal opportunity. Not one resident of Suffolk County was considered, but they have taken a man from Newton, with a $1,200 or $1,600 job, and put him into a $2,600 job, in spite of the fact that there are a number of citizens of Suffolk County who are capable of filling that position, but who are not given an equal opportunity to do so. That is my contention. We have got no right to confirm, I agree. But it has always been said here, "What is the use? They will get it anyway." This is the first time that an order of this kind has been put in. The only way they can get it, if this body goes through, is for somebody else to put in an order to allow him that money. If it was not so easy for some of those fellows up on the hill, the so-called judges, to do these things, if we did not give them everything they wanted, things might be different. If we are going to try to have equal opportunity, let us extend it to the courthouse. I hope that the order will pass, and that they will not be allowed to place this man into this position. If Mr. McManus, who is a resident of Suffolk County, has risen to a higher position, the job he did occupy is still entitled to have a Suffolk County man filling it. When the chief justice sends down a Suffolk County man, no matter who he may be, I will vote to restore the salary to the maximum, which I believe is $2,600.

Coun. COLLINS—Mr. President, just one word more. There is another way in which that man may perhaps get his salary for services rendered, and that is by bringing suit in court. If that man should sue, he could recover, in my opinion, for services rendered.

Coun. MORIARTY—Mr. President, in answer to that I will simply say that, if that is so, it would seem useless to give us the right to appropriate. If the courts are going to decide that the judges have the right to make the salaries for probation officers, the voters of Boston ought to vote to wipe this body out of existence, because that is all the power we have got. If the courts are going to take away that power and give it to the judges, we might just as well go out of business, and, instead of having members of this body elected by the voters at large, turn the whole thing over to the judges of the Municipal and Superior Courts, letting them make the wages for the men who work for Suffolk County and for the city as well.

The rule was declared not suspended. Coun. MORIARTY doubted the vote and asked for the yeas and nays.

The Council voted not to suspend the rule (a two thirds vote being necessary for suspension), yeas 3, nays 3.

Yeas—Coun. Donoghue, Moriarty, Watson—3.

Nays—Coun. Collins, Ford, Lane—3.

Coun. MORIARTY—Mr. President, I want to say that I will reintroduce the order at the next meeting of the Council, and continue to do so until—

President WATSON—The Chair would say that the matter will be referred to the Committee on County Accounts.

Coun. MORIARTY—Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege. I am going to introduce the order at the next meeting, and at every meeting hereafter, until passed.

PROTEST AGAINST ICE CREAM PROFITEERS.

Coun. MORIARTY offered the following:

Resolved, That the Boston City Council place itself on record as in entire sympathy and accord with the present campaign being waged against the ice cream soda and cone profiteers, and that it is the desire of this body that the Licensing Board of the City of Boston co-operate to the fullest extent of its power with that drive to curb the unbridled profiteering that is prevalent.

Coun. WATSON—That is a cool proposition. Coun. MORIARTY—I will say that it is not much colder than the Chair. I move a suspension of the rule so that the resolution may go upon its passage.

The rule was suspended and the resolution was passed.

INQUIRY AS TO COMMITTEE ON COUNTY ACCOUNTS.

Coun. DONOGHUE—Mr. President, I rise to inquire who are the members of the Committee on County Accounts?

President WATSON—The Chair will have to refer to the City Clerk for that. The Committee on County Accounts has the following members: Coun. Ford, Brickley, McLaughlin, Watson and Hagan.

Coun. MORIARTY—Mr. President, I am going to move that the Committee on County Accounts be requested to bring in a report on the matter just referred to them, at the next meeting.

President WATSON—Is the motion seconded?

Coun. DONOGHUE—Mr. President, I second the motion. The motion was carried.

GENERAL RECONSIDERATION.

Coun. FORD moved a general reconsideration on all business transacted at the meeting, hoping that the same would not prevail. The motion was declared lost.

Coun. DONOGHUE doubted the vote and asked for the yeas and nays. The yeas and nays were ordered and the motion to reconsider was lost, yeas 3, nays 3, the vote being:

Yeas—Coun. Donoghue, Moriarty, Watson—3.

Nays—Coun. Collins, Ford, Lane—3.

Adjourned at five o'clock p. m., on motion of Coun. FORD, to meet on Monday, July 25, at two o'clock p. m.

HEALTH DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, July 25, 1921.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—Subject to your approval, I hereby designate Dr. Philip Castleman, deputy commissioner in charge of the Laboratory Division, to perform the duties required of the Health Commissioner during my absence from the city on official business, inspecting dairies, such absence to be from July 26 to 30, inclusive, 1921, under authority of section 22, chapter 3, Revised Ordinances.

I respectfully request that this designation be approved by you.

Respectfully,

WM. C. WOODWARD,
Health Commissioner.

PRICES OF TICKETS TO BALL GAMES.

HARRY H. FRAZEE, President Boston American League Baseball Club, Fenway Park, Boston:

DEAR MR. FRAZEE,—It has been called to my attention by Councillor Watson that the Boston American League Baseball Club is charging prices of 85 cents and $1.10 respectively for admission to the bleachers and grandstand at Fenway Park.

I am informed that these prices are in excess of the prices charged at Braves' Field and by major league clubs generally throughout the country. It is unnecessary for me to point out that there is great popular interest in the game in Boston, and that Boston has always been strong in its support of its teams. The excess prices charged by your club tend to drive patronage away from Fenway Park and further tend to deprive many of our citizens of one of their sources of amusement.

I am therefore asking you if it is not possible for you to consider this situation with a view to reducing your charges. It seems to me that for your own interest as well as for that of the general public such a reduction should be made.

Very truly yours,

ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

LAND-TAKING, ROGER WOLCOTT SCHOOL DISTRICT.

BOSTON 9, July 22, 1921.

To the Honorable Mayor of Boston:

SIR,—At a meeting of the Board held this day, and in compliance with chapter 473 of the Acts of 1901, it was voted, subject to your approval, to take, for the purpose of erecting thereon an elementary school, a certain piece or parcel of land in the Roger Wolcott School District, bounded and described as follows:

Beginning at a point on the westerly line of Blue Hill avenue 35 feet southwesterly from the intersection of the lines of Blue Hill avenue and Harvard street, thence southwesterly by said line of Blue Hill avenue 260 feet to land of Dominico De Stefano; thence turning and running northwesterly by land of said De Stefano and Horne 218 feet to the line of Harvard street; thence turning and running by line of Harvard street (a broken line) 350 feet to a tangent point; thence running by a curved line 30 feet to the point of beginning; and contains 42,440 square feet of land. Be all said measurements more or less.

We submit herewith the written opinion of the Superintendent of Schools thereon, and respectfully request your approval of an expenditure, not exceeding—eminent domain—for carrying out the same.

Respectfully,

J. P. LOMASNEY,
Chairman Schoolhouse Commissioners.

FIRE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 49.

APPARATUS RESPONDING TO FIRES.

In responding to an alarm of fire a slight accident happened to Engine 28, and as a result Engine 42 was damaged. This damage would not have occurred if the two engines had not been too close together.

Engines, either going to or returning from fires, must keep a sufficient distance apart to prevent one engine from running into another.

WHITE COLLARS.

The following recommendation of the Committee on Uniforms has been approved by the Fire Commissioner and is published for the information and guidance of the departments:

"The Committee on Uniforms begs to submit the following recommendations relative to white collars to be worn by officers and members detailed to parades, etc.

"Officers: White turn down collar, same as at present, to be worn with dress coat. When overcoats are worn, a white straight standing collar will be worn to show three eighths of an inch above the coat collar.

"Privates: White straight standing collar to show three eighths of an inch above collar of blouse or overcoat."

TELEPHONES.

The attention of the officers of the department is directed to section 10, paragraph II, General Order No. 23, Series 1913, and Rule No. 497 of the Department Rules and Regulations. Any officer who has neglected to comply with the above mentioned rules will furnish the information called for forthwith.

HOOD COVERS.

Hood covers will hereafter be carried all the year round on high pressure motor hose cars. The hood cover will be placed over the engine when the deck guns are in use as a protection for the motor.

QUARTERLY REQUISITIONS.

Form No. 2A, Quarterly Requisition for Supplies, is hereby issued to the department in book form.

This is a new form and differs from Form 2 only in that the names of the articles required are in printed form, and hereafter do not have to be written in.

Company commanders will immediately prepare quarterly requisitions with great care and forward same to headquarters as soon as possible. Any repetition or second request for articles enumerated on said Form 2A within any quarterly period will not be considered until a satisfactory explanation is given for the request.

FORM 2 FOR REQUISITIONS.

Hereafter Form 2 will be used for the purpose of making requests monthly for hay, grain, straw, coal, wood, oil, etc.

By order of the Fire Commissioner.

PETER E. WALSH,
Chief of Department.

VETO—FIREARM PERMITS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, July 20, 1921.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I am herewith returning without my signature the proposed ordinance passed by the City Council on July 11, 1921. Upon the receipt of this proposed ordinance I referred the matter to the Corporation Counsel for his advice. I herewith quote the following paragraph from his opinion:

"I am of the opinion that as the Legislature provided for the conditions to be expressed in the license, any ordinance passed by the City Council adding to these conditions would be of no force or effect. The second section of the proposed ordinance states that the ordinance shall be in addition to the conditions contained in section 123 of chapter 140 of the General Laws. The Legislature having dealt with this matter, the City Council cannot enlarge or abridge the section. I therefore am of the opinion that, if passed, the ordinance would not be legal."

I am vetoing this ordinance in view of the statement of the Corporation Counsel that it would not be legal.

Respectfully,

ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

Placed on file.

ICE FOR DRINKING FOUNTAINS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, July 25, 1921.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I believe it is desirable that the city ice such fountains as are adapted to this form of cooling, during the summer months. There is no appropriation available for this purpose at the present time, and I am therefore attaching an order appropriating the sum of $5,000 to be spent for ice for fountains and I recommend its passage.

Respectfully,

ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be authorized to expend a sum not exceeding $5,000 for the purpose of furnishing ice for the public drinking fountains during the present season, said sum to be charged to the Reserve Fund.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

LOAN FOR HIGH PRESSURE SYSTEM.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, July 25, 1921.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I am herewith transmitting a communication just received from the Commissioner of Public Works requesting the provision of the sum of $120,000 for the completion of the high pressure pumping stations.

It is necessary that this sum be made available in the shortest possible time, and I therefore recommend the immediate passage of the accompanying order.

Very truly yours,

ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

Public Works Department,

Boston 9, July 25, 1921.

To the Honorable the Mayor:

I respectfully recommend that a loan appropriation of $120,000 be made for the High Pressure Fire Service, in order to complete the work in the Atlantic avenue and Commercial street stations. This amount is necessary on account of the increased cost, over our estimate, for the pumping equipment and for the construction at the stations.

Unless something unforeseen occurs we expect to have these stations in operation on September 15.

Yours respectfully,

T. F. SULLIVAN,

Commissioner of Public Works.

Ordered, That the sum of $120,000 be appropriated, to be expended under the direction of the Commissioner of Public Works, for the completion of the pumping stations for high pressure system, and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, on the request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the City of Boston to said amount.

Referred to the Committee on Finance.

CONSTRUCTION OF WASHINGTON STREET, WEST ROXBURY.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, July 25, 1921.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—Washington street, West Roxbury, has now been repaved from Forest Hills to Corinth street, just beyond Roslindale square. This is one of the most important traffic thoroughfares leading from the City of Boston and is the most important one to the south.

The condition of Washington street from Corinth street to the beginning of the Washington Street boulevard is deplorable and it is my desire to have this thoroughfare widened to a width of 60 feet, the width of the street from Forest Hills to Roslindale square, and constructed with a durable pavement.

For this purpose I am submitting an order for the appropriation of the sum of $100,000. I recommend the passage of this order at the earliest possible moment so that the Commissioner of Public Works may begin work without delay, for it is my hope that a large part of the street will be widened and constructed before the close of fall.

Respectfully yours,

ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

Ordered, That the sum of $100,000 be appropriated, to be expended under the direction of the Commissioner of Public Works, for the construction of Washington street, West Roxbury, the same to be raised by taxation upon the polls and estates taxable in the City of Boston, and that all orders heretofore passed by the City Council relating to appropriations, taxes and the interest thereon apply to the taxes herein provided for.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

SUPPLEMENTARY APPROPRIATION ORDER.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, July 25, 1921.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I am transmitting herewith a supplementary appropriation order covering additional funds for the Reserve Fund and the Overseeing of the Poor Department.

You will recollect that in this year's budget, the Reserve Fund was made $200,000 less than last year, it being our hope that we could get along with that much less. The auditor estimates now, however, that he will need an additional $100,000 to carry him through the fiscal year. This sum will still be $100,000 less than the previous year.

I have had a conference with the Board of Overseers of Public Welfare and it develops that they need an additional sum of $85,000 for item F-9, which is "Care of Dependents."

The industrial depression is largely responsible for the increased demands upon the overscers, and it is the city's duty to place at the disposal of the overseers sufficient funds for them to carry on their necessary work.

You will note two other items in the appropriation order which I am submitting. These are for cartage and freight and general plant supplies, and are badly needed by the overseers.

I recommend the immediate passage of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,

ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

Ordered, That to meet the current expenses payable during the financial year beginning with the first day of February, 1921, of performing the duties and exercising the powers devolved by statute or ordinance, or by vote of the City Council during the year, upon the City of Boston, or the departments or officers thereof, the respective sums of money specified in the tables hereinafter set forth be and the same are hereby appropriated to be expended for the objects and purposes hereinafter stated, that the same be raised by taxation upon the polls and estates taxable in the City of Boston, and that all orders relating to appropriations, taxes and the interest thereon apply to the taxes herein provided for.

OVERSEEING OF THE POOR DEPARTMENT.

B. Service Other than Personal.....	$700 00
5. Cartage and freight	$700 00
D. Supplies	115 00
16. General plant..	$115 00
F. Special Items	85,000 00
9. Care of dependents	$85,000 00
	$85,815 00

Reserve Fund (for the payment of claims, executions of court, court fees, expert witnesses and other legal expenses, and for transfers)$100,000 00

Referred to the Executive Committee.

GYMNASIUM FOR SOUTH BOSTON.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, July 22, 1921.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—As you undoubtedly know, the D Street Gymnasium, which was built on land owned by the state, is no longer available for the purpose for which it was erected, as the state has taken the building over for commercial development. It would be most unfortunate if this recreational feature was not replaced, and I believe that the citizens of South Boston are entitled to another gymnasium.

I desire to have the Park Department start on the work of constructing a new and up-to-date gymnasium at the earliest possible moment, and I am therefore submitting an order to you to authorize a loan of $200,000 for the drawing of plans for the building, for the purchase of land and for the construction and completion of the building.

I hope the City Council will pass this order at the earliest moment possible.

Respectfully yours,

ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

Ordered, That the sum of $200,000 be appropriated, to be expended by the Park Commissioners, for the purchase of a site and for the erection of building for gymnasium in South Boston; and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, on the request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the City of Boston to said amount.

Referred to the Committee on Finance.

REPAIR OF FIRE HOUSES.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, July 15, 1921.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—Recently I asked the Fire Commissioner to prepare for me a list of the fire engine houses which were in most urgent need of repair or replacement. Such a list was submitted to me, and I have decided to recommend to the City Council appropriations sufficient to care for three of the most pressing cases.

I am attaching a copy of a communication just received from the Fire Commissioner stating the facts in connection with the three buildings for which money is to be appropriated. All three are cases of real urgency.

You will note that I am submitting orders for the appropriation of money from the tax levy for the rebuilding and remodelling of Engine 26-35 and Engine 28. As, however, we intend to build a new building for Engine 7, I am submitting an order which will provide sufficient money for this purpose from the loan account.

I recommend the immediate passage of the accompanying orders.

Respectfully yours,
ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Fire Department, July 13, 1921.

Hon. Andrew J. Peters,
Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—As requested I would report further details in reference to the appropriation for the rebuilding and remodeling of fire stations known as Engine 26-35, Engine 7 and Engine 28.

The amount asked for Engine 26-35 is $25,000. This estimate has been made on the basis of 35 cents per cubic foot. We figure, with the present walls and old material, that this is a fair amount, and I renew my recommendation for $25,000 as sufficient to do the work.

The amount asked for Engine 7 is $40,000. This figure was arrived at by estimating on the basis of 45 cents per cubic foot. This building will have to be torn down and a new building erected, hence the extra cost per cubic foot. I am of the opinion that the amount asked for should be sufficient, and renew my recommendation.

The amount asked for Engine 28 and Ladder 10, Centre street, Jamaica Plain, was $13,000. This is to be a remodeling job, and with other matters that have come up since the original estimate was made, I would suggest that your Honor increase the amount asked for from $13,000 to $15,000.

The Fire Department in its work has the advantage over other city departments in that it has its own architect, and there will be no charges for architectural services for any of the above-mentioned three jobs.

Yours very truly,
JOHN R. MURPHY,
Fire Commissioner.

Ordered, That under authority of chapter 261 of the Acts of 1893 the City Auditor be and hereby is authorized to make the following transfers to an appropriation for Remodeling House, Engine 26-35:

From the appropriation for Fire Station, Neponset.....$10,000 00
House and Apparatus, Parker Hill 14,972 10
$24,972 10

Ordered, That to meet the expenses of remodeling house of Engine 28 and Ladder 10, the sum of $15,000 be and the same is hereby appropriated, and that the said amount be raised by taxation on the polls and estates taxable in the City of Boston, and that all orders passed by the City Council relating to taxes and the interest thereon apply to the taxes herein provided for.

Ordered, That the sum of $40,000 be and hereby is appropriated for the erection of a new building for Engine 7, East street, to be expended by the Fire Commissioner, and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, on the request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the city to said amount.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

RETIREMENT OF THOMAS McDOWELL.

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, July 13, 1921.

Respectfully yours,
ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Park Department, July 12, 1921.
Hon. Andrew J. Peters,
Mayor of Boston:

DANIEL J. BYRNE, Secretary.

Ordered, That the Retirement Board for Laborers be hereby authorized and requested to retire, under the provisions of chapter 765 of the Acts of 1914, as amended by chapter 63 of the Special Acts of 1915, Thomas McDowell, employed as a laborer in the Park Department.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

BUILDING LINE ON ARBORWAY.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, July 13, 1921.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I am herewith transmitting to you a copy of a communication from the Park Department relative to a 25-foot setback in the building line on the Arborway, between Forest Hills street and Morton street, southerly side, and I recommend the passage of the accompanying order.

ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

Voted, Subject to the approval of the City Council, to change the restrictions requiring a 25-foot setback from the building line on the Arborway, between Forest Hills street and Morton street, southerly side, which now state,

"No building shall be erected or placed upon said premises within 25 feet from the exterior line of said park,"

So they will read as follows:

"No building shall be erected or placed upon said premises within 15 feet from the exterior line of said park."

Yours very truly,
DANIEL J. BYRNE, Secretary.

Ordered, That the Park Department Commissioners, with the approval of the Mayor, and by an instrument or instruments satisfactory to the Law Department, may in the name and behalf of the city modify and amend the restrictions contained in a deed given by Jacob W. Seaver et al., to the City of Boston, dated June 10, 1895, and recorded with Suffolk Deeds, Lib. 2287, page 374, by altering paragraph three of said restrictions, so that it shall read: No building shall be erected or placed upon said premises within fifteen feet from the exterior line of said park.

REMOVAL OF SANITARY STATION.

Coun. DONOGHUE offered an order—That the Park Department, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to consider the advisability of removing the sanitary station located in Blackstone square, Ward 6.

Coun. DONOGHUE—Mr. President, I just want to say in connection with that order that there is an old sanitary station up there in Blackstone square that has probably been there thirty years. I think it has outlived its usefulness, and it is a sort of bad spot just now in the South End of Boston. I feel that there really is no necessity for the further continuance of that station, in view of the fact that we are now going to erect a new municipal building on Brookline street, within fifty yards of the old sanitary station. It is only a men's station, anyway, and the odors arising from it at times are something terrible. There is a little children's playground right there, and I don't think it is conducive to the best interests of the children to have that station located practically before their very eyes. Then, again, we have on the other side of the park the Franklin Square House, which is a women's house entirely. All in all, I feel that that station has outlived its usefulness and should be removed. I hope the order will pass.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

PRICE OF MILK.

Coun. DONOGHUE offered the following: Whereas, Quart bottles of milk are selling in western Massachusetts for 7 cents a quart and in New York for 10 cents a quart, and that in Boston they are selling for 15 cents with a threatened jump to 16 cents August 1; and

Whereas, The supply of milk in Massachusetts is so plentiful that the price should automatically drop, responding to the law of supply and demand, but is sustained by artificial means employed by the distributors, and the farmers as a consequence must feed their milk to their cattle or throw it away;

Resolved, That the Boston City Council request the Commission on the Necessaries of Life to advise it on the Boston milk situation with a view of taking action against the milk profiteers.

The question came on the passage of the preambles and resolutions.

Coun. DONOGHUE—Mr. President, in connection with this order I want to say that Boston is paying a higher price for milk today than any city in the eastern part of the country. As most of the milk that is used in Boston today comes from points outside of Massachusetts, and as the farmers in the western part of this state are feeding their milk to the cattle or are throwing it away, it would seem that the distributors are using some artificial means of keeping the price up. The distributors of milk in Boston now threaten to raise the price of quart bottles of milk from 15 to 16 cents a quart on August 1. If they are allowed to do this it will probably mean that milk will soon be selling at 19 and 20 cents a quart, as it was some time ago. In New York City, where the distribution of milk is harder than in Boston, because of its greater distance from the seat of production, milk is selling for 10 cents a quart. Is there any good reason why the people of this city should not be able to obtain milk at the same price. There is no reason, except that the milk dealers, who are the worst kind of profiteers, because they steal from the poor babies of the city, are attempting to mulct the people. The people of Boston in the name of their babies demand 10-cent milk. The milk distributors of this city through their high salaried legal talent and their high paid propagandists have bamboozled the press, leading women's organizations and even Doctor Woodward, Health Commissioner, in regard to the true milk situation in this city. One of the claims of the milk distributors is that if they bring a lower price milk into Boston that they will be compelled to bring in a cheaper quality. This they maintain would be bad for the community and would cause greater sickness among the babies. This is absolutely false as is proven by recent statistics which show that in New York, where milk is selling for 10 cents a quart, the rate of infant mortality is less per capita than in the City of Boston where milk is selling for 15 cents. The people of Boston demand 10-cent milk, and I hope the order will go on its passage.

The order was passed.

RETAINING CITY EMPLOYEES.

Coun. DONOGHUE offered an order—That his Honor the Mayor be requested to consider the advisability of making some provision to retain in the city employ those who have been employed temporarily.

Coun. DONOGHUE—Mr. President, I don't know whether I have worded that order just exactly so as to let others know what my meaning or intent is, but it has come to my attention that the City of Boston has had to call upon the civil service for temporary employees—that is, so-called ninety-day men. In many cases the time of these ninety-day men will soon expire. Of course we realize that, under the recent act passed by the Legislature, we give preference to the veterans. The great majority, if not all, of the men who have been temporarily employed are veterans of either the late war, the Spanish-American War, or some other war that this country has participated in. Now, I would like to raise the point—I don't know whether or not it has ever been definitely settled—as to whether or not the recent act passed by the Legislature, which says that veterans shall only be removed from the employ of the city by vote of the City Council, applies to temporary employees. I am not, of course, in a position to determine that, but to my mind the situation in Boston today is such that it is important to decide whether the recent statute gives to those men the right to appeal to the City Council if they are laid off at the end of their ninety days. There is so much work to be done by the City of Boston and so much need for the services of these men, and they can be used to such good advantage by the city, that I believe they ought to be kept on, and that there should be some provision made through a supplementary budget to provide for their payments during the rest of the fiscal year. I hope that his Honor the Mayor will find some means of continuing in the employ of the city these men who have been employed temporarily, because we know that conditions today are unprecedented. There are more people out of work in Boston today than there have been at any time during my recollection. I know that business is practically stagnant. There is no reason for the city adding to this unrest, increasing the hardship arising from the unemployment situation, if we can avoid it; and when we find that there is a great deal of work now being done by the city which is let out to contractors, it occurs to me that something might be done along that line. I have tried to make some sort of a fight against it earlier in the year. I think the work that is being let out to contractors, or a great deal of it, could be done by these men who are employed temporarily by the city. I feel, in so far as these men are residents of the City of Boston, it is high time that this administration should do something to see that the unemployment situation is alleviated, to the extent that it might be alleviated by providing employment through different channels for citizens of Boston primarily. I am one of those who believe that all jobs in the City of Boston belong first to Boston men. Every man in public life, when he is up either for election or re-election, appeals to the voters of Boston to elect or re-elect him; but when it comes to giving out contracts and providing work, jobs, they seem to lose sight of the fact that the people of Boston are the ones they are directly responsible to and who should be first considered. I believe that every job for the City of Boston belongs first to a Boston man, if he is capable of handling it, and I don't know of any position which we cannot find a Boston man capable of handling. Afterwards, if it is necessary, it might be well enough to go to Lawrence, Cambridge, Somerville, Haverhill or other sections to hire people to do our work. But it is only the proper time to do so when we have provided for the needs of the citizens of Boston. I hope the order will pass.

The order was passed.

PAYMENT TO HON. NATHAN MATTHEWS.

3. Ordered, That the sum of $7,500 be and the same is hereby appropriated for the payment of legal services rendered and to be rendered by the Hon. Nathan Matthews in connection with and expenses incident to the preparation, entry, argument or any re-argument of the writ of error or appeal taken or to be taken from the Supreme Judicial Court for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts to the United States Supreme Court in the case of the City of Boston v. Charles L. Burrill et al., involving the question of the constitutionality of chapter 159 of the Special Acts of 1918, an "Act to Provide for the Public Operation of the Boston Elevated Railway Company," said amount to be charged to the Reserve Fund.

After the passage of the two orders by one vote Coun. DONOGHUE said:

Mr. President, while I do not object to the passage of both orders, I do think that perhaps we are acting rather irregularly in voting for two orders so different as these—one appropriating the sum of $125,000 for the widening and construction of North Beacon street, and the other providing the sum of $7,500 for the payment of legal services to be rendered by Nathan Matthews—by one vote. It may be legal or it may not be legal, but I certainly think it is questionable, and I think that we should be very careful in passing votes of this sort. I think on orders of this kind, so different in their nature, we should have separate votes. I have no objection whatever to the passage of the orders, but I do think that the question should be divided, so that there may be no suggestion of impropriety in our action.

Coun. COLLINS—Mr. President, if there is no objection I will ask that the question be divided.

The vote passing both orders on one roll call was reconsidered.

No. 2 on the calendar, appropriating $125,000 for the widening and construction of a portion of North Beacon street, Brighton, was given its second and final reading and passed, yeas 6, nays 0.

APPOINTMENT OF CONSTABLE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, July 27, 1921.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—Subject to confirmation by your honorable body, I hereby appoint Robert T. Murray, 210 West Canton street, to be a Constable of the City of Boston for the term ending April 30, 1922.

PAVING OF POST OFFICE SQUARE, ETC.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, July 26, 1921.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—It is essential that Post Office square and Congress street to State street be suitably repaved before the winter arrives.

At the present time the granite blocks are in wretched condition, and as the square and Congress street constitute one of the most used trucking thoroughfares in the city, it is desirable that they be placed in good repair at the earliest possible moment.

The Commissioner of Public Works estimates that the cost of repaving Post Office square and Congress street will be $40,000. The original appropriation in the Public Works Department budget for street reconstruction and repair has been exhausted and it is therefore necessary for me to ask the City Council to authorize the appropriation of the sum in question from tax levy.

I therefore recommend the immediate passage of the accompanying order.

Respectfully yours,

ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

Ordered, That the sum of $40,000 be appropriated for Street Improvements, to be expended under the direction of the Commissioner of Public Works, for the repaving of Post Office square and Congress street, the same to be raised by taxation upon the polls and estates taxable in the City of Boston, and that all orders heretofore passed by the City Council relating to appropriations, taxes and the interest thereon apply to the taxes herein provided for.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

The Mayor has approved the following contracts awarded without advertising; requests of heads of departments to do work with the department forces without advertising; additions to and deductions from contracts.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, August 1, 1921.

To the Mayor of Boston:

Permission to award a contract for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets, without advertising, to Harvey F. Armington, 80 Warren street, Brighton, is hereby requested on the ground that this contractor is not selected by the city in the first instance, but by the abutters, and secondly, the expense of construction being divided by the city and abutters; also because such contracts vary greatly in amounts and seldom involve one thousand (1,000) dollars.

Respectfully yours,

T. F. SULLIVAN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

August 2, 1921.

The authority requested is hereby given.

ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

SCHOOLHOUSE DEPARTMENT.

Classroom, Girls' Latin School.

On August 2 to Archdeacon & Sullivan as per following communication:

BOSTON 9, July 29, 1921.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,

Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—The bids on erecting a school class room in the Girls' Latin School, submitted to the Schoolhouse Commissioners and opened on July 27, were as follows:

Hub Contracting Company, $1,743; Archdeacon & Sullivan, $1,998; Walter Curley, $2,473; M. J. Fish & Son, $2,735.

The lowest bidder, the Hub Contracting Company, in the sum of $1,743, did not accompany their bid with a certified check, and by not doing so, did not comply with the requirements of the specifications. The second lowest bidder, Archdeacon & Sullivan, in the sum of $1,998, did present a certified check with the bid opened and read by this department.

Because of the said failure on the part of the Hub Contracting Company to carry out the requirements of the specifications, this Board voted to reject all bids submitted.

The Board then voted, subject to the approval of your Honor, to award the contract to the second lowest bidder, Archdeacon & Sullivan, in the sum of $1,998, under the provisions of chapter 486, section 30, of the Acts of 1909.

The reasons the Board has taken such action are as follows: First, the non-compliance by the Hub Contracting Company with the requirements of the specifications, as stated above; second, this work is very urgent, and the School Committee is very desirous of having the work completed prior to September 14 of this year, when the schools will open for their fall course. The Board is of opinion that the firm of Archdeacon & Sullivan will perform the work and have it completed before that date. The Board is of opinion that the Hub Contracting Company would not have the work completed on or before that date, and we therefore respectfully request your Honor's approval, under the provisions of chapter 486, section 30, of the Acts of 1909, to awarding the contract as above stated, without advertising, and with the understanding that this communication, setting forth the reasons for this request, be printed in the City Record.

Respectfully yours,

J. P. LOMASNEY,
Chairman.

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

New Turbine Rotor.

On August 2 to the Power Equipment Company, as per the following communication:

BOSTON 9, July 29, 1921.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,

Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—Permission is respectfully requested to award a contract, without publicly advertising the same, to the Power Equipment Company for furnishing one (1) complete new turbine rotor, consisting of turbine wheel complete with buckets and with short and shaft, for delivery to the pumping station, Calf Pasture, Public Works Department, for the sum of $1,195, f.o.b. Trenton, N. J.

In explanation of this request I would state that Mr. Robinson, the superintendent of the pumping station, has advised this office that it is hazardous to continue using the pump without having this equipment ready for an emergency, and as the Power Equipment Company are the makers of the pump now in use at the Calf Pasture, nothing would be gained by publicly advertising for this equipment.

In view of the urgency of this request I respectfully ask that the permission be granted me.

Respectfully yours,

G. J. CRONIN,
Superintendent of Supplies.

OFFICIAL COMMUNICATIONS.

CIRCULAR FROM THE MAYOR.

BOSTON 9, July 27, 1921.

To the Heads of Departments:

GENTLEMEN,—The City Collector desires to expedite the collection of poll taxes and I feel it is desirable that department heads should co-operate as far as possible in expediting the collection of these taxes from city employees.

Obviously it will be simpler for each department head to determine whether the employees in his department have paid their poll tax than it will be for the collector to determine this fact by going through his records.

I therefore direct each department head to make a canvass of the employees in his department to determine whether or not the poll tax has been paid. Each employee should be required to show his receipt from the City Collector issued on the payment of the poll tax. The City Collector has agreed to issue a duplicate receipt to each employee should he have mislaid the original.

On August 15, 1921, kindly deliver at my office a statement in duplicate showing the employees in your department who have not paid the 1921 poll tax levy.

I need not point out that this procedure will prove to be a protection to city employees and it is to accomplish this, as well as to aid the tax collector in securing the payment of poll taxes, that I am issuing this letter.

Very truly yours,

CIRCULAR FROM THE MAYOR.

BOSTON 9, July 27, 1921.

To the Heads of Departments:

GENTLEMEN,—The Wayfarers' Lodge of the Overseers of the Public Welfare has at the present time a large supply of wood which has been sawed and chopped by those who are taken care of and given employment at the lodge. An early disposal of this supply of wood will enable the overseers to provide additional employment for those who seek it at the lodge.

I therefore recommend that those departments which buy wood secure their supply at an early date in order that the overseers may have additional space for the wood which will be chopped by those to whom they give employment in the future.

Very truly yours,

ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

FINANCE COMMISSION.

RE ANNUAL REPORTS OF DEPARTMENTS.

BOSTON, July 29, 1921.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,
Mayor of Boston:

SIR,—The annual reports of city departments are authorized by the Revised Ordinances, chapter 3, section 24, which is as follows:

"Every officer in charge of a department shall within thirty days after the close of the financial year transmit to the mayor a report containing a statement of the acts and doings, and receipts and expenditures, of the department for such financial year, together with such other matters as may be required by law, or as the mayor or officer may deem to be of public interest."

These reports are of little value unless made promptly and unless they contain at least the matters set forth in the ordinance. It seems very necessary that your Honor should receive these reports within the time stated in the ordinance, in order that the work of the year past in each department, together with the receipts and expenditures of money during the year, may be known to you.

The responsibilities resting upon the Mayor under the charter amendments of 1909, particularly as to the initiation of all appropriations and the preparation of the annual budget, make these reports very valuable to your Honor, provided they are made promptly. Furthermore, the printing and distribution of these reports for the use generally of the citizens of the city should follow immediately upon their being made to your Honor.

At the present time not only are these annual reports not made within the time specified, but in the opinion of the Finance Commission do not contain, when they are made, adequate data from which to ascertain the cost of the city and county government.

Generally these reports are lacking in any general summarized statement of the year's work. It is necessary for one seeking information concerning the cost, acts and doings of a department from its annual report to seek a personal interview with the department official making the report, in order to receive the information required. For the most part these reports are filled with tables and charts with insufficient explanatory statements to enable an inquiring citizen to ascertain what the department really accomplished during the year.

It costs the city approximately $42,000 a year to print these reports. This sum is practically a total waste.

At the present time there is no supervision over these department reports. Each department has its own method of making its report and includes such matter as appears to it to be important, endeavoring, however, in a general way to comply with the ordinance.

On July 15 of this year one department had just sent in its report for the year before last (1919-20). Up to July 15, 1921, nineteen departments had not made their reports for last year.

The Commonwealth of Massachusetts some years ago made a study of this question of annual reports of the state departments and, as a consequence, created a department for the purpose of editing and revising all annual reports made at the expense of the Commonwealth. The result has been a great saving to the Commonwealth in printing and a more intelligent and valuable type of report.

European cities appear to be doing this matter in a very intelligent way. In some of the larger cities it is the custom to collect from departments all essential facts regarding administration and costs and publish them in an appropriate way in a book called the "Year Book," which is sold, the proceeds paying nearly the whole cost of publication.

The Finance Commission issued a report on this matter on September 20, 1917. (See Finance Commission's Reports, Vol. III., page 130.) On November 9, 1918, the Finance Commission issued a report on the matter of abolishing the Statistics Department and providing a method of supervising the annual reports. The recommendations made in that report* are adopted for this report, as follows:

1. That the Statistics Department as at present constituted be abolished.

2. That the position of city statistician be created within the Mayor's office.

3. That the city statistician be charged with the following duties:

(a) Compiling and publishing the "Municipal Register" once every four years.

(b.) Publishing annually, except every fourth year, a small pamphlet on changes in city government and city statistics, including concise tables of cost.

(c.) Editing, revising, controlling and distributing annual reports of departments.

(d) Supervising Municipal Reference Library.

(e.) Conducting correspondence concerning the city with outside inquiries.

Respectfully submitted,

MICHAEL H. SULLIVAN,
Chairman,

COURTENAY GUILD,
JOHN F. MOORS,
JAMES M. MORRISON,
J. WALDO POND,
The Finance Commission.

* Both reports referred to above, with the exception of the appendices, are hereto annexed.

FINANCE COMMISSION.

STANDARDIZATION OF ANNUAL REPORTS.

Boston, September 20, 1917.

To the Honorable the Mayor and City Council:

GENTLEMEN,—The Finance Commission was requested by the City Council "to consider the annual reports of the more important city departments with a view to standardizing the reports, so far, at least, as seems advisable, and also eliminating unimportant details and including therein units of operation and cost and such other important information as may better enlighten the citizens of Boston and the Council as to the merits of the work supervised or carried on by the several departments." The commission reports as follows:

The subject of annual reports of public officials of Boston has received the attention of the Finance Commission on several occasions in past years, at which times criticism was made of the form and substance of these reports and recommendations submitted to the city government for correcting the methods of handling the work. In a report dated January 2, 1909, the commission recommended the abolition of the Registry and Statistics Departments and the creation of a new department of records and statistics, with control over the reports of the departments and supervision of the compilation and publication of municipal records and statistics of all kinds.

This recommendation, however, was not adopted and the present situation of many of the annual reports is similar to the condition existing when the commission issued its report on January 2, 1909. What improvements have been made in the annual reports have been isolated and have not been extended to all departments.

Briefly, the present system of publishing the departments' annual reports in Boston is as follows:

City officials in charge of departments are required by section 24, chapter 3, of the Revised Ordinances of 1914, to file with the Mayor within thirty days after the close of the financial year a report of the acts and doings, receipts and expenditures for the previous year. No provision exists in the ordinance limiting the official to any definite scope in his report, nor does the ordinance provide in precise language what material and information shall appear in the departments' reports. Discretion of a large nature is left to the officer, both as to the form of the report and the character of the material presented. In addition to doings, receipts and expenditures of the department which he must report, the ordinance also allows him to add whatever he may deem to be of public interest.

The looseness of the ordinance requirements and the lack of any supervising authority over the reports, either before they reach the Mayor or before they are printed at the public expense, has produced documents which, to a large extent, are rendered useless by unnecessary duplication, by the omission of useful and the inclusion of useless data, and by lack of proper analysis. Statistics relating to the total cost or net results of the various public undertakings described are almost wholly lacking, or are so scattered over the reports that it is impossible to assemble the data in any complete units.

Of each annual report 400 copies are printed by the Printing Department and paid for out of the appropriation called "City Documents Appropriation"; 300 copies of this edition are sent to the City Messenger for public distribution, 100 copies are retained by the Printing Department and later assembled with other city documents for a particular year and published, generally one and one half years after the fiscal year, in bound form. This edition consists of a four-volume set. These 100 copies are distributed by the City Messenger, most of the edition going to members of the Boston city departments.

Formerly another edition of bound reports, called "Report of the Executive Department," was annually issued to the extent of 300 copies of two volumes, but last year, when attention was called to the unnecessary waste and duplication between this edition and the "Boston City Documents," the former was discontinued. Moreover, it had formerly been the custom for city departments to order from the Printing Department many hundred additional copies of their annual reports. The cost of these additional reports was borne by the department's own appropriation. When the Finance Commission called the attention of the City Council to the fact that the 300 copies sent to the City Messenger's office were hardly ever used and that it was a waste of the city's money for the departments to order additional copies, the practice ceased and the departments now receive their copies from the City Messenger. One great saving in the elimination of useless and unnecessary duplication is seen in the Registry Department's report, which prior to 1910 consisted of upwards of 248 pages. In that year the Finance Commission published a report on the department, calling attention to the duplication and variance between its report and the same statistics in the Health Department, with the result that the report was reduced from 248 pages to four pages and has continued in the reduced size to the present time.

The defects which exist in the present system in Boston are laxity in definite requirement for the material to be published in the annual reports and the absence of any supervision over the composition of the reports themselves.

The primary purpose of a report is to furnish the Chief Executive, the City Council and the citizens of Boston information, so that all these agencies may have a definite basis for an intelligent understanding of the problems affecting a particular department. To be of distinct and useful help they must be an accurate and complete picture of the past year, as well as timely in their appearance. If both these factors are missing, the value of the report is largely lost. The Boston reports have been in many cases offenders in both particulars, but especially in the lateness of their publication. Reports generally do not appear for months after the ending of the fiscal year and in some cases for years after. At the present time the report of the Park and Recreation Department for the year 1916-17 has not yet appeared and the report for the year ending January 31, 1916, was so late in publication that no date was given in the letter submitting the report to the Mayor.

Furthermore, on September 12, 1917, there were thirteen departments' reports for the last fiscal year (1916-17) which had not been published.

Reports in general should be so arranged as to present the following facts:

1. The main purpose of each report, narrative in form with a discussion of the year's work; the purpose of the department; the growth of the department; changes in administration, in organization and in condition. The year's work should be reviewed either for the department as a unit or by its various divisions, and the needs of the department and its problems should be presented.

2. The presentation of facts and the grouping of statements in logical order and sequence so as to show forcibly these facts.

3. The statistical and financial tables.

If an attempt is made to apply this formula to the reports of the City of Boston departments, it will be seen that no very serious consideration has been given by many department heads to sketch out a method for a good annual report. This criticism, however, does not apply to all department, for in some care has been given to the reports. In most of them, however, opportunity exists for elimination and improvement.

In order to get the best possible thought on these documents, the commission submitted a selected number of annual reports for the year 1915 (the last reports available at that time), to experts in various parts of the country, and their comments are as follows:

LIBRARY DEPARTMENT.

There is no unnecessary, superfluous or useless matter contained in the report. It presents such information as should properly be included in such a report, in excellent form, with dignity, directness and good taste. The only chance for improvement is that, because of the triple nature of the report, one part from the trustees, another part from the examining committee, and a third from the librarian, the matter on many of the subjects is loosely grouped and scattered through the book. For example, anyone studying the finances of the library must look on pages 1-2, 5-9, 16-19, 68-70, instead of being able to find all the financial information in one body. The library report should be in two principal parts, the narrative and the statistical. The former should discuss the growth, the use, the finances of the library, and should record changes in methods of administration, in organization and in condition of work. The statistical part should present clearly the relatively few figures necessary to show the increase of the library, its circulation and reference use, its revenue and expenditures in detail.

OVERSEEING OF THE POOR AND INSTITUTIONS REGISTRATION DEPARTMENTS.

The reports of the Overseers of the Poor, as well as the Institutions Registration Department, contain a minimum of the information that should be published. Certainly the following items should be published by these departments.

1. The number of families or individuals aided.
2. The expenses of the department.
3. Nature and investment of funds held, such as the trust funds held by the Overseers of the Poor.
4. Any tendencies of unusual interest during the year.
5. Disabilities which bring families into poverty.

CHILDREN'S INSTITUTIONS DEPARTMENT.

It is open to question whether the tables on pages 34, 38, 47, 48, 49 and 50 mean enough to the reader to warrant publication every year.

INFIRMARY DEPARTMENT.

No intelligent discussion of the social problems involved appears in the report of the trustees. The value of publishing the complete tables of diseases of inmates on pages 43 to 53 is questionable. A brief summary of outstanding facts—a page—would be sufficient. It is unnecessary to publish every year the laws on pages 54 to 57. Equally unnecessary are the several pages (33-36) for a publication of salaries and farm products. The publication of a list of graduate nurses (pages 15-20) is unnecessary, especially if the old list has been given in previous reports. The graduates of the current year should be given.

CONSUMPTIVES' HOSPITAL DEPARTMENT.

A page containing a summary of statistics should be included in the report. In order to obtain certain facts it is necessary to search the whole report and if this material were contained in one page it would give a brief outline of the work of the department. This page should give the following statistics:

SUMMARY OF STATISTICS.

BOSTON CONSUMPTIVES' HOSPITAL, MATTAPAN.
Total number of beds at Mattapan.

HEALTH DEPARTMENT.

It would be possible to condense the tables in this report somewhat without destroying anything of value, as there seems to be quite a good deal of duplication in different parts of the report. The tables of medical inspector on pages 17-39 might be combined with the tables under the head of "Vital Statistics." The photographs serve no useful purpose and might be omitted, while the diagrams now printed in colored lines might be made less expensive by substituting black lines of different character. In general the report should have, first, the report of the commissioner, giving in general form a statement of the amount of work, its costs, and a general summary of the vital statistics for the year, especially with reference to those diseases which are controllable and which may be said to reflect the work of the department. This should be followed by very brief reports by the heads of the different divisions, and following that, a section devoted to statistics. In a general way this is the present practice, but the commissioner's report might be very much improved, the reports of some of the division chiefs might be shortened and the statistics condensed.

HOSPITAL DEPARTMENT.

Two thirds of the report contains superfluous and immaterial data for publication; all the data under the statistical tables could be eliminated without impairing the report. Physicians do not read hospital departments' reports, but if they need data on any special subject generally write direct to the hospital chief for it. Hospitals should have elaborate systems of records and statistics, but there is no necessity for printing and publishing them.

Other reports of the city have been examined and variances in figures and an unnecessary amount of duplication have been discovered. Thus, the City Treasurer reports (page 16) that the debt paid and canceled during the financial year 1915-16 was $4,592,350. The auditor's report (page 197) gives figures for the same period of $4,613,016.66.

Again, on page 242 of the auditor's report, it is stated that the debt of the city amounts to $127,405,697.68, while page 17 of the treasurer's report gives the debt of Boston as $127,594,697.68. The duplication of the tables in these two financial reports and the variances therein confuse the reader. While the auditor's report is, in the main, commendable, it contains a great many tables and data which might be eliminated and thus save expense, both in cost of printing and in the size of the volume.

Thus, the auditor and treasurer publish each year a list of the trust funds held by the city, with a description of the purpose of the trust. This is a duplication of the same material in two different reports. Other reports also repeat yearly material which needs no repetition. The Building Department publishes a large number of photographs of buildings in dilapidated condition. The photographs are chiefly ornamental and serve no useful purpose. The Assessing Department gives each year assessment districts, ward line boundaries, and a list of the property of the City of Boston, with valuation. It is questionable whether all this material should be printed yearly.

As an example of a model plan for a report, the National Committee on Prisons, after reviewing at the request of the commission the report of the Penal Institutions Department, submitted an outline for making a report on the Deer Island institution. As the outline is detailed it is given in an appendix hereto.

This comprehensive outline, when compared with the form of the report of the Penal Institutions Department, serves to illustrate the supervision which should be given to annual reports before they are passed for publication. Such supervision can only come from a board charged with the proper authority in advising a department head as to the form and composition of his report, and in editing and revising it after it has been written and before it is submitted to the Mayor for publication. If such supervision were exercised, a department report would present its activities in brief compass, in intelligent form and in careful analysis, and would conserve the finances of the city by eliminating costly photographs and drawings and unnecessary compilations.

Boston is backward in this matter. States and other cities have given some attention to the subject and have provided, either by statutory requirement or by city ordinance, regulations governing the size and number of annual reports of state and city departments. As far back as 1902 Governor Crane of Massachusetts, on January 2, recognizing the growth of the state departments' reports, urged as follows their curtailment:

"The public documents printed by the Commonwealth have increased so rapidly, both in numbers and in size, that it is desirable to consider whether the material they contain may not be presented in a more condensed form without impairing its value. These publications, to be of the greatest usefulness, should be simple, comprehensive and brief. In order to promote these ends, I recommend that a board of publication be established, to be composed of three state officials, to be appointed by the Governor and Council, who shall serve without additional compensation, and shall have clearly defined advisory and supervisory power regarding the scope and size of all public reports."

The Board of Publication recommended was appointed (see chapter 438 of the Acts of 1902), consisting of the Tax Commissioner, the Clerk of the House, and another state officer, and as a result of their work secured in the first year of their supervision a reduction of 1,581 pages over the reports of the preceding year, or about 12 per cent. The Board, in reporting its success, stated, "It does not appear that the result has in any way impaired the value of these documents," and after several years again reported that "Extraneous matter has been largely excluded and the reports more closely limited to a succinct description of the work of the year. Illustrations and maps have not been lavishly used and have been confined to the subject at hand."

The state of Utah also provides a state board of examiners, consisting of the governor, the secretary of state and the attorney general, and authorizes it to procure the publication of as many copies of the state officers' reports as they may deem necessary.

Tennessee provides a commission of public printing, with control over all department printing, including annual reports.

The laws of South Carolina direct heads of the various departments and boards, in making their reports, to give statistical matter and recommendations in as brief a form as possible and that they must not embrace in one report the report of another state officer, nor print the general correspondence of their office.

South Dakota authorizes a commissioner of public printing (the governor) to determine the number of copies of the biennial reports to be printed.

Some cities have also studied the question and have written into their charters or ordinances regulations over department reports.

Thus, the city of New Bedford has an ordinance which gives the clerk of committees power over the editing of all annual reports before they are submitted to the city council, with authority to strike out, add to, or change any report when such action may lead to brevity, uniformity or usefulness of the report. If objection is made by the head of a department to the action of the clerk of committees in changing his report, the report, together with the recommendations of the clerk of committees, is sent to the City Council, which determines the point at issue.

The city of Providence joint standing committee on finance of the city council approves in writing the printing and the number of copies of the annual reports, and the city clerk writes to the Finance Commission that this committee has sanctioned the publishing of only a few of the most important reports.

In New York City there is a board of city records, consisting of the mayor, corporation counsel and comptroller, which through a supervisor appointed by it reviews and revises all annual reports of departments before they are printed. Regular conferences are held with the heads of departments in relation to the possible elimination of repetitious matter contained in the reports and in reference to the rearrangement of text, with a view to improving their form, as well as to effect economies in printing expenses.

Cleveland provides for a commissioner of information and publicity, one of whose duties is to compile an annual report, giving a summary of the council proceedings and a summary of the operations of the administrative departments for the previous year.

These examples furnish excellent models for the City of Boston to study, so as to bring from the present state of disorder and irregularity its system of publishing its annual reports. The city should adopt the model of the state government of Massachusetts, and by ordinance provide for the creation of a board of publication, consisting of city officials, serving ex officio and without further compensation.

The commission has not analyzed the cost of printing these city documents and annual reports, but has tabulated the figures for the last eight years. These figures which appear below are exclusive of the cost of the copies of the annual reports which the various departments have ordered and paid for from their own appropriations.

COST OF REPORTS OF CITY OF BOSTON, CALLED CITY DOCUMENTS.

Year.	Amount.
1916-17. Printing and binding city documents	$36,233 33
1915-16. Printing and binding city documents	30,065 00
1914-15. Printing and binding city documents	29,999 80
1913-14. Printing and binding city documents	36,008 60
1912-13. Printing and binding city documents	35,992 35
1911-12. Printing and binding city documents	35,968 92
1910-11. Printing and binding city documents	36,900 86
1909-10. Printing and binding city documents	43,717 68
Printing and binding revised index	1,536 70
Total	$286,423 24

Without doubt this annual cost could be cut considerably by the supervision and control exercised over the annual reports by a board of publication.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

1. That an ordinance be passed by the City Council, providing for the creation of a board of publication, to consist of three city officials, serving ex officio and without further compensation, with ample power and authority over the annual reports of the city departments in the line of editing, revising and elimination of material and data, so that the reports will be brief and concise.

2. That the present ordinance requiring the submission of the annual reports within thirty days of the close of the fiscal year be amended so as to provide for submission to the board of publication within the same period.

Respectfully submitted,

THE FINANCE COMMISSION,

Chairman.

RE ABOLITION OF STATISTICS DEPARTMENT.

Boston, November 9, 1918.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,
Mayor of Boston:

SIR,—The Finance Commission submits herewith a report on the Statistics Department, and presents reasons for its abolition and the creation in its place of the office of Municipal Statistician under the jurisdiction of the Mayor's department.

The present Statistics Department was organized in 1897 as an experiment in this country. Its establishment was based upon European models and upon the work of the United States Census Bureau. Up to that year the statistics relating to the City of Boston were published under the direction of the Committee on Printing of the City Council and were compiled in a volume known as the Boston Municipal Register.

The Municipal Register contained a compilation of the ordinances of the city, as well as reprints of the Boston charter and miscellaneous material relating to the organization of the city government and to statistics of voting, of births, marriages and deaths. The Register first appeared in 1821 and was published annually thereafter, the scope of the work having been increased by various additional features, although the form and makeup of the report remained practically unchanged. Thus in the first year of its publication the Register contained merely an account of the City Council and a list of the officers; in 1917 it had expanded to 351 pages and embodied reprints of the City Charter Amendments of 1909, long descriptions of each of the city and county departments, their powers and duties, the boundaries of wards and of voting precincts, lists of members of the city government for 1909-1916, mayors and certain other officials since 1822, and statistics of population and areas.

In 1897 Mayor Quincy's inaugural message to the city government urged the establishment of a statistical department for the city, to be composed of an unpaid commission, to secure full and systematic tabulation and analyses of current statistical information. The chief aim of such an organization was to prepare comparative municipal statistics, both of the Boston departments and of other cities in the country, so as to show by these studies the possible existence of waste or inefficiency in the conduct of the Boston departments. The department was also to be allowed to pursue such special lines of inquiry and investigation as it should deem proper. Its establishment had been urged by many representative Boston citizens, who were under the impression that such a board could study the reports of the various city departments, tabulate their figures and percentages of cost, and present to citizens the exact expenses for conducting each and every municipal enterprise. Instead of obliging an inquirer to wade through a mass of material in the reports of the city departments, the essential information could have been already cut out and collated in a statistical report made by a bureau of statistics.

Such were the reports and studies issued by the European cities upon which it was proposed to establish the Boston model. Their reports were not mere reprints or uncommented extracts from departments' reports, but were a new tabulation of comparative materials gathered under a scientific system which rejected unnecessary material and collated essential information. The grouping of these tables was scientific and told in complete sequence the essential details of many phases of municipal effort.

On January 11, 1897, the Mayor submitted an ordinance establishing the department, to consist of six members, of whom the city engineer should be one, ex officio. The members were to serve without pay. The ordinance was broad in its scope, the Board being authorized to "collect, compile and publish such statistics relating to the City of Boston and such statistics of other cities, for the purposes of comparison, as they may deem of public importance." The department began operation on May 1, 1897.

One of the members appointed to the Board was Dr. Edward M. Hartwell, then Director of Physical Training in the Boston schools. Soon after Doctor Hartwell's appointment, he presented a report on the organization and management of the leading municipal statistical offices in Europe, and on September 1, 1897, was chosen secretary of the Board and resigned as Statistics Trustee. The first chairman of the Board was Laurence Minot, who served as such for ten years.

The first work undertaken by the department was the preparation of material (financial, vital and sanitary statistics) to be published in a monthly bulletin, as well as a special study of a school problem, and the editing and issuing of the municipal weekly gazette, the City Record. The department thus assumed a two-fold character, viz., a statistical and a research bureau for the gathering of financial, social and economic statistics.

It is difficult to appraise the value of the department without an intimate knowledge of its past current work, but the published annual reports of the department give an inquirer a pretty good ground work from which a review of its work may be made and its accomplishments weighed. The annual reports of the department from its establishment to the present time have been read. Without a single change the reports fall into four divisions, viz., a discussion of the material which has appeared in the Special Bulletins, a summary of the tables and data of the monthly publications, short references to the Municipal Register, and to the pamphlets relating to the city government. This mold has remained year after year, and no attempt has been made to render the annual reports attractive by a difference in arrangement or by a variety of new features.

The very sameness in form and substance of the reports and the same phraseology and text of the pages detract from the usefulness of the publication. The special publications and the monthly bulletins were generally devoid of discussion and were confined to a presentation of tables, either for comparative periods or for a single financial year.

Thus, for three years there were tables devoted to "Foreign Commerce of the Principal Ports for the United States;" another annual was "Population of Thirty Principal Cities of the United States," and still another subject to which great prominence was given was "Boston School Census." On the other hand, there were tables which ought to have been interesting, such as the debt of Boston and analyses of loans issued. But it was due to the unattractiveness of the makeup of the bulletins, publications and the reports that the Statistics Department did not receive the support of the city government or of the public.

Even the department itself felt the lack of interest in its reports, for here and there one finds an apology for the lateness of publications of the Municipal Register, and statements that to do good work more revenue is needed.

The growing dissatisfaction with the department which the trustees thought necessary to counteract is shown in a letter written by the chairman to the Mayor in 1902—only five years after the creation of the department—stating "disappointment has been felt in some quarters at the comparatively small results obtained," and adding that the department is equipped to do good work "if the city government and the public will back us up." The letter concludes with a request for an appropriation of $50,000, a corps of investigators and the passage of an ordinance requiring departments to furnish the Statistics Department with such information as it may desire.

The request was not only ignored, but the dissatisfaction with the department soon after found expression in votes in the Board of Aldermen for its abolition. Thus, on March 10, 1902, Alderman Tinkham introduced an ordinance abolishing the department, and the order favoring such action passed the Board without a dissenting vote (11-0). It would have also been acted favorably upon in the Common Council, but Mayor Collins addressed a note to that body, inclosing, without comment, however, a petition signed by Thomas J. Gargan and other prominent Boston citizens, protesting against the abolition of the department.

The move for doing away with the department died in committee of the Common Council, and no further attempt to wipe out the department took place until 1904, when Alderman James M. Curley secured favorable action by the Board of Aldermen on the abolition of the department. The remarks then made by Mr. Curley showed that while his primary object was an attack upon the then chairman of the Statistics Department, Laurence Minot, he nevertheless made it clear that the department meant little in municipal progress. One of the remarks of Mr. Curley showed that in answer to a question to Doctor Hartwell in the committee room the latter had testified that there had not been a demand for more than twenty copies of the monthly bulletin from the various heads of departments of the City of Boston, with the possible exception of the Mayor.

The action of the aldermen, however, did not meet with favorable action by the Common Council, and the department therefore received a new lease of life. Mr. Minot shortly after resigned from the department because, as he now states, he felt that the department was accomplishing very little on its small appropriation.

The attacks upon the efficiency and usefulness of the department did not seem, however, to inspire it to more progressive action. The department continued on its old course, publishing the same statistics in the same form.

In 1908, Alderman Curley attempted another repeal of the department, but his action was defeated by the then Finance Commission, which recommended that the department be maintained until a better substitute was found. Later the Finance Commission recommended the abolition of the department, as well as the Registry Department, and the creation of a new department of records and statistics, to which should be appointed, as executive director, an expert statistician. The recommendation, however, was not followed. In 1915-16 it discontinued of its own motion the publication of the special and monthly bulletins, because of a "reduction of the usual allowance for printing." This reason, however, is not consistent with the appropriation of the department for that year, because the department was granted $10,000, but had only expended $7,142.07, leaving a balance of $2,857.93, which could have been used for printing the publications above referred to.

The suspension of these publications since 1914, or over four years ago, has met with no active protest from either citizens of Boston or of other cities, and tends to show that these publications had little permanent value. Furthermore, the lateness of the publications was so marked that they lost the value of timeliness and were useful only for the figures of past periods rather than of current months. Thus, Special Publication No. 11, giving the extraordinary receipts and expenditures of 1898-1902, did not appear until after Publication No. 16 was issued, which was in 1909. The former Special Bulletin was therefore seven years late, and no special reason was assigned by the department for its belatedness. Similarly, one finds in many of the annual reports a statement that the Municipal Register did not appear until late in the fall of the year whose annals it recounted, but it was stated that the "responsibility for the delayed publication lies elsewhere."

It must be admitted by any student of the department's activities that the weakness of the department is found in the unprogressiveness of its administration. Instead of pursuing broad lines of investigation and research, tending to show the growing extravagance, graft and waste in the Boston departments during the years 1897-1907, the department contented itself with stereotyped tables which proved nothing to one unacquainted with municipal enterprises. If the department had been alive to the growing decadence of the Boston departments, it would not have been necessary to have had appointed an investigating committee in 1907, and the citizens would have been informed of the waste rampant in the city in the years 1905-07. It therefore failed in its primary purposes to show by its comparative figures and tables the presence of waste and inefficiency in the conduct of the Boston departments. Its failure, however, was due largely, not to any inherent weakness in such a supervising board, but to the personnel of the office staff.

Always under the control of the Mayor's office, and its appropriation under the control of the City Council, the secretary of the department was caught between two forces, either of which it was impossible to antagonize without decapitation, and whose position could be secured only by a course of action which did not encroach upon the conduct of public officials.

Bred in such an atmosphere, the secretary of the department has adopted the easiest way, with the result that his department has become a mere collector of facts for the Mayor's office and for private citizens. Especially was this true during former Mayor Fitzgerald's second term of office, for the annual reports point out with evident pride that it had collected many facts for Mr. Fitzgerald, Nathan Matthews, and former Lieut. Governor Luce.

But again the weakness of the administrative force of the department is shown in the statement that instead of answering inquiries for information from the office of the Statistics Department, as a rightly administered bureau of statistics would have done, the Statistics Department thought it better to transmit a memorandum to the department and allow it (the department) to conduct the correspondence with the inquirer. A well regulated bureau would have shown to the city authorities the better method of referring all inquiries to it and thus have freed the city department to which the inquiry was directed from further labor and gathered under one authority all inquiries for municipal information.

The office staff of the department at the present time consists of the secretary, an editorial clerk, a statistical clerk and a stenographer.* The personnel of the office below that of the secretary has constantly changed, the male assistants resigning after a few years of apprenticeship to enter fields where there were better openings. One of the former employees testified before a representative of the commission that he left because he came to know that the department was unprogressive and that it was impossible to improve conditions under the present leadership.

The department is costing the City of Boston approximately $7,500 a year to maintain, and in view of its statement that it needed $50,000 a year in order to perform its work properly, it can be readily seen that only meager results can be obtained from such a small appropriation.

*Position now vacant.

At the present time the department's work involves compilation, editing and publishing of the Municipal Register (the municipal year book), the publication of two pamphlets entitled respectively "Organization of the City Government" and "Boston Statistics", the handling of the subscription and accounts of the City Record (the municipal weekly gazette), and the gathering of facts which formerly appeared in the two distinct publications referred to above, viz., the Special Publication and the Monthly Bulletins.

The Municipal Register, which as already stated has been printed annually since 1821, explains the organization and functions of the city government, and the powers, duties and salaries of the important city and county officers. A large part of it is devoted, however, to statistics of population, areas, elections and finance. While the Register gives data which is important for students of municipal research, the presentation of its material has fallen into such a stereotyped form that practically the only changes recorded from year to year are the additions of new annual figures and the appointment of new city officials. Indeed for a period of twenty years it has only been in one annual report, viz., 1899-1900, that one finds a reference to any change in the composition of the volume. In the report of that year it was stated that the Register was "somewhat changed and rearranged."

The book is susceptible of many changes so as to make it more nearly approximate the design and purpose of a municipal year book such, for example, as the city of New York issued in 1916. A study of the present composition of the Municipal Register will show the tendency of the Statistics Department to enlarge the size of the book by the addition of pages of subject matter, which are mostly reprints of material appearing in individual reports of the city departments. For example, the Register for 1917 contains 178 pages of data which can be found in individual reports of the various city departments. A rearrangement of this material and the elimination of its prolix tables will reduce the size of the volume and render it more serviceable for persons seeking information on city and county government.

A comparison of the Boston Register with the handy little volume published by the city of New York two years ago, shows the opportunity for the issuance of a Municipal Year Book on up-to-date, progressive lines. The New York manual in form is that of primer and prefaces the work by a presentation in three clear but succinct tables the administrative and legislative offices and boards of the city, as well as the administrative county and judicial offices. These tables are then followed by a description of the executive offices of the city, then the legislative and administrative departments, then the financial departments, then a discussion of the subject of taxation, which is followed by a description of the department of education and recreation, and in due order follow descriptions of the departments of health, sanitation and charities, protection of life and property, correction, public utilities, law and judiciary, and miscellaneous activities which are impossible of grouping under any of the foregoing headings. The book closes with a series of financial tables, showing the appropriations and expenditures of the city for a period of three years, and a sub-division of the expenditures among the various departments of the city and the manner in which the city's each hundred dollars is spent, grouped by purposes.

Social statistics, such as births, marriages and deaths, are reduced to a very brief compass. The purpose of the book is to present the more important facts relating to the city government in condensed and intelligent form.

The city of Chicago maintains a bureau of statistics within the department of the mayor, consisting of the statistician and a stenographer, and its duties and work are described in the Chicago Manual as follows:

"The bureau of statistics is a bureau in the department of the mayor. To the city statistician are referred for replies, letters received at the office of the mayor, requesting information on particular and general matters of the municipality and its government, and also data relating to public affairs of the nation and the world. Hundreds of such letters every month are received, which may not be readily answered by the secretary to the mayor, but which must be answered with sufficient painstaking and promptly. Such is the rule laid down by the mayor. Numerous letters besides are sent to this bureau from the various other departments, and from the city clerk, all asking for information that may not at once be furnished by them. These letters all together number several hundreds in every month, and amount to thousands in a single year. Replies are written out of ready stores of information, or from quickly accessible municipal or governmental reports and documents, and books on practical civics, in the Municipal Library. Besides, he writes many letters of original inquiry, for officials and citizens who command his assistance. He addresses out the mayor's formal messages, and the reports of the Department of Public Works, and on occasion, other city documents as well. And he compiles and publishes each year the Chicago City Manual."

The duties of this office are therefore not very different from the work performed by the Boston Statistics Department, with its corps of four employees, although the force employed by Boston is twice that of the Chicago office. The reason for the larger number in Boston is due to the continued work on the unpublished statistics, which serve no really useful purpose, and the gathering of them should be discontinued at the earliest possible moment.

The commission believes that there is a place in municipal life for a municipal statistician, but does not feel that there should exist a separate department. That there is no need of a separate department is borne out by the fact that from 1911 to 1918 there have been only eight meetings of the board, or an average of about one meeting a year. It is a further fact that during this period no record of the meetings showed that any policy for conducting the department was adopted.

The gathering of information for the Mayor, for heads of city departments, or for persons or organizations outside the city government should be handled by the municipal statistician. Such an official could work out a plan as to what facts would be wanted regarding each department, bureau, or other unit, or what data are important concerning given phases of municipal activity. Then uniform information, comparable statistics, and a minimum of useless material would be at the quick disposal of every official, every councilman and every citizen. Such an officer should be a statistician of broad experience, able not only to initiate proper studies, but also to put them into proper form. He should be given charge of the Municipal Register and its form of presentation radically changed and condensed. It should follow in a large measure the excellent form of the New York Manual. He should also be charged with the duty and responsibility of editing all the annual reports of the city and given power of elimination, correction and distribution. From these annual reports he should tabulate the essential information and make it a part of the Municipal Register. Furthermore, he should have charge of a municipal reference library situated in City Hall, where all reports of the City of Boston and other cities could be housed and thus readily accessible to the heads of city departments.

As the executive department of the City of Boston under the present charter is on a four-year term, it does not seem necessary to put the city to the expense of an annual year book. All the purposes of an intelligent and comprehensive review of the activities of the city would be met by the publication of such a volume biennially or quadrennially. The two smaller publications issued by the department, "Boston Statistics" and "Organization of the City Government," which are a current yearly review of changes in the city government, could be continued in a combined form and would serve as current addenda to the Municipal Register.

The size, however, of these two smaller publications could be reduced so as to present only the most important data of the city's activities. The printing of such matter as "Memorable Sites and Buildings," printed in the Boston Statistics for 1917, need not be printed yearly but should appear in the Municipal Register. Nor need these permanent facts be often restated. The Municipal Register should be numbered by volumes and each volume should contain a comprehensive and cumulative index referring to data appearing in earlier editions. Thus a great amount of reprinting would be saved and the size of the Register kept from undue proportions. The handling of the subscriptions and accounts of the City Record, which was transferred to the department in December, 1915, should be put under the control of the editor of the City Record. The transfer to the Statistics Department has not been of financial benefit to the city, as the number of paid subscribers has dropped from 1,050 (April 11, 1914) to 930 (July 26, 1918).

Since its organization the department has cost the City of Boston the large sum of $194,348.67, excluding the cost of the Municipal Register, which was paid for out of a special appropriation for printing. If the cost of the Register from 1899—the year the Statistics Department took charge of it—which amounts to $71,051.53, is added to the total ordinary expenditure of the department, the expense to the City of Boston will amount to $259,315.19.* Furthermore, if to this cost is added the expense ($2,979.49) for the printing and binding of the special pamphlet "Organization of the City Government," it will give a grand total of $262,294.68, which the Statistics Department has had control of in the last twenty years.

The commission believes that if the Statistics Department were abolished and a municipal statistician appointed, with powers as outlined below, the yearly saving to the city would be very large, not counting the increase in the efficiency of the service to the city.

The Commission recommends:

1. That the Statistics Department as at present constituted be abolished.

2. That the position of city statistician be created within the Mayor's office.

3. That the city statistician be charged with the following duties:

(a.) Compiling and publishing of the Municipal Register once every four years.

(b.) Publishing annually, except every fourth year, of a small pamphlet on changes in city government and city statistics, including concise tables of cost.

(c.) Editing, revising, controlling and distributing annual reports of departments.

(d.) Charge of the Municipal Reference Library.

(e.) Conducting correspondence for information concerning the city from outside inquirers.

Respectfully submitted,

By JOHN R. MURPHY,
Chairman.

* These figures are approximate, as the cost of printing the City Municipal Register for the years 1905 to 1909, inclusive, and the cost of binding it for the years 1899 to 1909, inclusive, cannot be given by either the Auditing Department, the Statistics Department or the Printing Department.

CONDEMNED BUILDING.

BUILDING DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, July 28, 1921.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—I desire your written approval to take down building situated at 28 Lyndeboro street, Ward 3, in the interest of public safety, and as provided for in Acts of 1907, chapter 550, section 5, as amended.

I have caused photographs to be taken. The department's conclusion is concurred in by the Fire Department that said building is a fire menace and a nuisance, it being neglected, dilapidated, unfit for occupancy and deteriorating every day. The department has made a most active investigation to ascertain the ownership and locate the owner so as to make a constable service, but all efforts have been without result and we feel in the interest of public safety that steps should be taken at once, as provided by law, to remove the existing danger.

Yours very truly,

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Building Commissioner.

ARCHITECTS FOR BACK BAY
FENS.

PARK DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, August 1, 1921.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—The Board has voted, subject to your approval, to employ as landscape architects for the preparation of plans for the development of the Back Bay Fens, Messrs. A. A. Shurtleff and Olmsted Brothers.

NATIONAL CONFERENCE OF SOCIAL WORK.

OVERSEERS OF THE PUBLIC WELFARE,
BOSTON, August 8, 1921.HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—In compliance with chapter 274, Acts of 1914, the following report of the National Conference of Social Work is respectfully submitted.

The conference was held at Milwaukee, Wis., June 22-29, 1921. Not only the social worker, he who deals professionally with the poor, the dependent and the delinquent, but the principal divisional interests of national and international welfare movements were represented.

President Allan T. Burns stated that social workers are needed more than ever in the country, but to be successful they must relate themselves to the forces already at work in the community. "A new conscience in social work is being developed and before we expend effort we must be sure of what we are trying to do."

At another meeting President Burns also stated that the state of Wisconsin guides and protects the incoming foreigner, not only in acquiring his farm land, but also in developing it. He is protected from land sharks and instructed and aided in making his farm a success. This example has been Wisconsin's chief gift to the thousands of workers in various fields of welfare who are meeting in Milwaukee.

In the Children's Division, Dr. William Healy, director of the Judge Baker Foundation, Boston, said, "People, who still have before them the puritanical idea, talk about the protection needed by immature minds, but such people are very apt not to make some suggestion about properly informing children in the facts of life. If parents do not tell them, let me ask, who will?"

Wiley H. Swift of the National Child Labor Committee, made a plea for the thousands of normal children who are neglected and abused and for whom nothing is at present being done.

Sherman C. Kingsley, director of the Welfare Federation of Philadelphia, asked co-operation between private and public health organizations. "In the past the situation has been bad. Schools have had from five to seven different health organizations camping on their steps with various programs. If all were adopted, communities would be apt to suffer from over-health."

A valuable discussion took place in the Division of Public Agencies and Institutions in regard to payment of wages for prisoners in prison shops. W. Richmond Smith of New York pleaded for wages for prisoners and for better conditions in the prison shops and factories. "Prison shops are overmanned, production is less than one third of what it should be and wages are not more than ten per cent of the net earnings." Others contended that prisoners should be compelled to do sufficient work to make them self-supporting. Yet a fair sentiment was in favor of wages sufficient to enable them to contribute towards the support of their dependents.

Miss Rankin of the National Consumers League and America's first congresswoman, said, "Minimum wage legislation in the United States is fighting bitter opposition. All manner of idiotic excuses are being offered. There is no sound argument against it. Minimum wage legislation has raised wages in all of the thirteen states which have passed it. The highest is in North Dakota, where the law specifies that girls in offices receive $20 a week."

Mary Anderson, chief of the Woman's Bureau of the United States Department of Labor, told the conference of instances in the South where colored women are working for half the white wage, employers exploiting one class against the other. "America must get after the root of social evil, which is underpay. Living kept just one jump ahead of wages during the war. When workers were hit by unemployment they were immediately forced into the bread line."

Robert Woods of Boston spoke before the Division of Local Community and stated that America had a responsibility in helping oriental and other foreign countries to develop leadership for solving their social problems.

A plea for better co-operation between the public and private social agency was made by Robert Kelso of Boston before the Division of Public Agencies and Institutions. He declared there is a distinct difference in the scope of the two types. "The function of the private agency should be primarily educational, that of the public agency, administrative."

Milwaukee's plan in caring for the illegitimate child was outlined by Dr. George C. Ruhland, Commissioner of Health. The success of the ruling making it compulsory for the unmarried mother to remain with her child for three months, requiring breast feeding wherever possible, instead of turning it over to an institution a few days after birth, is attested to by an almost fifty per cent reduction in the infant mortality rate among illegitimates in Milwaukee.

Dr. Haven Emerson, medical advisor of the Federal War Risk Insurance Bureau at Washington, stated that science has arrived at the point when it understands that the most important function by the physician is to keep up the spirit of his patients so that they will co-operate intelligently with healing nature. "We must beware of the so-called universal panaceas, however. Osteopathy, Christian science and birth control have failed to prove themselves worthy of their claims."

Joseph Lee of Boston spoke before the Sunday night meeting of the conference and said that he thought he would find our best example of peace time community spirit in ancient Athens. "There the poorest freedman felt that he was a vital part of his government and there, too, flourished the competitive games and arts. No civilization since or before has quite equalled in community life that ancient city, hardly as large as Worcester, Mass., but big enough to furnish most of the world's transcendence geniuses."

The Family Division had a spirited session on Thursday morning when Joel D. Hunter, general superintendent of the Chicago United Charities, censured Wisconsin's mothers' pension system and also a number of other states. Mr. Hunter said the system of political appointments of pension law administrators tended to weaken the laws and make them semi-ineffective because the administrators were appointed without regard to fitness or training for the positions to which they were appointed. Wisconsin's system was censured on the ground that there is no state supervision of the work other than a preliminary report on needy cases to some state official. State supervision and state aid to the pension funds were recommended.

Emma O. Lundberg, director of the Social Service Division of the Children's Bureau of the United States Department of Labor, elaborated on Mr. Hunter's remarks with statistics compiled by the government.

Amy D. Steinhart, Sacramento, Cal., chief of Children's Agent of the California State Board of Control, said a better understanding of the mothers' aid law must come about in California. The general level of country care is slowly becoming more even, for as state social workers have gone out, their most useful function has been that of the education and organization and standardization of county forces. Public health nurses are everywhere adding greatly to the facilities for improving the development of children. They are often the factor which opens the way for supplemental county aid and the means of a necessary and continued supervision in the home. It is they who are responsible to a large degree for the serving of school lunches, to the sending of milk into homes, and to the insistence upon improved sanitation; at least one social worker, reinforced by a public health nurse, is needed in every community in the state.

Many counties find it difficult to establish a like standard of living among families of various nationalities; some maintain that similar policies are not advisable with all peoples. Our agents, since this standard has been maintained, are able to report a noticeable improvement in the condition of the families who are living up to it; there are increases in weight and general resistant power.

The speaker here referred to minimum dietaries for different ages, approximate amounts of staple foods for one day. The dietary is based on the minimum caloric requirements involving a proper combination of foods from the five classes, proteins, starches, fruits and vegetables, fats and sugar. The importance of vitamins has been realized only within the last decade.

A chart was produced showing the estimates of needs for foods in calories. The chart shows that an active school boy of fifteen years of age can utilize per day upwards of 4,500 calories, and an ordinarily active boy about 3,200 calories per day.

A round table conference was held in one of the halls, where about forty or fifty delegates interested in mothers' aid work were represented. Mr. Goodhue of the Massachusetts State Board of Public Welfare and the delegate representing the Boston Overseers of the Public Welfare, spoke in regard to the work in our state and city and an organization was there formed to further develop the interests of the mothers' aid pension at future meetings of the National Conference.

Mr. Kelso was elected president of the National Conference of Social Work for the coming year and Sherman C. Kingsley, vice-president. The conference next year will be held at Providence, R. I.

Respectfully yours,

W. H. HARDY, Secretary.

OFFICIAL COMMUNICATIONS.

COMMITTEE ON REFUSE DISPOSAL.

BOSTON 9, July 14, 1921.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—Your committee, appointed to review and report upon the situation in Boston with respect to the disposal of garbage and refuse, have carefully inquired into the matter in so far as information has been available within the City of Boston, and by correspondence have collected relevant data from other cities. The engineer-secretary of the committee has personally visited the following cities to collect data: New Bedford and Worcester, Mass.; New York City, Syracuse, Rochester and Buffalo, N. Y.; Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, Pa.; Cleveland and Columbus, Ohio; Detroit and Highland Park, Michigan; Chicago, Ill.; Milwaukee, Wis., and Westmount, Canada. The chairman has inquired into the situation in Washington, Baltimore and Philadelphia during visits to those cities.

On the whole, by reason of scarcity of labor during recent years, and by reason of large fluctuations in the cost of fuel and in the prices received for the products of garbage reduction plants, the entire field of garbage and refuse disposal has been and is in a badly unsettled condition. Generally speaking, other cities are no better situated with respect to this matter than is Boston, and circumstances in some being more or less chaotic and in others, where better conditions apparently prevailed, being substantially in the experimental stage.

In view of these circumstances your committee feels that it will be best now to invite bids for the disposal of garbage and refuse by a contract or contracts, for a period of ten years, the bidder to submit with his bid a description of the process that he proposes to employ and the acceptance of any bid being dependent not only upon the price but upon the suitability of the process submitted.

In order to accomplish this end, your committee has prepared and submits herewith a draft of a proposed invitation to bidders, forms for bids, forms for contracts, including specifications. Your committee respectfully recommends that bids be invited along the lines laid down therein.

Yours respectfully,

WILLIAM C. WOODWARD,
FRANCIS R. BANGS,
RICHARD W. GARRITY,
GUY C. EMERSON,
JOSEPH P. LYONS,
THOMAS F. SULLIVAN,
C. E. TURNER.

E. V. B. PARKE,
Collector of Taxes for the City of Boston.

NEW INCOME TAX (STATE) ON INTANGIBLE PROPERTY.

In accordance with Chap. 269, ss. 2 and 11, General Acts of 1916, intangible personal property (except bank stock) ceased to be subject to assessment and taxation in 1917 and thereafter. In place of that tax an income tax was established, amounting to six per cent per year on income derived from such tangibles, subject to various specified exemptions.

Owing to the exemption from tax of intangible personal property, the total valuation of personality in Boston decreased from $328,929,679 in 1916 to $162,545,343 in 1917, a loss representing $2,945,000 in taxes. By sec. 23 of said Chapter 269, it was provided that the State Treasurer should pay to each city or town an amount equal to the difference between the personal property levy in 1915 and that of 1917 computed at the 1915 tax rate. If the income tax collections exceeded the amount required for such distribution, the excess was also to be distributed, this in proportion to the State tax imposed on each city or town in 1917. The amount of income taxes paid by the State to the City of Boston under said statute in 1918 was $4,180,710 or $475,855 more than in 1917.

SUIT TO RECOVER PAYMENTS MADE UNDER COAL CLAUSE.

LAW DEPARTMENT,
August 16, 1921.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR.—In the matter of the claims of the city against the Edison Electric Illuminating Company of Boston, I beg to report as follows:

From the facts brought to my attention in the preparation of the case of the petition brought by you before the Department of Public Utilities, asking for a reduction in the rates charged for electricity, I have reached the conclusion that the 10 per cent additional charge and the additional charge under the so-called "coal clause" which have at various times between October 1, 1917, and the present date been charged to consumers by the Edison Company in connection with certain of its rates, are illegal and that these charges have not been fairly or correctly applied by the company.

The City of Boston not only takes electricity from the Edison Company under its contract for street lighting (under which neither of these charges have been applied) but also purchases considerable quantities of electricity for lighting its schoolhouses and other municipal buildings. Upon these charges the 10 per cent and coal clause have been applied and large sums of money have in this way been collected from the city. As to the future, the matter can be satisfactorily dealt with through the Department of Public Utilities, but for payments made in the past, that department has no legal authority to order repayment. I have therefore with your approval brought an action on behalf of the city against the Edison Company to recover the amount which in my judgment has been illegally collected.

So far as relates to payments under the coal clause, what I have done is in accordance with an order passed by the City Council February 21 last, and transmitted by you to me. In this order you were requested to direct the Law Department to take steps to compel the Edison Company to refund all moneys received from the city under the coal clause. Until the present time, however, I have not had the information which seemed to me necessary as a foundation for legal action.

This report is made in pursuance of recent conferences between us and in order that knowledge of what has been done may be transmitted to the Council.

Very truly yours,

ARTHUR D. HILL,
Corporation Counsel.

AUDITING DEPARTMENT.

Respectfully,

J. ALFRED MITCHELL,
City Auditor.

Approved, August 16, 1921.

BEQUEST OF $50,000 TO THE CITY.

Mayor Peters has received from Percival P. Baxter, governor of Maine, a communication stating that under the will of Governor Baxter's father, the city of Boston is left the sum of $50,000. The will provides that this sum is to be held by the City of Boston until the year 2020, or until such time as the $50,000 has increased to $1,000,000. Within at least one year after that time the City of Boston is required, under the terms of the will, to expend so much of the accumulated sum as is necessary to at least complete the foundation "for a suitable building to be erected in the City of Boston to commemorate the lives and deeds of the founders of New England, and said city shall complete such a building in all details, on or before December 31, A. D. 2025, or within five years after the said sum shall amount to $1,000,000."

The will further provides that the bequest, if accepted by the City of Boston, shall be invested together with all accumulations, in "interest bearing United States Government, or state, or municipal bonds, legal for savings banks in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts." A further provision in the will is as follows:

"I further suggest that additional funds be raised for the erection and completion of this building by an Appeal to the State Governments and People of the six (6) New England States and to those citizens of other States who are descended from New England ancestors, and I suggest that this Appeal be made jointly by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, by said City of Boston, by the said Societies herein named and by others who may be interested in the purposes of this Trust.

"It is my wish that this Commemorative Building be built and be used for the purposes outlined in an Address 'To the Patriotic People of New England' entitled 'A New England Pantheon,' which Address was published by me in the year 1917, a copy of which accompanies this will."

The will further provides that if the City of Boston, after the acceptance of the bequest, does not complete the building in question within five years after the fund has amounted to $1,000,000, that the fund shall then revert to the city of Portland, Me., which city shall use the fund either for the establishment, founding and maintenance of a public, humane, charitable, educational or benevolent institution or institutions, or parks, within the city of Portland or for the maintenance of such public, humane, charitable, educational or benevolent institution or institutions, or parks, as are already founded and established, or for both said purposes.

UNDERGROUND RAPID TRANSIT IN BOSTON.

The Boston Transit Commission, consisting of five members, two appointed by the Governor and three by the Mayor, began its official existence July 1, 1894, and ended it July 1, 1918, after seven extensions of the original term. It has constructed, under the authority of Acts of the Legislature, the following subways and tunnels, the ownership of which is vested in the City of Boston, and all costs to be covered by revenue from same, not by taxation: Tremont Street Subway, opened September 1, 1897, costing with subsequent alterations, $4,416,000, the first municipal subway in the United States; East Boston Tunnel, under Boston Harbor and State street, opened December 30, 1904, costing $3,336,000; Washington Street Tunnel, opened November 30, 1908, costing $8,496,700 (including $2,850,000 land damages); Cambridge Connection Subway, opened March 23, 1912, costing $1,465,000; Boylston Street Subway, opened October 3, 1914, costing $5,327,000; East Boston Tunnel Extension, opened March 18, 1916, approximate cost, $2,450,000; Dorchester Tunnel, opened December 4, 1916, as far as South Station, on December 15, 1917, to Broadway, South Boston, and on June 29, 1918, to the Andrew Square terminal; amount borrowed to 1920 for the Dorchester tunnel, $10,750,000. Total cost, approximately, for all subways and tunnels, $36,000,000 (against which a sinking fund of about $5,600,000 has been accumulated from the revenue), payable mostly in 4¹/₂ years from date of each loan (loans since 1911 payable in 45 years), annual interest averaging 3.8 per cent. These underground ways (about 8.9 miles in all) were leased to the Boston Elevated Railway Company (which furnished the equipment) for term of 25 years (except Tremont street 20 years) at annual rental of 4¹/₂ to 4³/₄ per cent of net cost (except East Boston Tunnel which was at ³/₄ of one per cent of all annual gross receipts of said company). In accordance with Chapter 741, Acts of 1911, the various leases were extended to July 1, 1936, the rental to be 4¹/₂ per cent of net cost after expiration of the first-term leases.

By Chap. 185, Special Acts of 1918, the powers of the Transit Commission, whose term expired that year, were transferred to the Mayor, Commissioner of Public Works and City Treasurer, or such person or persons, not exceeding three, as the Mayor might appoint. By Chap. 3, Ordinances of 1918, the Transit Dept. was established as a regular City department, to be in charge of three commissioners.

Meters.

On August 24 to Worthington Pump and Machinery Corporation as per following communication:

Boston 9, August 19, 1921.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,

Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—Under date of July 28, 1921, this office requested approval of award to the Badger Meter Manufacturing Company for ten 3-inch meters at $98 each. It has been found that the Badger meter is not in accordance with the city specifications, and I therefore request that authority be given me to enter into a contract with the Worthington Pump and Machinery Corporation for ten 3-inch meters in accordance with City of Boston specifications at $110 each, the total amount of the contract being $1,100.

Respectfully yours,

G. J. CRONIN,
Superintendent of Supplies.

WITHOUT ADVERTISING.

The Mayor has approved the following contracts awarded without advertising; requests of heads of departments to do work with the department forces without advertising; additions to and deductions from contracts.

SCHOOLHOUSE DEPARTMENT.

Painting Eliot School.

On August 22 to A. D. Howlett Company as per following communication:

Boston 9, August 13, 1921.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,

Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—The bids on painting at the Eliot School, submitted to the Schoolhouse Commissioners and opened on August 9, were as follows:

Boston Painting Company, $2,638;* A. D. Howlett Company, $3,370; F. M. Rogers & Co., $3,465; Maurice M. Devine, $3,775; J. D. Henchey & Co., $3,830; James I. Wingate & Son, $4,200.

* Check not certified.

The Boston Painting Company was the lowest bidder, in the sum of $2,638. The check accompanying this bid, however, was not a certified check, and did not comply with the requirements of the specifications, which stipulate a certified check. For that reason the Board could not legally award the contract to them under this bid, and therefore voted to reject all bids.

The Board would have voted to request the approval of your Honor to awarding the contract to the Boston Painting Company under the provisions of chapter 486, section 30, of the Acts of 1909, but for the receipt of communication from them, copy of which we inclose herewith, in which they state they have not been able to secure a sufficient number of workmen to carry out the contract and have it completed on or before September 14 of this year, when the schools reopen after the summer vacation.

The Board has therefore voted to request the approval of your Honor to awarding the contract, without advertising, to the A. D. Howlett Company, in the sum of $3,370, this company having been the second lowest bidder, and this being the lowest price obtainable, the said award being made under the provisions of chapter 486, section 30, of the Acts of 1909.

Respectfully yours,
J. P. LOMASNEY,
Chairman.

Painting Sharp School.

On August 22 to the Boston Painting Company as per following communication:

Boston 9, August 13, 1921.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR.—The bids on painting at the Sharp School, submitted to the Schoolhouse Commissioners and opened August 9, were as follows:

Boston Painting Company, $990*; T. F. McGrath & Co., $1,258; A. D. Howlett Company, $1,690†; James I. Wingate & Son, $1,920; F. M. Rogers & Co., $1,947; Maurice M. Devine, $2,095; M. L. McDonald, $2,161; J. D. Henchey & Co., $2,640.

* Check not certified.
† Bid in auditor's office only.

As noted, the Boston Painting Company was the lowest bidder, in the sum of $990. The check accompanying this bid, however, was not a certified check, and did not comply with the requirements of the specifications, which stipulate a certified check. For that reason the Board could not legally award the contract to the Boston Painting Company under this bid, and therefore voted to reject all bids.

Inasmuch, however, as this was the lowest price obtainable, being $268 less than the second lowest bid, and as the Boston Painting Company has satisfactorily performed work for the department in the past, the Board has voted to request the approval of your Honor to awarding the contract, without advertising, to the Boston Painting Company, in the sum of $990, under the provisions of chapter 486, section 30, of the Acts of 1909.

Respectfully yours,
J. P. LOMASNEY,
Chairman.

OFFICIAL COMMUNICATIONS.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON 9, Mass., August 22, 1921.

To the Honorable the Mayor:

I hereby designate, with your approval, under authority of chapter 3, section 22, of the Revised Ordinances of 1914, Edward F. Murphy to act as Commissioner of Public Works, Acting Commissioner for Boston of the Boston and Cambridge Bridges and Acting Commissioner of the Transit Department at such times as I am absent during the four weeks beginning August 24.

Yours respectfully,

T. F. SULLIVAN,

Commissioner of Public Works.

DISPOSITION OF OLD FERRY-BOATS.

BOSTON 9, August 24, 1921.

To the Honorable the Mayor:

On August 22, after public advertisement, we received the following bids for the purchase of the ferryboats "D. D. Kelly" and "General Hancock":

"D. D. Kelly."—William S. Nolan, $302.50; William L. Miller Company, $310; John Hallett, $380.

"General Hancock."—William S. Nolan, $302.50; William L. Miller Company, $310; John Hallett, $380.

We carefully followed your instructions by mailing copies of the advertisement to all of the municipal and privately owned ferry lines mentioned in the Automobile Blue Book, as suggested by the Finance Commission, and in addition to this sent notices to a large number of shipbrokers as well as metal dealers.

It appears from the newspaper reports of the sale of Shipping Board boats that there is little demand for this kind of equipment at the present time.

In view of the fact that the equipment on the boats, such as life preservers, life rafts, life boats, etc., is worth more to the city than the bids received, I recommend that all bids be rejected and request your approval to remove from these boats any material that is salvagable and to dispose of the boats by private sale at the best price obtainable, in any event to be not less than the highest bid obtained by public advertisement.

These boats must be disposed of promptly as we will have no place available for them as soon as the "Noddle Island" and "Ralph Palumbo" have been delivered by the contractors.

Yours respectfully,

T. F. SULLIVAN,

Commissioner of Public Works.

Approved August 25, 1921.

ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

Respectfully yours,

T. F. SULLIVAN,

Commissioner of Public Works.

Ordered, That this Board, having passed the order of notice relating to the public improvement hereinafter described, and having caused a copy of said order to be published July 22 and 23, 1921, and July 25 and 26, 1921, in the Boston Globe and the Boston Transcript, two daily newspapers published in the City of Boston, and having given the public hearing, notice of which was given in said order, and being of the opinion that public convenience so requires, does hereby order the making, in said city of the public improvements, shown on a plan, marked "City of Boston, North Beacon Street, Brighton, December 16, 1918. OFFICIAL COMMUNICATIONS.

REPLY OF STATISTICS DEPARTMENT TO FINANCE COMMISSION.

BOSTON, August 18, 1921.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,
Mayor of Boston:

SIR,—The Statistics Department begs leave to submit what follows, viz., a review of ten erroneous statements of the Finance Commission, in their report on the said department dated November 9, 1918.

Their report was printed in the City Record of November 16, 1918, and reprinted (in connection with other reports) in the City Record of August 6, 1921, but through inadvertence our reply has never been printed.

It hardly seems necessary to set forth an elaborate argument supported by exhibits, documents, etc., although a goodly number of such can readily be supplied should your Honor desire them.

Accordingly, we bespeak your attention to certain of the commission's statements that seem to us so mistaken concerning the facts as to destroy the validity of the strictures and recommendations set forth in the report under consideration. We could easily point out other misstatements also, but brevity being desirable, the following ten cases cited should suffice.

Very respectfully,

EDWARD M. HARTWELL,
Secretary of Statistics Department.

ERRONEOUS STATEMENT No. 1, PAGE 3, FINANCE COMMISSION'S REPORT.

"The Monthly Bulletins were generally devoid of discussion and were confined to a presentation of tables, etc."

On the contrary, the Bulletin contained regularly from 6 to 12 pages of Appendix, consisting largely of special statistical studies, including considerable interpretative and explanatory texts on a variety of subjects, with the necessary tables. In the year 1903, for instance, there were 14 such articles, filling 23 large quarto pages; in 1907, these numbered 10, occupying 20 pages; in 1911, there were 32 pages devoted to such articles.

The very last article, Vol. 15, 1913 of the Bulletin of the Statistics Department was entitled: "Apportionment of Members of the Legislature 1857-1906". It comprised 3½ pages of text and tables and an insert. Much of the text is of an explanatory and descriptive nature. The article was prepared at the special request of the Chairman of the Board of Election Commissioners and was used by him and Mr. John A. Sullivan, Corporation Counsel, in hearings when the question of ward divisions and apportionment of senators and representatives from Boston was under discussion, in the Legislature.

Some of these Appendix articles were of notable historical value, such as: Referenda in Massachusetts and Boston; Public Markets in Boston; The Growth of Boston in Population, Area, etc.; Ward Divisions, Their Origin and Development; Statistical Exhibit of All Incorporated Charitable Institutions in Boston; Banks and Banking, Industries, Wealth, etc., in New England and Boston, and Comparative Statistics of New England, Massachusetts and Boston.

"No attempt has been made to render the annual reports attractive by..... new features."

From the beginning these annual reports were intended to be brief. The regular publications spoke for themselves and only short summaries of their contents seemed necessary. The other work consisted of a multitude of details in research, answering inquiries, etc., and it was deemed unnecessary to make an itemized record of it all.

In our annual reports for 1899, 1900 and 1901 tables setting forth a complete analysis of the cost of publication of the City Record were presented. Early in 1901 the City Record was discontinued because Mayor Hart's plan for making it self-supporting was turned down by the Legislature. The commission ignores the fact that ever since 1904 the annual report has contained certain tables not to be found elsewhere, viz.: tables showing by ten and five-year periods the total and average expenditures for the three leading objects of expenditure,—i.e. debt, schools and streets.

In 1915 and succeeding years the annual report did contain three new subjects of some importance, which were covered by this department alone, viz.: "The Segregation of Special Appropriations out of Tax Levy and General Income"; "Segregation of Sources of Income" and "Segregation of Transfers from Reserve Fund."

The commission states that all the annual reports were read by it. Why did it omit to mention these three noteworthy reviews occupying three pages in each of the last four annual reports?

ERRONEOUS STATEMENT No. 3, PAGE 5.

The Monthly Bulletin and annual Special Publications were discontinued in 1914 (not 1915-16) only because the necessary appropriation for printing (about $3,000) was not allowed by Mayor Curley. The latter plainly intended to suppress these publications, never comprehending their value.

It is untrue and absurd to say that these useful publications were voluntarily discontinued by the department. The appropriation in 1914 was $7,500, i.e., $3,000 less than in preceding years. The commission cites the 1915 appropriation, which does not apply to the above case. The increase to $10,000 in the latter year was for another purpose than the publications above mentioned. Here, then, is a double misstatement by the commission.

ERRONEOUS STATEMENT No. 4, PAGE 6.

It was not in any way the business of this department to investigate and report as to waste and inefficiency in other municipal departments. Nothing of the kind was mentioned in the Ordinance establishing the department in 1897, nor in any vote or resolution of either branch of the City Council, or request of the Mayor. Our Special Publications in every year did show by analyses of expenditures all increases in the same, as well as loans. They alone also explicitly showed "Surplus" or "Deficit" in the actual expenditures of each department. Nobody examining these could help knowing the facts. They were fully set forth in 5-year comparative tables.

The charge of failure to do what was entirely outside our jurisdiction thus refutes itself.

ERRONEOUS STATEMENT, No. 5, PAGE 7.

It is charged that the department was delinquent in not answering inquiries for information directly instead of transmitting its answers to the department which received the letters of inquiry in the first place, and asked the Statistics Department to furnish them with material for reply. This concerns the Mayor's Office, for which hundreds of such letters have been answered precisely in the manner ordered, viz.: "Return Answer, with Letter, to this Office." Occasionally, in matters of lesser importance the instructions, from the Mayor's Office were "Answer Direct". This was invariably done in all cases. What a waste of time was involved in laboriously framing such an empty charge as this!

ERRONEOUS STATEMENT, No. 6, PAGE 8.

The statement that this department publishes a pamphlet, "Organization of the City Government," is altogether inaccurate, the said publication having been wholly in charge of the Clerk of Committees of the City Council for many years. By his request, since 1909, this department has supplied each year an increasingly extensive and valuable collection of up-to-date Boston statistics in concise paragraphs for inclusion in the document. In the year, 1918, there were 44 pages of this information involving an immense amount of research work and painstaking verification. If the commission thinks that there exists any municipal publication of any American city that approaches our "Boston Statistics" in completeness of detailed facts that intelligent citizens like to know, let them point it out. In order to have the data from which to compile this annual statistical survey, ever increasing in scope, our continued work on the collection and assembling of the material month by month is as necessary as when the Bulletin and Special Publications were issued.

ERRONEOUS STATEMENT No. 7, PAGE 8.

The commission says that the Municipal Register for 1917 contains 178 pages of data which can be found in the various departmental reports. The fact is, on the contrary, that there are 20 pages (out of the 178) viz.: between pages 248 and 290, not to be found in any department report, largely population statistics. In 15 pages of election statistics, viz.: from pages 293 to 302 inclusive and between 312 and 321, the figures of the Election Department were supplemented by many columns of original computations, showing, by wards, the majorities, pluralities and percentages which add much to the statistical value of the tables. Furthermore, the financial tables from pages 262 to 277 were all more comprehensive and informing than in any department report. Any capable observer of the Municipal Register's make-up and contents from year to year will notice steady improvement and an increasing number of valuable items of information on many of its pages. The numerous citations of statutes and ordinances pertaining to the different departments in chronological order—44 such for the School Committee alone—make an extremely valuable feature of the book which the former Chairman of the Finance Commission, (Mr. John A. Sullivan) was particular to acknowledge, while stating that he used the volume constantly. The Municipal Register first appeared in 1841, not 1821 as stated on Page 1 of said report.

ERRONEOUS STATEMENT No. 8, PAGE 4.

The Commission says: "It was due to the unattractiveness of the make-up of the bulletins, publications, etc., that the Statistics Department did not receive the support of the City Government or of the public."

To those who care little or nothing for tables of statistics, there is no such thing as attractive statistics, of course. The same is true of any investigation wherein it is necessary to assemble figures in order to show certain facts. The honest inquirer wants the facts, set forth in lucid form, that being attractiveness enough for him. This department prides itself on having invariably done just that in all its work, everything having been planned with such purpose in view. If there ever was a perfectly clear and readable statistical publication issued in this country, our annual special publications in quarto form on receipts and expenditures, covering the 21 years 1892-1912, fulfils that description. It was and is absolutely the only satisfactory analysis of Boston's financial transactions in existence, i. e. for the period stated, and No. 5 of the series contained summary tables covering the thirty years from 1870 to 1900. Statistical men all over the country, professors, librarians, municipal officials and students have this series of publications and value them. Various statistical libraries in European cities also have them. Mayor Hart, throughout his second administration (i. e. 1900-1901) was especially appreciative of this special publication, because in its pages alone could he find what the actual ordinary and extraordinary expenditures separately were in any year, and the items which constituted them, apart from various bookkeeping or temporary accounts and trust-fund items amounting to $6,000,000 to $10,000,000, always included in the auditor's tables which only an expert could analyze. The same conditions exist today and we challenge the Finance Commission to state accurately the ordinary expenditures of this City for any year, or the amount expended from tax levy for public improvements, with the proviso that they ignore the work of this department and confine themselves to the reports of other departments. The financial tables contained in Appendix "B" of the Special Publications were identical with the "Uniform System" of the National Municipal League and the Secretary of this department had a prominent part in devising them. The United States Census Bureau in 1902 adopted for use in their statistical publication, "Financial Statistics of Cities," substantially the same classification and rubrics, also the quarto form as used by this department. In 1903 the Chicago Statistics Department (not now in existence) adopted the arrangement that the Boston Statistics Dept. had originated. Imitation is the best of praise.

No mayor relied on this department and called for its assistance early and late concerning a great variety of subjects as did Mayor Fitzgerald. Working over-time during his two administrations was frequent and the faithful men who kept him fully informed never asked for any extra compensation.

Mayor Curley came into office with scant consideration for the department. On finding out its capabilities he availed himself of many important services therefrom, thus reversing his former unfriendly attitude which was due to personal antipathy toward a former chairman of the Statistics Trustees.

Mayor Curley showed his confidence in this department in various ways, perhaps most notably in naming its Secretary as chairman of the commission to prepare and publish "Boston and Its Story, 1630-1915." The preparation of the copy for the press of that volume of 200 pages (which contains much condensed statistical material not to be found elsewhere), devolved on Dr. Hartwell as did the labor of seeing it through the press.

It may be noted in passing that the School Committee has adopted "Boston and Its Story" as a text-book, and has also placed "Boston Statistics" and the "Municipal Register" on its list of books to be used in the study of local history and civics.

The statement that this department has not received the support of the City Government or of the public is refuted by the facts in our possession, but not in theirs, because they never ascertained them.

ERRONEOUS STATEMENT, No. 9, PAGE 12.

The commission states that the transfer to this department of the subscriptions and accounts of the City Record has not been of financial benefit to the City.

This statement is not in accord with the facts. In the calendar year, 1916, the amount received by this department for City Record subscriptions was $1,167, or 54% more than in 1915, when the business was attended to in the Mayor's office. That increase of receipts was due to more persistent effort and more time spent in collecting dues and soliciting subscriptions than had before been attempted. Early in 1917 this department succeeded in obtaining from the Postmaster General's office the privilege of the second-class-matter rate of one cent per pound on all copies sent by mail to regular subscribers. All other requests for this privilege had been denied, and every copy of the City Record sent by mail had to carry a one-cent or two-cent postage stamp, involving a yearly postage bill of some $800. The saving thus effected is about $700 a year. The total expenditures of the City Record for 1917 were $1,131.66 less than in 1916 and $2,710 less than in 1915, largely due to this department's endeavors.

The fact that the number of mail subscribers was 120 less in 1918 than in 1914 simply shows that this department attended to its business by stopping a lot of unpaid subscriptions that should not have been on the list when it was placed in our hands.

ERRONEOUS STATEMENT, No. 10, PAGE 4.

The commission ventures to indulge in this bit of fiction: "Even the department itself feels the lack of interest in its reports, for here and there one finds an apology for the lateness of publications of the Municipal Register, and statements that to do good work more revenue is needed."

Nobody connected with this department was ever so undignified as to speak or write the last eight words above quoted. The men are interested in their work, holding their positions for years, and having a high sense of loyalty to the City of Boston. They have always been assiduous in getting at and bringing to view those sub-surface facts of our complex municipal life which many intelligent citizens desire to know. These can hardly do so without the aid of statistical experts, unless they have themselves developed a scent for such hidden values and have time enough to delve for them.

Concerning the "apology," said to have been found in our annual reports, for lateness in the issuance of the Municipal Register, there is nothing that can fairly be called such. If any quibbler insists on calling an explanation an apology, it should be added that the "apology" was not for this department, but in behalf of the department responsible for the mechanical work on the book.

The commission admits rather grudgingly in its report, this: "It is difficult to appraise the value of the department without an intimate knowledge of its past work". Failing to obtain that intimate knowledge, its appraisal is mostly based upon fallacious assumptions and hypotheses.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN KOREN,
Chairman, Statistics Department
Trustees.

SEWER WORKS.

The Commissioner of Public Works states that it is his intention:

To construct a surface drain 3-foot by 2-foot 6-inch circular concrete, 10-inch, 12-inch, 15-inch, and 18-inch earthen pipe; a sanitary sewer of 8-inch, 10-inch and 12-inch earthen pipe, and 20 basins in Bellevue street, between Howitt road and Robin street, in the West Roxbury district, and that he estimates that the cost thereof will be nineteen thousand six hundred (19,600) dollars.

BOSTON'S TRUST FUNDS AND BEQUESTS

Number of permanent funds and bequests held by the City, Feb. 1, 1920, for various purposes, 127, representing a total value of $9,686,171. The earliest dates back to 1674, viz., Gibson School Fund. The largest fund is the bequest of the late George F. Parkman, consisting of various parcels of real estate (now mostly sold) valued at $5,000,000 to $6,000,000 the income from which (about $197,500 annually) is used for the upkeep and improvement of the older parks. UNDERGROUND RAPID TRANSIT IN BOSTON.

The Boston Transit Commission, consisting of five members, two appointed by the Governor and three by the Mayor, began its official existence July 1, 1894, and ended it July 1, 1918, after seven extensions of the original term. It has constructed, under the authority of Acts of the Legislature, the following subways and tunnels, the ownership of which is vested in the City of Boston, and all costs to be covered by revenue from same, not by taxation: Tremont Street Subway, opened September 1, 1897, costing with subsequent alterations, \$4,416,000, the first municipal subway in the United States; East Boston Tunnel, under Boston Harbor and State street, opened December 30, 1904, costing \$3,336,000; Washington Street Tunnel, opened November 30, 1908, costing \$8,496,700 (including \$2,850,000 land damages); Cambridge Connection Subway, opened March 23, 1912, costing \$1,465,000; Boylston Street Subway, opened October 3, 1914, costing \$5,327,000; East Boston Tunnel Extension, opened March 18, 1916, approximate cost, \$2,450,000; Dorchester Tunnel, opened December 4, 1916, as far as South Station, on December 15, 1917, to Broadway, South Boston, and on June 29, 1918, to the Andrew Square terminal; amount borrowed to 1920 for the Dorchester tunnel, \$10,750,000. Total cost, approximately, for all subways and tunnels, \$36,000,000 (against which a sinking fund of about \$5,600,000 has been accumulated from the revenue), payable mostly in 49 years from date of each loan (loans since 1911 payable in 45 years), annual interest averaging 3.8 per cent. These underground ways (about 8.9 miles in all) were leased to the Boston Elevated Railway Company (which furnished the equipment) for term of 25 years (except Tremont street 20 years) at annual rental of $4\frac{1}{2}$ to $4\frac{3}{4}$ per cent of net cost (except East Boston Tunnel which was at $\frac{3}{4}$ of one per cent of all annual gross receipts of said company). In accordance with Chapter 741, Acts of 1911, the various leases were extended to July 1, 1936, the rental to be $\frac{4}{3}$ per cent of net cost after expiration of the first-term leases.

By Chap. 185, Special Acts of 1918, the powers of the Transit Commission, whose term expired that year, were transferred to the Mayor, Commissioner of Public Works and City Treasurer, or such person or persons, not exceeding three, as the Mayor might appoint. By Chap. 3, Ordinances of 1918, the Transit Dept. was established as a regular City department, to be in charge of three commissioners.

SPEED LIMIT, HARVARD BRIDGE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, August 2, 1921.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—There have been a number of complaints from persons living in the vicinity of Harvard Bridge about the noise made by vehicles crossing this structure. It is the opinion of the Boston and Cambridge Bridge Commission that this situation can be corrected if the speed on the bridge is limited to fifteen miles per hour, and it is also the belief of the commission that for the best interest of the bridge itself the speed of vehicles should be so limited.

On June 23 of this year the Boston and Cambridge Bridge Commission passed the following vote:

"Voted, That a speed limit of fifteen miles an hour for vehicles crossing Harvard Bridge be fixed, and that the police authorities of the cities of Boston and Cambridge be directed to enforce this rule."

This, however, is not effective unless an appropriate order is passed by the City Council. Such an order I am herewith transmitting, with the recommendation that it be passed immediately as the situation is one which should not be allowed to continue without this corrective measure.

Respectfully yours,
ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

City of Boston.

In the year nineteen hundred and twenty-one. An Ordinance Relative to Speed of Motor Vehicles on Harvard Bridge.

Be it ordained by the City Council of Boston, as follows:

Section 1. No person having the control of the speed of a motor vehicle shall drive such vehicle or allow it to be driven at a rate of speed exceeding fifteen miles an hour over any portion of Harvard bridge located within the limits of the city of Boston.

Sec. 2. Any person, firm or corporation violating this ordinance shall be punished by a fine not exceeding twenty dollars for each offense.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

TRANSFER FOR INSTITUTIONS DEPARTMENT.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, August 2, 1921.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I am transmitting herewith a communication from the Institutions Department requesting a transfer within the appropriation for the steamers "Monitor" and "George A. Hibbard," and I respectfully recommend the passage of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,
ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

City of Boston,

Institutions Department, August 1, 1921.

Hon. Andrew J. Peters,

Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—I respectfully ask that transfer of funds be allowed as follows to provide for payment of pension to Humphrey Donovan, watchman on the steamer "Monitor," at the rate of $30 per month from August 1, 1921.

Steamers "Monitor" and "George A. Hibbard."

From the appropriation for D-3, Fuel, $150, to the appropriation for F-7, Pensions and Annuities, $150.

The Retirement Board voted to allow the pension referred to above at a meeting held on July 13.

Respectfully,
THOMAS C. O'BRIEN,
Commissioner.

Ordered, That under authority of chapter 261 of the Acts of 1893 the City Auditor be and hereby is authorized to make the following transfer in the appropriations for Steamers "Monitor" and "George A. Hibbard."

From the appropriation for D-3, Fuel, $150, to the appropriation for F-7, Pensions and Annuities, $150.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

ADDITIONAL APPROPRIATIONS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, August 2, 1921.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I am transmitting herewith requests for additional appropriations for the auditor's office and City Planning Board, and respectfully recommend the passage of the accompanying orders.

Respectfully,

ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

City of Boston,

Auditing Department, August 1, 1921.

Hon. Andrew J. Peters,

Mayor of Boston:

Sir,—The amount granted this department for expert service for the year was $5,000, the same as has been granted in previous years. The cost of examining the Treasury Department in other years has been less than $1,000, but this year, owing to the defalcation and other irregularities discovered, it was necessary to make special investigations extending over a longer period, the expense of which has exceeded the total appropriation for the year. The expenses incurred for the examination of other departments to date amounts to $2,041.50. The bill of Stewart, Watts & Bollong for their examination of the Treasury Department amounts to $5,698.75, making the total expenditure incurred to date of $7,740.25, leaving a deficit of $2,740.25 to be provided for.

In order that I can proceed with the examination of other departments and to make good the deficit now existing, it will be necessary to have a transfer of $5,000 to Auditing Department, B-28.

Respectfully submitted,

J. ALFRED MITCHELL,
City Auditor.

City Planning Board,

Boston, July 22, 1921.

Hon. Andrew J. Peters,

Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—In making out our estimates of expenditures for 1921, we requested $1,000 for temporary employees under item A-2. This amount was reduced by your Honor to $750, but we were later authorized by the Budget Commissioner, after our hearing before the City Council, to proceed on the basis of our original request, $1,000, and that the remaining $250 would be transferred from the Reserve Fund or some other source when needed.

Our appropriation of $750 under this item will be practically exhausted the first week in August. We are using this money for the services of our assistant investigator, a man who is particularly qualified in every way for the work of the department. He graduated from Harvard, A. B., in 1916, and after two years in engineering work for the Government took a course in landscape architecture and city planning at Harvard University, graduating with a degree of M. L. A. in June, 1921.

The additional $250 promised us under A-2 will enable us to continue his services on the basis of $30 per week, until the middle of October. To be deprived of his services at that time would be a distinct loss to the department. We have a variety of city planning studies under way in connection with which his ability as assistant investigator, and as a draftsman are particularly valuable. Not only are his services actually needed, but if compelled to sever his connection with this office in October, he would without doubt form other and permanent associations which would preclude any future relations with him. We have always found it extremely difficult to locate men possessing the necessary qualifications for the work of this office, combining as it does among other things a knowledge of architecture, landscape architecture, engineering and economics.

In order to provide for the services of this assistant investigator to the end of the fiscal year, an additional appropriation of $735 is needed. Of this amount $250 has been already promised, so that the actual additional appropriation would be only $485, which I earnestly hope your Honor can see your way clear to approve.

In May, 1920, a special appropriation of $2,000 was authorized to be expended by this Board in connection with an investigation of housing conditions. Of this amount $626.16 remains unexpended, and we have been in hopes that in some way this money might be made available for our use, particularly since housing conditions are one of the chief concerns of this Board. We are advised by the City Auditor, however, that this balance cannot be utilized by us.

I have written at length in order to impress upon you what appears to us to be the necessities in the case, and once more I repeat that I trust your Honor can see your way clear to recommend to the City Council an additional appropriation for this Board of not only the $250, which we were assured would be available, but an additional $485 (a total of $735) in order that we may continue without interruption the services of our assistant investigator.

Respectfully yours,

R. A. CRAM, Chairman.

Ordered, That under authority of chapter 261 of the Acts of 1893, the City Auditor be and hereby is authorized to transfer:

From the appropriation for Reserve Fund, $5,000, to the appropriation for Auditing Department, B-28, Expert and Architect, $5,000.

Ordered, That under authority of chapter 261 of the Acts of 1893, the City Auditor be and hereby is authorized to transfer:

From the appropriation for Reserve Fund, $735, to the appropriation for City Planning Board, A-2, Temporary Employees, Assistant Investigators, etc., $735.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT TRANSFERS.

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, August 10, 1921.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I am transmitting herewith communications from the Commissioner of Public Works requesting transfers within the appropriations for the Paving Service and Water Service, and I respectfully recommend the passage of the accompanying orders.

Respectfully,

ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

City of Boston,

Public Works Department,
August 9, 1921.

To the Honorable the Mayor:

I respectfully request that the following transfers be made in items of the appropriation for the Paving Service:

From the appropriation for A-1, Permanent Employees, Laborers, Stablemen, Teamsters, etc., 45¢ at $4 per day, $3,300, to the appropriation for B-22, Medical, $300; B-39, General Plant, $1,000; F-11, Workingmen's Compensation, $2,000.

The reasons for these transfers follow:

B-22. To meet unexpected cost of operation, hospital and doctor's bills, etc., of an employee injured on February 21, 1921.

B-39. To cover expense of reshingling building at the Hyde Park Paving Yard, not anticipated when the budget was submitted.

F-11. The amount appropriated for this item is already spent, and to meet anticipated requirements for the balance of the year $2,000 is needed. One man who lost his eye will be paid for the year about $1,000. It is impossible to estimate, at the beginning of the year, the amount required for this item.

Yours respectfully,

T. F. SULLIVAN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

City of Boston,

Public Works Department,
August 9, 1921.

To the Honorable the Mayor:

Approval is respectfully requested for the following transfers in the appropriation of the Water Division:

From appropriation for E-6, Materials, $46, to the appropriation for B-22, Medical, $48; from the appropriation for E-6, Materials, $10,000, to the appropriation for B-42, Repairing Streets, $10,000; from the appropriation for F-12, Contracts, $2,000, to the appropriation for F-11, Workingmen's Compensation, $2,000.

The reasons for these transfers follow:

B-22. No appropriation in budget for this item. Necessity caused by the fact that one employee who was injured selected his own physician.

B-42. The expenditure on guaranteed streets has been very large. Owing to a falling market between the time when the budget was submitted and contracts were made there has been a saving of approximately $15,000 in Budget Item E-6. The transfer requested can be used to advantage.

F-11. Deficit in this item, $134.39. Caused by an unanticipated number of injured men, four of whom still remain on the list.

Very respectfully,

T. F. SULLIVAN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Ordered, That under authority of chapter 261 of the Acts of 1893, the City Auditor be and hereby is authorized to make the following transfers in the appropriations for Public Works Department, Paving Service:

From the appropriation for A-1, Permanent Employees, Laborers, Stablemen, Teamsters, etc., 45¢ at $4 per day, $3,300, to the appropriation for B-22, Medical, $300; B-39, General Plant, $1,000; F-11, Workingmen's Compensation, $2,000.

Ordered, That under authority of chapter 261 of the Acts of 1893, the City Auditor be and hereby is authorized to make the following transfers in the appropriations for Public Works Department, Water Service:

From the appropriation for E-6, Water, $10,046, to the appropriation for B-22, Medical, $46; B-42, Repairing Streets, etc., $10,000; from the appropriation for F-12, Contracts for Construction where Money is Derived from Taxes as per Schedule B, Replacement of Mains, $2,000, to the appropriation for F-11, Workingmen's Compensation, $2,000.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

SALE OF FERRYBOATS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, August 1, 1921.
To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I am herewith transmitting a communication from the Commissioner of Public Works relative to authority to sell the ferryboats "D. D. Kelly" and the "General Hancock."

I recommend that the City Council immediately pass the accompanying order, for delay in its passage will involve the Public Works Department in unnecessary storage and towing charges.

Respectfully yours,

ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Public Works Department,
July 11, 1921.

To the Honorable the Mayor:

In the near future we will receive the two new steel ferryboats "Lieutenant Flaherty" and "Ralph J. Palumbo" and the rebuilt ferryboat "Noddle Island," and the Ferry Service will then have nine boats. Seven boats are all that the department requires for operation and emergency and this leaves two additional boats with no provision for docking them.

I therefore recommend that permission be asked of the City Council to sell the "D. D. Kelly," which was built in 1879, and the "General Hancock," which was built in 1887, at public auction or any other way that might be suggested.

Respectfully yours,

T. F. SULLIVAN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be authorized to sell the ferryboats "D. D. Kelly" and "General Hancock" by competitive bids, the proceeds of the sale to be paid to the Board of Commissioners of Sinking Funds and used by them to cancel any debt issued for ferry purposes.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

REMOVAL OF PARK RESTRICTIONS.

The Council proceeded to take up unfinished business, No. 6, viz.:

6. Ordered, That the Park Department Commissioners, with the approval of the Mayor and by an instrument or instruments satisfactory to the Law Department, may in the name and behalf of the city modify and amend the restrictions contained in a deed given by Jacob W. Seaver et al., to the City of Boston, dated June 10, 1895, and recorded with Suffolk Deeds, Lib. 2287, page 374, by altering paragraph three of said restrictions, so that it shall read: No building shall be erected or placed upon said premises within 15 feet from the exterior line of said park.

On July 27, 1921, the foregoing order was read once and passed, yeas 8, nays 0.

Coun. DONOGHUE—Mr. President, I would ask that No. 6 on the calendar be referred to the Executive Committee. I would like a little information on it. Changing the restrictions does not mean anything to me at present.

Chairman WATSON—Coun. Collins may perhaps explain that to us.

Coun. COLLINS—Mr. President, the councillor asked me the question as I passed his chair a few minutes ago. There is a statute which prohibits a building within a certain distance of the park line. This courthouse which is to be erected in the West Roxbury section of the city provides, in the plans prepared by the architect and approved by the Park Department, for the construction of a building within that restricted area. This removal of the restrictions to build the courthouse is suggested and not a general removal of restrictions, and it being a public building and not an apartment house, and being doubtless a building of good design, no harm can be done by removing the restrictions.

The restriction is to keep the distance 100 feet back of the park line beautiful and unmarked by unsightly buildings. It was therefore deemed wise to ask for the removal of the restriction.

Chairman WATSON—The councillor is approximately correct.

Coun. BRICKLEY—Mr. President, I don't understand it that way from the way the order reads. I should understand, from the way I read it, that Jacob W. Seaver, when he left that property to the City of Boston, left it with the restriction that no building be built upon it. It expressly says "modify and amend the restrictions contained in a deed given by Jacob W. Seaver et al. to the City of Boston." I should say this says Mr. Seaver left this piece of property to the city, with some restrictions on it, and I believe the restrictions that he left in his will that it be used for park purposes. In so far as the 100 feet, I believe that is a park regulation and has to be approved by both the Park Department and the Council.

Chairman WATSON—For the information of the Council, I will state that property was purchased by the city from the Seaver estate. The land was not left by Seaver to the city; it was bought from the Seaver heirs, but in order that it be cleared up, I will refer it to the Executive Committee.

No. 6 was referred to the Executive Committee.

WILLIAM B. CORBETT PARK.

COLLINS offered an order that the Board of Park Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to name the public park located on Washington street, Dorchester, at the junction of Dakota and Claybourne streets, Lieut. EXTENSION OF MISSION HILL PLAYGROUND.

Coun. DONOGHUE offered an order—That his Honor the Mayor be requested to consider the advisability of extending the Mission Hill Playground from its present line to Faxon street.

Coun. DONOGHUE—Mr. President, I think that the Mission Hill Playground should be extended from the present line to Faxon street. I simply want to say that it has come to my attention that the space in the playground is too small for any fair-sized boys to play ball in. Possibly the playground was not originally intended for children to play ball in, but I think any of these playgrounds should have a suitable space for the youths of the district to play ball, and I would like to see the playground extended to Faxon street and I think they would have sufficient room for at least one fair-sized diamond in the playground.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

9. Report on petition of H. Angus Connors (referred today) for permit to sell, rent or lease firearms at 99 Massachusetts avenue, Ward 8—that permit be granted.

Report accepted, license granted on the usual conditions.

Later in the session Coun. MORIARTY moved to reconsider the vote accepting the committee's report and granting a license.

The question came on reconsideration.

Coun. MORIARTY—Mr. President, I think it would be very inconsistent if I were to sit here and allow that to go through without my protest. I think that after the incident that happened on Saturday night on Hanover street, if the newspaper reports are anyway true, that a man in the condition of the one who did the act on Hanover street, going into a pawnshop and getting a gun and buying cartridges in the same place, and before he got ten feet from the pawnshop committing the deed that was committed by taking from our midst Officer Cuneo and leaving a wife and nine children, and I think that this Council, if it had refused to grant permission to the pawnbrokers of Boston to sell firearms, that then nine children would not be without a father today. And I say to this Council that I believe that any man with good sense or judgment, if a man went in to buy firearms as this man did on Saturday night, that if he had had an ounce of judgment, would have realized the condition of the man when he went there trying to buy firearms. But what do they care for death? What do they care for the wife and nine children that are left fatherless as long as they would get their dollars for their firearms? I think that it is a lesson. I think that it is a lesson for every man holding public office to be a little more careful in what he hands out to people that are irresponsible persons to sell firearms to take the life of our citizens and to leave fatherless children in our midst.

You read the story as well as I did, that the mother told the newspapers that if the public did not give her assistance it will not only leave these children fatherless but it will leave them homeless, and the family that was but yesterday a father and mother and nine children will be scattered about, taken into homes where they will not get the protection that they rightfully deserve.

Under those conditions I believe we should start now, no matter if we made a mistake before in granting forty or fifty licenses. I believe we ought to turn this one down and not only not allow the pawnbrokers to sell firearms, but I think we ought to stop the sale of every firearm, no matter what concern may sell them.

One of my brother councilors criticised me for saying that I would allow Iver Johnson, and Reade, and some of the large stores to sell firearms. I am satisfied that not a firearm should be allowed to be sold in our city, though it may be, as the Corporation Counsel says, that if we had a law we could not enforce it. The only way we could do is not to grant the permit to sell them, and then they would not have the right to sell them and they would be violating that same law. I believe that this Council should go on record that we will not grant this one and we will not grant any more licenses to sell firearms within our city.

The motion to reconsider was declared lost. Coun. MORIARTY doubted the vote and while the Chair was solving the doubt raised the point of order that a quorum was not present. After a conference with the Chair the point of order was withdrawn, and the motion to reconsider was declared carried.

The matter was then laid on the table on motion of Coun. MORIARTY.

FRED W. ISBISTER SQUARE.

Coun. MORIARTY, for Coun. McLAUGHLIN, offered an order—That the open space at the junction of Dudley street and Harrison avenue be named and hereafter known as Fred W. Isbister square, in honor of Fred W. Isbister who lost his life in the service of the United States in the World War.

RATE OF SPEED, STRANDWAY.

Coun. MORIARTY offered an order—That the Board of Park Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to adopt a rule or regulation providing that vehicles on the Strandway, between Columbia Road Bridge and the Castle Island Bridge, be limited to a speed of not more than ten miles per hour.

Coun. MORIARTY—Mr. President, I will say my reason for introducing that order is that the city has spent a considerable amount of money on the Strandway from Columbia Road Bridge to Castle Island Bridge, and I suppose there is not a spot within the confines of our city where there are as many children crossing a parkway as on that parkway in the place designated. I will say that some machines are going through there at thirty, forty and fifty miles an hour. We have had many accidents over there this summer. We have a motor policeman over there and they have many convictions, but I believe if the speed limit is cut down to ten miles an hour between these two points we will save many children in that district from being maimed and some from being killed. I believe it is the duty of the Park Department to limit the speed in that space to even less than ten miles an hour. I may say I drive there quite often and perhaps even I forget myself, and I believe if there are some signs put up there that the speed limit will be kept down.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

CAR SERVICE, HYDE PARK.

BOSTON 9, August 30, 1921.

MR. HOMER LORING, Chairman,
Board of Trustees of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Company:

DEAR SIR,—I again desire to bring to your attention the great inconvenience caused the residents of the Hyde Park district because of the lack of street railway service on the West River street line running from Cleary square to Dedham, and fully appreciating the long-continued burdensome double fare to Boston, I respectfully request that your Board take some action toward restoring service on the West River street line and also make some arrangement for the reduction of fares.

Kindly let me hear what you feel you can do consistent with your duty to your trust toward in any way relieving the existing street railway situation in the Hyde Park district.

Very truly yours,

ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

CASH DISCOUNTS ON CITY BILLS.

The City of Boston, according to the figures of the Auditing Department, has saved $5,043.76 since March 1, 1921, by taking advantage of cash discounts.

In February the Mayor undertook to get for the city the saving possible through cash payments where this was feasible. By speeding up presentation of accounts a good showing has been made for these six months. The figures, month by month, are: March, $717.76; April, $414.76; May, $577.70; June, $1,254.05; July, $674.07; August, $1,104.92. Total, $5,043.76.

With further use of the cash payment system the saving possible to the city ought considerably to exceed $10,000 for the year. It is believed that even larger savings are possible eventually.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, August 20, 1921.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—Timothy A. Connolly, clerk, who is a veteran of the World War, has been sick more than thirty days. He is at present at the Naval Hospital and will probably not report for duty before September 1, 1921. From information received I believe it is fair to assume that his sickness is the result of his service during the war.

With your approval I will continue him as absent without loss of pay.

Yours very truly,

PETER E. WALSH,
Acting Fire Commissioner.

Boston, September 2, 1921.

To the Mayor of Boston:

Permission to award a contract for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets, without advertising, to Samuel Goldberg, 75 Bromley street, Roxbury, is hereby requested on the ground that this contractor is not

Respectfully yours,

E. F. MURPHY,

Acting Commissioner of Public Works.

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON 9, September 8, 1921.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—Subject to your Honor's approval, I have designated Charles E. Thornton, chief clerk of this department, to act as Superintendent of Supplies during the time I may be absent from this office for the next four weeks, commencing September 10, 1921.

Yours very respectfully,

G. J. CRONIN,
Superintendent of Supplies.

Approved September 8, 1921.

ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

HEALTH DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, September 7, 1921.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—I have the honor to request your Honor's approval of making a contract for the installation of a new boiler in the Health Unit, 17 Blossom street, at an estimated cost of nine hundred eighty dollars ($980).

The estimate of the cost of the proposed installation is based on an offer submitted by J. P. Dwyer Company, 183 Harrison avenue, Boston, under date of August 3, 1921, in response to an inquiry of this department, to do the work for the amount stated. In view of the closeness with which the amount of the bid approximates the charter limit of $1,000 for the making of contracts without advertisement, and in view of the fact that one other party, Walker & Pratt Manufacturing Company, 31-35 Union street, Boston, offered to do the work for eleven hundred ninety-five dollars ($1,195), which is $195 dollars in excess of the charter limit, I have deemed it best to submit this matter to you for approval before proceeding.

Were it not for the approach of cold weather I would in any event proceed to obtain bids by advertisement, but the delay incident to that procedure would render it not unlikely that the work would not be completed until cold weather arrived. Another reason for desiring immediate action with respect to this matter is to be found in the fact that both of the bidders mentioned above have notified the Health Department that unless they are able to place orders for the necessary boilers today the price of the boiler will be increased by 10 per cent because of the increase in the price by the manufacturers of the boilers, with consequent increase in the cost to the city.

This entire matter would have been taken up at an earlier date had not the Health Department hoped to be able to continue the use of the present boiler through the making of adequate repairs. An examination of the present boiler, however, by the state boiler inspector on July 26, 1921, brought forth the following comment: "Owing to the continual wasting away of the shell of this boiler due to the damp locality in which it is situated, and its age, and this year's expenditures in placing it in good condition, I would advise that you take into consideration the installing of a new boiler, as the present boiler will not be good for many more seasons."

For the reasons stated it is deemed best that a new boiler be installed at the present time and in the interest of economy and dispatch I believe that the best interests of the city require that the department proceed on the lower estimate that has been obtained for the doing of this work which is attached herewith.

Respectfully,

WM. C. WOODWARD,
Health Commissioner.

Approved September 7, 1921.

ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

UNDERGROUND RAPID TRANSIT IN BOSTON.

The Boston Transit Commission, consisting of five members, two appointed by the Governor and three by the Mayor, began its official existence July 1, 1894, and ended it July 1, 1918, after seven extensions of the original term. It has constructed, under the authority of Acts of the Legislature, the following subways and tunnels, the ownership of which is vested in the City of Boston, and all costs to be covered by revenue from same, not by taxation: Tremont Street Subway, opened September 1, 1897, costing with subsequent alterations, \$4,416,000, the first municipal subway in the United States; East Boston Tunnel, under Boston Harbor and State street, opened December 30, 1904, costing \$3,336,000; Washington Street Tunnel, opened November 30, 1908, costing \$8,496,700 (including \$2,850,000 land damages); Cambridge Connection Subway, opened March 23, 1912, costing \$1,465,000; Boylston Street Subway, opened October 3, 1914, costing \$5,327,000; East Boston Tunnel Extension, opened March 18, 1916, approximate cost, \$2,450,000; Dorchester Tunnel, opened December 4, 1916, as far as South Station, on December 15, 1917, to Broadway, South Boston, and on June 29, 1918, to the Andrew Square terminal; amount borrowed to 1920 for the Dorchester tunnel, \$10,750,000. Total cost, approximately, for all subways and tunnels, \$36,000,000 (against which a sinking fund of about \$5,600,000 has been accumulated from the revenue), payable mostly in 40 years from date of each loan (loans since 1911 payable in 45 years), annual interest averaging 3.8 per cent. These underground ways (about 8.9 miles in all) were leased to the Boston Elevated Railway Company (which furnished the equipment) for term of 25 years (except Tremont street 20 years) at annual rental of $4\frac{1}{2}$ to $4\frac{3}{4}$ per cent of net cost (except East Boston Tunnel which was at $\frac{3}{4}$ of one per cent of all annual gross receipts of said company). In accordance with Chapter 741, Acts of 1911, the various leases were extended to July 1, 1936, the rental to be $4\frac{1}{2}$ per cent of net cost after expiration of the first-term leases.

By Chap. 185, Special Acts of 1918, the powers of the Transit Commission, whose term expired that year, were transferred to the Mayor, Commissioner of Public Works and City Treasurer, or such person or persons, not exceeding three, as the Mayor might appoint. By Chap. 3, Ordinances of 1918, the Transit Dept. was established as a regular City department, to be in charge of three commissioners.

Boston, August 15 1921.

MR. FRANK V. THOMPSON,
Superintendent of Public Schools:

DEAR SIR,—The Board of Schoolhouse Commissioners thinks it advisable to take, for a special class center, a certain parcel of land in the John Marshall School District, Dorchester, bounded and described as follows:

Be all said measurements more or less.

In accordance with chapter 473 of the Acts of 1901, and Acts in amendment of, or in addition thereto, we most respectfully ask your written opinion of the above.

AUDITING DEPARTMENT.

Boston, September 12, 1921.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,
Mayor of Boston:

SIR,—I hereby designate, with your approval, under authority of chapter 3, section 22, of the Revised Ordinances of 1914, Mr. William H. Hayward to act as auditor at such times as I may be absent during the four weeks beginning Wednesday, September 14, 1921.

Approved September 12, 1921.

ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

NEW INCOME TAX (STATE) ON INTANGIBLE PROPERTY.

In accordance with Chap. 269, ss. 2 and 11, General Acts of 1916, intangible personal property (except bank stock) ceased to be subject to assessment and taxation in 1917 and thereafter. In place of that tax an income tax was established, amounting to six per cent per year on income derived from such tangibles, subject to various specified exemptions.

Owing to the exemption from tax of intangible personal property, the total valuation of personalty in Boston decreased from $328,929,679 in 1916 to $162,545,343 in 1917, a loss representing $2,945,000 in taxes. By sec. 23 of said Chapter 269, it was provided that the State Treasurer should pay to each city or town an amount equal to the difference between the personal property levy in 1915 and that of 1917 computed at the 1915 tax rate. If the income tax collections exceeded the amount required for such distribution, the excess was also to be distributed, this in proportion to the State tax imposed on each city or town in 1917. The amount of income taxes paid by the State to the City of Boston under said statute in 1918 was $4,180,710 or $475,855 more than in 1917.

STUART STREET CONSTRUCTION.

On September 9 Mayor Peters signed his acceptance of the act of the Legislature providing for the laying out, extension and construction of Stuart street and the widening of Eliot street.

Carrying out the provisions of this act will create a new artery of travel from Huntington avenue, where it crosses the Boston and Albany Railroad tracks, to Tremont street, at the corner of Eliot, the latter street also being widened from Tremont to Washington.

The Mayor's signature makes effective chapters 318 and 465 of the Acts of the Legislature of 1920, amended so as to include the Eliot street widening between Tremont and Washington streets. These acts authorize a loan of $3,100,000 to lay out and construct this highway.

The awards for land to be taken and for buildings which are to be cut off and removed total $2,391,068.25; to this is to be added the cost of construction, estimated at $350,000; making the total estimated cost of the improvement $2,741,068.25.

This is $350,931.25 less than the authorized loan.

The benefit to property in the territory through which this highway is to be laid out is estimated at $2,369,936.95.

If these estimates are maintained the net cost to the city of this improvement will be $371,131.

While it is expected that in some instances damage awards will be contested, the opinion of experts is that the assessed values of most of the properties to be taken is a fair market value. This opinion is supported by actual sales and offers for sale of a number of properties in the territory.

This is the largest and most comprehensive highway improvement to be undertaken by the city since the construction of the South Station. In connection with the building of that station, which consolidated four railway terminals, streets were relocated, extended and discontinued at a cost of about $2,000,000.

It is of interest in this connection to note that there has been a substantial increase in real estate values about the South Station, as well as in the main highways which lead to it, such as Federal, Summer, Bedford and Essex streets. Assessed values and market values as well have an average value now of 275 per cent in excess of the values which prevailed before the South Station was built. This percentage of increase is on land values alone. Many new buildings, in keeping with the land values, have been erected, some of them quite large, which were made possible by the consolidation of small properties like many of those which exist in the Park square territory.

A similar development of properties and increase in values should take place in the Park square section, following completion of this new highway. If it does so, even to one-half of the extent shown in the South Station territory development, the Stuart street improvement will be one of the best business ventures ever undertaken by the city.

The territory in and around Park square has to a large extent lain dormant since the removal of the Providence Railroad Station more than twenty years ago. Many efforts have been undertaken to develop this part of the city, but they have not made such progress as might have been expected from the advantageous geographical location of this territory. The obstacle, in the opinion of men who have studied the problem, has been the lack of adequate traffic facilities. The extension and construction of this new street should provide what the district has lacked.

So hopeful is the outlook that large realty owners in the territory have given to the city without cost large areas of land for street purposes, besides agreeing to pay betterment assessments aggregating about $700,000.

This new highway ought to, and presumably will, open up the way for creation of a new shopping district. That this is needed has long been recognized. The congestion of traffic of all sorts in the territory north of Boylston street and east of the Common, is pushing this territory to the limit of its possibilities. This congestion is an obvious problem, which extension of growth towards this newly opened territory should help to solve.

The conditions in Park square should be ideal for business development. Highways already radiating from the square, with this new addition, will give ample room for pedestrians and vehicles, as well as opportunity for shoppers who find driving to the business district under present conditions inconvenient. Considerable load also should be taken from the present down-town vehicular traffic, through making easier approach to an exit from the financial and wholesale district.

FREE DISTRIBUTION OF WOOD IN CHARLESTOWN.

Through the courtesy of the commandant of the Navy Yard, Rear Admiral Albert W. Gleaves, the city will have for free distribution a considerable quantity of scrap wood which has accumulated at the Navy Yard.

The Mayor has ordered trucks of the Public Works Department to take the accumulation of scrap wood from the Navy Yard and store it at the Medford street yard for distribution among the Charlestown people who need it.

Admiral Gleaves in offering this wood stated that it has been the custom of the Navy Yard to give this wood away but they are at present unable to furnish transportation for it. Mayor Peters has agreed to provide this through the Public Works Department.

There are about twenty-five loads of wood immediately available.

CLAIMS.

The Mayor has approved the following claims with the indorsement of the Corporation Counsel:

Morris Hoffman, for $273.68 for damage to property caused by rioters at 749 Washington street, September 9, 1919.

Mark Walfish, for $155.50 for damage to property at 1239 Tremont street, caused by rioters, September 9, 1919.

Gaetano Brogna for $200 for personal injuries caused by hole in street at Hanover and Tileston streets, March 16, 1921.

Harriet H. Waterman, for $600 for personal injuries caused by hole in street on West street, near Tremont street, December 1, 1919.

John Paspazeretsky, for $100 for personal injuries caused by hole in street opposite 165 Merrimac street, March 26, 1921.

Morris Segal, for $325 for damage to property at 438 Tremont street, caused by rioters, September 9, 1919.

Among the twelve Federal Reserve Banks, that of Boston on April 9, 1920, ranked fourth in these respects, viz., total resources, total reserves, gross deposits and F. R. notes in circulation; fifth as to capital paid in and surplus, while as to total earning assets and total discounts (bills on hand) it stood sixth.

On September 12, 1919, the resources of the 7,785 national banks, which are all members of the Federal Reserve System, established in 1914, amounted to $21,615,000,000; total deposits, $15,924,- $65,000. The number of State banks and trust companies belonging to the Federal Reserve System increased from 250 to 936 during the year 1918. All the trust companies in Boston are now members.

The First National Bank of Boston has next to the largest foreign business among the national banks in the United States, having a branch bank in Buenos Aires, Argentina, and active bank accounts in the principal foreign cities.

The Boston Clearing House, established in 1876, ranks second to that of New York in number of checks cleared, viz., 35,300 daily average.

FOREIGN TRADE OF UNITED STATES, CALENDAR YEAR, 1919, WITH RANK OF TEN LEADING PORTS.

Exports $7,922,150,592 or $1,773,663,047 more than in 1918 and the highest total on record.

Imports, $3,904,406,327 or $873,193,617 more than in 1918 and the highest for imports. Total foreign commerce in 1919, $11,826,556,919 or $2,646,256,664 (i. e., 28.82 per cent) more than in 1918. Excess of exports over imports, $4,017,744,265.

New York, ranking first among United States ports, handled 46.69 per cent of total commerce, or 4.69 per cent more than in 1918; New Orleans (2nd) 6.26 per cent; Philadelphia (3rd) 5.72 per cent; Boston (4th) 5.36 per cent; Seattle (5th) 4.13 per cent; Galveston (6th) 4.10 per cent; San Francisco (7th) 4.04 per cent; Baltimore (8th) 3.32 per cent; Detroit (9th) 3.14 per cent; Buffalo (10th) 2.50 per cent. Of value of all imports, 69.14 per cent free of duty. Total duties collected, $249,774,758 or 44.62 per cent more than in 1918. Of total export value, 70.30 per cent applied to manufactured and partly manufactured materials, 20.78 per cent to crude materials for use in manufacturing and 8.75 per cent to foodstuffs (crude) and food animals.

Boston's rank for many years as the second importing port changed to fourth place in 1917, Seattle taking second place and San Francisco third, probably due to war conditions. In 1918 Boston advanced to third place and was but slightly behind Seattle. In 1919 it regained its former rank of second.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,

I would state in connection with this award that the item of cash discount was the determining factor, as the A. C. Harvey Company offered 1 per cent for cash in ten days against 1 per cent cash discount offered by the second lowest bidder, Brown-Wales Company.

Respectfully yours,

G. J. CRONIN,
Superintendent of Supplies.

HOSPITAL DEPARTMENT.

Remodeling Ward I, City Hospital.

On September 20 to John Bowen Company, as per following communication:

Boston, September 16, 1921.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—Under date of June 25, 1921, bids were requested for the remodeling of Ward I. from an open ward into cubicles. On July 5 bids were opened, the bids being as follows:

J. J. Powers, $23,572; M. J. Fish & Sons, $21,073; John Bowen Company, $21,000.

Inasmuch as only $15,000 had been allowed in the budget for this work, these bids were all rejected. Changes were then made, and the contract again advertised on August 6. Bids were opened on August 16, and were as follows:

Hub Contracting Company, $18,000; J. J. Powers, $17,174; John Bowen Company, $15,500.

A short while later a communication was received from J. J. Powers, a copy of which is inclosed, in consequence of which it was deemed best to place the matter before the Corporation Counsel for an opinion, a copy of which is attached. The trustees again rejected the bids and readvertised on September 3. On September 13, the date of opening, only one bid was received, as follows:

John Bowen Company, $17,450. This price includes painting and priming. If painting and priming are not included, deduct the sum of $1,900.

The trustees respectfully request permission to award the contract to the John Bowen Company at $17,450, less deduction of $1,900, or $15,550. Our reason for wishing to award the contract when only one bid was received is due to the fact that the price is reasonable, and the work should be started at the earliest possible moment.

Yours respectfully,

JOHN J. DOWLING,
Superintendent.

CAMBRIDGE, MASS.,
August 17, 1921.

JOHN J. DOWLING,
Superintendent City Hospital:

DEAR SIR.—On Tuesday, August 16, bids were opened for alterations in Ward I, Boston City Hospital. My bid of seventeen thousand one hundred and seventy-four (17,174) dollars included an allowance of eighteen hundred (1,800) dollars for painting, which as I understood by the specifications should have been included.

To be in fair competition with the bid that did not include the painting, deduct the sum of eighteen hundred (1,800) dollars; my bid will stand fifteen thousand three hundred and seventy-four (15,374) dollars, which is your lowest bid.

Yours very truly,

J. J. POWERS.

BOSTON, August 30, 1921.

JOHN J. DOWLING, M.D.,
Superintendent City Hospital:

DEAR SIR.—I have examined the three proposals for alterations and additions to Ward I of the Boston City Hospital, as well as the letter of J. J. Powers, dated August 17. I am of the opinion that there is irregularity in all of the proposals and therefore advise the trustees, if they consider the lowest bid a reasonable amount for doing the desired work and the bidder a responsible person and if the bidder is willing to do all of the work required, that a contract be entered into with him, first securing the consent of the Mayor to let the contract without advertising. Then there can be no question about irregularity. If you do not feel that any of the bids are reasonable and the parties responsible and that by advertising you could get a lower bid from some other responsible party or parties, then you should readvertise.

Very truly yours,

ARTHUR D. HILL,
Corporation Counsel.

Boston, September 19, 1921.

To the Mayor of Boston:

Permission to award a contract for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets, without advertising, to Isadore Zieman, 27 Abbot street, Dorchester, is hereby requested on the ground that this contractor is not selected by the city in the first instance but by the abutters; and secondly, the expense of construction being divided by the city and abutters; also because such contracts vary greatly in amounts and seldom involve one thousand (1,000) dollars.

OFFICIAL COMMUNICATIONS.

STATEMENT BY MAYOR PETERS ON TAX RATE OF 1921.

The tax rate for the City of Boston is $24.70 on the thousand, an increase of only 60 cents over the 1920 tax rate. This is a surprisingly small increase when one stops to consider the fact that the average increase in the tax rates of twelve cities in the metropolitan district which have so far announced their tax rates is $2.18.

The appropriations and warrants for 1920 and 1921 showing increases are as follows:

	1920.	1921.	Increase.
City.....	$29,681,949 14	$29,961,175 55	$279,226 41
County.....	2,364,527 07	2,444,881 34	80,354 27
Schools.....	12,526,583 31	14,092,739 99	1,566,156 68
State tax.....	6,060,134 44	6,187,636 05	127,501 61
Totals.....	$50,633,193 96	$52,686,432 93	$2,053,238 97

The so-called city appropriation, which includes the departments under my control, and also the Police Department, which is not under my control, is $29,961,175.55, showing an increase of $279,226.41 over last year's appropriation.

As the Police Department requirements increased $409,064.01, the departments under my control showed a net decrease of $129,737.60. The following table shows the division of the tax rate:

	1920.	1921.	Increase.
State.....	$3 64	$3 69	$0 05
County.....	1 42	1 45	03
Schools.....	7 14	8 03	89
City, net.....	11 90	11 53	37*
Totals.....	$24 10	$24 70	$0 60

* Decrease.

It will be noted that the departments under my control show a net decrease of 37 cents. Had the appropriations for the Police Department and schools only remained where they were last year, this year's tax rate would have been 80 cents less than the 1920 tax rate and 30 cents less than the 1919 tax rate.

The expenditure for schools, however, showed an increase of $1,566,156.68 over the year previous, this sum accounting for practically $1 gross increase in the tax rate. The requirements for county purposes are $80,354.27 more than last year; for state purposes, $127,501.61 more.

Two heavy increases in the appropriations for departments under my control militated materially against a greater decrease in expenditures. These increases were $172,393.57 for the Overseers of the Public Welfare and $393,930.44 for the Soldiers' Relief Department. It is not surprising under present conditions, however, that increased appropriations in these two departments were necessary. They cannot be regarded as increases which could be avoided.

The revenue derived from the state income tax amounts to $2,915,116.19, a reduction of $291,633.04 over last year. The largest amount received from the state from this source was $4,201,589.54 in 1918, and it was expected when the law was changed that this state income would show an annual increase. However, the figures for 1921 are $1,285,473.35 less than the amount received in 1918, which was the largest amount received from income tax.

The valuations for the city for 1921 show a gain on real estate of $24,906,300 and a net loss on personal property of $1,628,137, a net gain in total valuation of $23,278,163. The decrease on personal property was due to a large extent to the depreciation in the value of the shares of the national bank stocks, which show a loss of $4,000,000. A large loss is due to the lower amount of stock carried and reduced valuation of merchandise, particularly in wool and leather. Twelve of the larger wool concerns shows a loss of $4,000,000 and the leather and shoes show a loss of $2,500,000, making a loss on banks, wool and leather of approximately $11,000,000.

There have been increases in the tax rates in all of thirty-five cities of the Commonwealth with the following exceptions: Cambridge, Everett, Newton, Chicopee, Lawrence, North Adams, Fall River, Fitchburg and Pittsfield, all of which show decreases except the two last mentioned, which have remained the same. The tax rate in all of these cities is, however, dollars higher than that of Boston. Of the cities that show increases, there are only three that show a smaller increase than the City of Boston, namely, Waltham 40 cents, New Bedford 20 cents and Worcester 20 cents. The total tax rate in these cities, however, is greater than Boston, and the average increase of all cities for this year is $1.11.

The following table shows the appropriations for city purposes exclusive of schools and the increases and decreases over the preceding year:

RE PERMITS FOR ERECTION AND MAINTENANCE OF GARAGES.

BOSTON, September 16, 1921.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—In answer to your request for an opinion as to whether it is your duty to approve or disapprove of the granting of a permit by the Board of Street Commissioners for the erection or maintenance of a garage within the limits of the City of Boston.

I am of the opinion that the power to grant permits for such purposes is solely and exclusively within the jurisdiction of the Street Commissioners and is not subject to your control. The granting of permits for the erection of garages is governed by the provisions of chapter 577, Acts of 1913, as amended by chapter 119, Acts of 1914, the important part of which bearing upon your question is as follows:

"In the city of Boston no building shall be erected for, or maintained as a garage for the storage, keeping or care of automobiles until the issue of a permit therefor by the board of street commissioners of the city after notice and a public hearing upon an application filed with said board . . . at the time and place specified in the notice for the hearing the said board shall hear all parties interested, and after giving consideration to the interests of all owners of record notified, and the general character of the neighborhood in which is situated the land or building referred to in the application, shall determine whether or not the application shall be granted and a permit issued."

Yours respectfully,

JOSEPH P. LYONS,
Acting Corporation Counsel.

PERMISSION TO TRAVEL.

BOSTON, September 13, 1921.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—I would request your permission to send Peter E. Walsh, chief of department, to attend the annual convention of the International Association of Fire Engineers, at Atlanta, Ga., from October 7 to not later than October 17, 1921, his expenses to be paid out of the appropriation of the Fire Department.

It has been the custom in the past to send the chief of department to these conventions and pay his expenses.

Yours very truly,

JOHN R. MURPHY,
Fire Commissioner.

TAKE DOWN.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,
Mayor of Boston:

SIR,—Under the provisions of section 5, chapter 550, Acts of 1907, as amended, I ask permission to take down the buildings 6 and 7 Marble street, belonging to Mary Healy, said buildings being in an unsafe and dangerous condition, dilapidated and a fire menace. This action is taken in the interest of public safety.

Yours very truly,

HERBERT A. WILSON,

HEALTH DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, September 13, 1921.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—I have the honor to transmit herewith a report on the trip of Dr. John A. Ceconi, medical inspector in the Health Department, recently made to New York City under authority of the Health Commissioner, in connection with an observation to be made as to methods used in toxin-antitoxin-Schick control of diphtheria, to be published in the City Record in accordance with law.

Respectfully,

WM. C. WOODWARD,
Health Commissioner.

1. In compliance with chapter 274, Acts of 1914, the following report of my visit to the New York Health Department, as an authorized official representing the Health Department of the City of Boston in connection with the observation of method in New York Health Department with reference to the use of toxin-antitoxin and Schick procedure in the control of diphtheria, is respectfully submitted.

2. Pursuant to the instructions of the Health Commissioner I left Boston on June 13 and arrived in New York City June 14. The following is a resume of the time spent by me in New York:

Tuesday, June 14, 1921, Health Department Proper from 8.45 a.m. until 10.30 a.m.; Health Department Laboratory, 11.15 a.m. until 1 p.m.; National Tuberculosis Convention, Waldorf Astoria Hotel, 2.45 p.m. until 4 p.m. and from 7.30 p.m. until 10 p.m.

Wednesday, June 15, 8.45 a.m. until 12.15 p.m., in company with Dr. Abraham Zingher, assistant chief of Health Department Laboratory, at School No. 20, New York City, 350 Schick tests. From 12.30 p.m. to 1.45 p.m. at laboratory with Dr. Zingher, procured literature. During afternoon studied literature pertaining to toxin-antitoxin-Schick test and workings of department in carrying out procedure in conjunction with the City School Department.

Thursday, June 16, 8.45 a.m. until 12.15 p.m., in company with Dr. Blum, at City School, One Hundred Eighth street, New York City, 255 readings of Schick and 165 toxin-antitoxin immunizations. Afternoon spent in visits to Health Department Laboratory procuring stock Schick and toxin-antitoxin material at the Tuberculosis Convention, 7.45 p.m. to 9.15 p.m.

Friday, June 17, 8.45 a.m. to 12.15 p.m. at Municipal School at One Hundred Nineteenth street, New York City, about 225 Schick readings and 150 toxin-antitoxin injections (in company with Dr. Abraham Zingher).

NOTE.—It will be noted in the above that the National Tuberculosis Convention was also attended by me and a reprint and abstracts of the meeting given to the Health Commissioner.

3. The successful results obtained by workers in the active immunization of children with diphtheria toxin-antitoxin stimulated the Boston Health Department to make an intensive study of the technique used in this preventive measure for the eradication of diphtheria, with a view of adopting a similar procedure in the Health Department of Boston.

4. The experience and reports from many medical and epidemiological sources during the past seven years have established the fact that the Schick and toxin-antitoxin method for the control of diphtheria is one of the most valuable assets in the scope of preventive medicine.

5. Physicians and public health educators everywhere agree that the eradication of diphtheria by means of quarantine, isolation of carriers, and passive immunization by themselves will never be an accomplished fact, and their arguments are backed up by demonstrative facts based on sound logic. In this report I am purposely omitting the technique of the administration of the Schick and toxin-antitoxin method because I feel that this is familiar to the great majority of medical men. The purpose of this report is to urge the Boston Health Department to consider very strongly the advantages in instituting this recent discovery in the control of diphtheria.

6. The pioneers in the Schick-toxin-antitoxin method are Parke, Zingher, Byard and Hull. These men have demonstrated conclusively that by this method the control of diphtheria is practically a certainty.

GENERAL CONSIDERATIONS AND RECOMMENDATIONS.

Importance of Age in Active Immunization with Toxin-Antitoxin.

Infants Under Six Months.—Under three months: Children mostly immune (maternal). Do not develop an active immunity after toxin-antitoxin. Three to six months: Generally found to be immune (maternal). Toxin-antitoxin may be used, but it is not as effective as when used in the following age-group. A negative Schick test cannot be depended on to indicate a permanent immunity.

Pre-school Age.—Six months to two years: Schick test can be omitted in this group, as the proportion of positive reactors is very high. A negative Schick reaction cannot be depended on to indicate a permanent immunity. Strongly advisable to give toxin-antitoxin to all these children. Two to five years: Schick test may be used first. Positive reactions very high. Procedure can be greatly simplified by omitting Schick test and injecting all these children with toxin-antitoxin.

Public School Age.—Five to six years: Incoming classes (kindergarten and 1 A). Schick test may be used first. Positive reactions over 65 per cent. Strongly advisable to inject all these children with toxin-antitoxin. Six to fifteen years: Schick test and control test should be used first. Many negative pseudo-reactions must be excluded. Toxin-antitoxin for Schick positive and positive combined reactors.

High School Age.—Fifteen to nineteen years: Schick test and control test should be used first. Many negative pseudo-reactions must be excluded. Toxin-antitoxin for Schick positive and positive combined reactors.

Adolescents and Adults.—Nineteen years up: Schick test and control test should be used first. Many negative pseudo-reactions must be excluded. Toxin-antitoxin for Schick positive and positive combined reactors.

7. It is seen from the above that the majority of infants under three months of age are immune to diphtheria. The age of greater susceptibility is from six months to five years, and this is the age in which the most dangerous forms of diphtheria occur.

8. Inasmuch as the medical inspection of schools in the City of Boston does not come under the jurisdiction of the Boston Health Department any recommendations that I may make necessarily will be in respect to children of preschool age, although in my opinion to do this work properly not only the Health Department but also the Medical Department of the schools must necessarily institute this procedure, as the results will not be propitious unless co-ordination between the two departments is possible.

SUMMARY AND RECOMMENDATIONS.

9. Children under six months should not be injected with toxin-antitoxin as they are generally immune.

10. All children from six months to five years should be injected with toxin-antitoxin. The Schick test is not of much consequence in this age group, as most of the children give a positive reaction.

11. No child, however, should be pronounced as being immune from diphtheria until it gives a negative Schick reaction. The Schick test should not be made until at least six months have elapsed after the injections of toxin-antitoxin.

12. To place the diphtheria preventive work in the public schools on a practicable basis is a matter in my estimation wholly and entirely for the medical director of the schools to decide.

13. In order to inaugurate the system in the curriculum of the Health Department I suggest that an intensive campaign be conducted to promote the application of the Schick toxin-antitoxin immunization method.

14. Selected districts might be chosen for the purpose of promoting the Schick test and active immunization.

15. Printing and distribution of circulars and placards advocating to parents and physicians the employment of the Schick test and active immunization.

16. The great possibility offered by the Schick test and the toxin-antitoxin immunization in controlling diphtheria seems to me to be sufficiently important enough to start an educational campaign in the hope that a formidable disease like diphtheria be obliterated.

17. Anyone familiar with this work knows well that it is an enormous project and requires men who are trained in the technique of administering both the test and the immunization. Therefore, if in the opinion of the Health Commissioner statistics to date show that the Schick-toxin-antitoxin method for the control of diphtheria is worthy of trial I recommend that this new departure be immediately instituted.

18. It would seem to me that this work should be under the supervision of the epidemiologist of the Health Department, subject at all times to the wishes and orders of the Health Commissioner.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN A. CECONI,
Medical Inspector.

"NO-ACCIDENT WEEK."

On September 21 Mayor Andrew J. Peters gave out the following appeal for the observance of next week as No-Accident Week:

"Four hundred and fifty-nine lives were sacrificed by accident in Boston during the twelve months ending September 1, 1921. This means nine lives each week. At least three-fourths of these accidents were preventable, so experts on safety inform me, which signifies that 345 lives might have been saved.

"With the yearly increase in the toll of deaths on our streets, which follows the increase in motor vehicles, there is a crying need of some united community effort to arouse public sentiment and to stimulate habits of caution.

"The Massachusetts No-Accident Week, September 25 to October 1, which is to be conducted concurrently with the annual Congress of the National Safety Council to be held at the State House in Boston, is designed to mark the beginning of a state wide effort to stop this needless sacrifice of life.

"The Massachusetts Safety Council, which is conducting the No-Accident Week, has developed a program which gives every man, woman and child in Boston a part to play in following the slogan for the week, "Don't Get Hurt," and helping to make a clean record for Boston of no accidental deaths during the week.

"I wish to strongly urge that every church observe September 25 as Safety Sunday, that each factory blow its whistles Monday morning at nine o'clock and conduct a safety drive among its workmen; that every store and office in Boston place in the windows the safety posters which the Boy Scouts will distribute on Saturday, September 24; that every school teacher give daily instruction to the children; that the police use extra diligence during the week to stop careless and lawless practice on the street; that the newspapers give wide publicity to the drive; that steam and electrical railways co-operate; that every father and mother carefully instruct their children in safety, and that every citizen do his utmost to help make such a demonstration during No-Accident Week that at its close we will all say, "If we can stop accidents for one week in Boston, why can't we do it continuously?"

SALE OF "DEARBORN INDEPENDENT."

As a result of a number of complaints received by him against the sale of the Dearborn Independent, Mayor Peters on September 19 had a conference with the following gentlemen to consider what might best be done with relation to the situation: Judge A. K. Cohen, Carl Dreyfus, David A. Ellis, Lewis Goldberg, Maurice Hexter, Albert Hurwitz, Jacob Lebowitch, A. C. Ratschesky, Samuel Silverman, Felix Vorenberg and Jacob L. Wiseman. At the conclusion of the conference, Mayor Peters gave out the following statement:

"The gentlemen whom I invited to meet me, saw me this afternoon and stated that they had given the matter consideration, and it is their opinion that the merits of the situation are such that no consideration need be given them, and that the matter be wholly ignored. It was the opinion of those who conferred with me that the Mayor has no legal power to prevent the sale of this paper."

Said lands are shown on a plan marked "City of Boston, Plan No. 410, Sewerage Works, Freeland Street, Dorchester, September 6, 1921, F. O. The right and easement is taken to lay and maintain sewerage works in the following described lands, exclusive of any interest in trees, buildings or other structures standing thereon, reserving to the owners thereof the right to use the lands for any purpose except such as may injure or obstruct said works, and except for placing or maintaining any structure on said lands not authorized in writing by the Mayor of said city; trees, buildings or other structures standing upon or affixed to the land in which an easement is hereby taken are to be removed therefrom within sixty days following a notice of the city's intention to enter upon said taking for the purpose of constructing said sewerage works. Said lands are in that part of Boston formerly Dorchester and are bounded as follows:

A parcel of land, owners unknown, being part of the private way known as Standard street, bounded:

Southwest by taking made for sewerage purposes in Standard street by the City of Boston, September 27, 1913, six and 50/100 feet; northwesterly another part of Standard street, by two measurements, twenty-one and 80/100 feet and four and 39/100 feet; northeast by land hereinafter described as taken from owners unknown (Freeland street), eight and 95/100 feet; and southeast by another part of Standard street, twenty-six and 6/100 feet; containing one hundred and fifty-one square feet, more or less.

VETO, ANDREW COYLE SQUARE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, August 30, 1921.
To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I am herewith returning without my signature the order passed by the City Council on August 16, giving the name of Andrew Coyle square to the junction of Washington, Eustis and Williams streets, together with an order passed on the same date giving the same name to the junction of Ritchie and Marcella streets.

It is obvious that there has been some confusion in giving the same name to different locations. I shall of course be glad to approve the giving of this name to any one location which does not already bear a name if the City Council sees fit to pass an order to this effect.

Respectfully yours,
ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

Coun. WATSON. Mr. President, in order that the record may be complete, I want to say that both Coun. Donoghue and myself introduced orders with reference to that veteran at the same meeting, one not knowing what the other was doing. The Mayor could do nothing else than what he has done, and I think we will undoubtedly name another square for him.

Placed on file.

MONEY FOR MRS. ANDREW B. CUNEO.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, September 8, 1921.
To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—Under the provisions of the law, it is possible for the city to appropriate the sum of $1,000 for the use of the widow and any minor children of a police officer killed in the performance of his duty.

I feel it is very desirable that the city appropriate this sum for the widow and children of Patrolman Andrew B. Cuneo, who was recently killed in the performance of his duty, and I recommend the immediate passage of the accompanying order.

Respectfully yours,
ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

Ordered, That under the provisions of section 87 of chapter 32 of the General Laws there be paid to the estate of Andrew B. Cuneo, a policeman killed in the performance of his duty, the sum of one thousand dollars ($1,000) for the use equally of his widow and minor children, said amount to be charged to the Reserve Fund.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

APPROPRIATION FOR EAST BOSTON COURT.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, September 8, 1921.
To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I am transmitting herewith a request for an additional appropriation for the East Boston Court, and I respectfully recommend the passage of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,
ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

East Boston District Court.
August 15, 1921.

Hon. Andrew J. Peters,
Mayor of Boston:
Dear Sir,—You are respectfully requested to authorize the appropriation of the following amounts, to the credit of this Court: $296 to be added to the present balance under A-2 and $350 to the balance under D-1 of the current budget.

This request is made for the reason that although forty-five simultaneous sessions were estimated for the current year, forty-eight have already been held. It is fair to assume that for the remainder of the year there will be twenty or more. The amount requested will provide twenty-five which will take care of three extra sessions already held and one scheduled for August 18, current.

Under D-1, the original amount allowed was insufficient to pay bills for supplies up to August 1. There are now being withheld outstanding bills amounting to $153.65; and it is quite certain that supplies needed from time to time for the balance of the budget year will be not less than $200.

Very truly yours,
JOHN S. C. NICHOLLS, Clerk.

Ordered, That under authority of chapter 261 of the Acts of 1893 the City Auditor be and hereby is authorized to transfer:

From the appropriation for Reserve Fund, $646, to the appropriation for East Boston District Court, A-2, Temporary Employees, Special Justices, 2 at $11.84 per day, $296; D-1, Office, $350.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

MONEY FOR HOUSING COMMITTEE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, September 8, 1921.
To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I am herewith transmitting a copy of a communication just received from the Rent and Housing Committee relative to the continuance of its work. You will note that Mr. Nichols the chairman, finds that the sum of $4,000 is necessary for the continuance of this work. I therefore recommend the immediate passage of the accompanying order appropriating this sum.

Respectfully yours,
ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Rent and Housing Committee,
September 7, 1921.

Hon. Andrew J. Peters,
Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—Before I sever my connection with the Committee on Rent and Housing I think it would be wise to consider the needs of the committee from now until the end of the fiscal year, January 31, 1922. We have on hand $1,271.55 which will take care of our needs until about the 20th of this month. It is therefore obvious that, if the work of the committee is to continue immediate provision must be made. We estimate that the sum of $4,000 will be sufficient for the four months' period.

The following amounts have been authorized for the work of this committee:

March 29, 1920.....	$2,500
June 28, 1920.....	6,000
February 28, 1921.....	7,200
	$15,700

The expenditures to date have been $14,428.45. There are employed, under arrangements agreed upon between your Honor and the committee, five adjusters. The total monthly pay roll cost plus the total monthly incidental expenditures are approximately $1,000. The total number of cases disposed of to date is 11,495, as follows:

Rent increases found to be unreasonable and adjusted.....	1,845
Complaints heard, agreement with parties to adjust.....	630
Disposed of by tenant.....	26
Found proposed rent to be not reasonable.....	347
Extension obtained on vacate notice.....	1,340
Extension impossible to obtain on vacate notice.....	91
Vacate notice found to be illegal.....	255
Vacate notice canceled.....	144
Court notice withdrawn.....	60
Complaints considered and held at request of tenant.....	578
Court action brought prior to receipt of complaint.....	122
Referred to Board of Health.....	284
Referred to Building Department.....	10
Referred to other communities.....	96
Referred to Fire Department.....	52
Referred to State Commission.....	10
Referred to Legal Aid Society.....	25
Referred to Police Department.....	25
Referred to Water Department.....	22
Referred to Family Welfare Board.....	19
Referred to boiler inspector.....	1
Complaints of lack of heat, screens, etc.,.....	290
Miscellaneous.....	157
Information given to tenants and owners as to rights, etc.....	5,516
Total.....	11,443

The following analysis shows that on complaints related directly to the amount of the rent:

(A.) The committee adjusted 65 per cent of such complaints.
(B.) Prevailed on parties to adjust 22 per cent of such complaints.
(C.) Found proposed rent to be not reasonable, 12 per cent of such complaints.
(D.) Tenant disposed of 1 per cent of such complaints.
and also shows that of the requests for extension of time beyond that stipulated in vacate notice
(E.) Extensions were obtained in.....	71 per cent
(F.) Notices found to be illegal in.....	13 per cent
(G.) Notices canceled or withdrawn.....	11 per cent
	95 per cent
(H.) Extensions were impossible to obtain in.....	5 per cent

At a meeting which we held with members of the City Council in the latter part of February, 1921, there was a discussion of the probably length of time the committee would need the services of such an organization as this. I stated then that I thought there would be need for such services at least one year, and I am of opinion now that the committee ought to continue its work, with a sufficient appropriation from time to time. In January next you will probably find it necessary to make an appropriation beyond that requested in this communication.

I think it would be wise for your Honor to consider this matter forthwith and I shall be pleased personally to confer with you upon it at your convenience.

Yours very truly,
MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Chairman.

Ordered, That the Committee on Rent and Housing be and hereby is authorized to expend, under the direction of the Mayor, an additional sum of $4,000, the said amount to be charged to the appropriation for Reserve Fund.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

REVISION OF CITY ACCOUNTING METHODS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, September 6, 1921.
To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—During recent years the most effective instruments suggested for improved municipal government have been new charters, segregated budgets and revised accounting systems.

Boston under the amended charter is conducting its affairs to the general satisfaction of the citizens. The adoption of the segregated budget has resulted in much more effective control of the expenses of the city. We have failed as yet, however, to make any material change in the accounting system of the city, thus losing the benefits, as some believe, that would accrue from a more modern system.

Many of the cities throughout the country have adopted the income and expenditure basis of accounting, with a view to more clearly recording the financial transactions of the year; while many others still continue the cash receipts and payments basis similar to that in use in Boston.

The advisability of changing the system is of such importance that most careful study should be made before any decision is arrived at, and I am of the opinion that this can be best accomplished through a commission similar to the one which reported on the adoption of a segregated budget some few years ago.

I am submitting herewith an order for your consideration and I recommend its adoption.

Respectfully yours,

ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

Ordered, That an Accounting System Commission to consist of five citizens of Boston, be appointed by the Mayor as follows: One member to be nominated by the directors of the Chamber of Commerce, one by the City Council, one by the directors of the Boston Real Estate Exchange, one by the Central Labor Union, and one to be selected by the Mayor, the chairman of the commission to be designated by the Mayor and to receive such compensation as shall be allowed by the Mayor and City Council, the other members to serve without compensation.

The commission shall have authority to employ a secretary and other assistants and to incur such expenses as it may deem necessary, not exceeding $2,500 in the aggregate, exclusive of the compensation of the chairman, and all expenses shall be paid by the city upon requisition of the commission and be charged to the appropriation for Reserve Fund.

It shall be the duty of the commission to investigate and to report on or before December 1, 1921, upon the following matters:

1. The advisability of revising the accounting methods of the city:
 - (a.) For the departments under the control of the Mayor.
 - (b.) For the School Committee and the Schoolhouse Department.
 - (c.) For the Suffolk County departments.
 - (d.) For the departments in charge of officials appointed by the Governor.
2. If a revision is approved, what legislation, if any, will be necessary.
3. If a revision is approved, what outside assistance, if any, should be obtained.

The Superintendent of Public Buildings shall furnish suitable quarters for the commission, and all officers and employees of the city shall furnish the Commission on its request, with such information and assistance as the commission may deem necessary in the discharge of its duties.

CONTROL OF BUILDING OPERATIONS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, August 22, 1921.
To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I am herewith transmitting a communication from the Board of Examiners recommending a change in the ordinances concerning the control of building operations. I am also transmitting a statement prepared by the Building Commissioner, whose advice I asked on the proposed amendment. You will note that the Building Commissioner is in favor of its being adopted. I therefore recommend the passage of the attached amendment to the revised ordinances.

Respectfully yours,

ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Board of Examiners, July 29, 1921.
Hon. Andrew J. Peters,
Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—Chapter 8 of the Revised Ordinances of 1914, as amended, intends that each building operation in the City of Boston shall be under the supervision of a licensed superintendent. Because of the continued abuse of the license law, however, and in response to the great number of complaints from the Building Commissioner, the Board of Examiners herewith submits for your consideration the following proposed amendment:

An Ordinance Concerning Control of Building Operations.

Be it ordained by the City Council of Boston as follows:

Section 1. Section 1 of chapter 8 of the Revised Ordinances of 1914, as amended, is hereby amended by striking out said section and substituting the following:

Section 1. All work of construction, alteration, removal or tearing down of buildings or structures in the city of Boston shall, hereafter, be under the charge, control and personal supervision of a licensed mechanic, qualified by education, training or experience for the performance of that duty in a manner which shall preserve public safety and conform to the laws, ordinances, rules and regulations relating to the construction, alteration, removal or tearing down of buildings and structures in the city of Boston.

Any person performing such work without license shall be punished as provided in section 10 of this ordinance.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN F. HICKEY, Chairman.

City of Boston,
Building Department, August 2, 1921.
Hon. Andrew J. Peters,
Mayor of Boston:

Sir,—In reply to your communication of August 1 relative to a letter from the Board of Examiners in re chapter 8, Revised Ordinances of 1914, I would say that I have gone over this proposed ordinance with Mr. John F. Hickey, chairman of the Board, and I am of the opinion that if this ordinance is passed, it will assist this department in the endeavor to see that there is a licensed mechanic in charge of work being performed.

The penalty which is suggested, I also approve, as at the present time there is none covering this feature.

Yours very truly,

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Building Commissioner.

City of Boston,
In the Year Nineteen Hundred and Twenty-one.
An Ordinance Concerning Control of Building Operations.

Be it ordained by the City Council of Boston, as follows:

Chapter 8 of the Revised Ordinances of 1914, as amended by chapter 10 of the Ordinances of 1920, is hereby further amended by striking out section 5 and inserting in place thereof the following:

Section 5. All work of construction, alteration, removal or tearing down of buildings or structures in the City of Boston shall, hereafter, be under the charge, control and personal supervision of a licensed mechanic, qualified by education, training or experience for the performance of that duty in a manner which shall preserve public safety and conform to the laws, ordinances, rules and regulations relating to the construction, alteration, removal or tearing down of buildings and structures in the City of Boston.

SALE OF POLICE STATION SITE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, August 25, 1921.
To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—On March 28 and again on June 7, I sent a message to the City Council requesting the passage of an order which would give me authority to sell at a price not less than the 1920 assessed valuation, the property at the corner of Arch street and Hawley place, originally purchased as a site for Police Station 2.

It has been repeatedly brought to the attention of the City Council, not only that the site was unfit for the purpose for which it was originally purchased, but that there was not the slightest likelihood that the Police Commissioner would consent to its being used for a police station site. There is every reason to believe that the city could dispose of this property on very favorable terms. For the city, under the circumstances, to continue to hold this property, involves the city in a substantial loss. Not only is the city prevented from receiving a large sum of money which is needed for other public improvements, but in addition, the city is also deprived of the income from taxes on this property. Therefore, the failure of the City Council to act upon my request for authority to sell this property, is involving the city in a financial loss which cannot be justified.

I am again sending to the City Council for its favorable action, the order originally sent by message on March 28.

Respectfully yours,

ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioners be authorized to sell the estate, corner of Arch street and Hawley place, at public auction, at a price not less than the assessed valuation, the proceeds of such sale to be used toward the purchase of a site and the erection and furnishing of a police station for Police Division 2.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

MONEY FOR MAKING OF HIGHWAYS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, September 8, 1921.
To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—It is found that the appropriation of $800,000 for Highway, Making of, is not sufficient for the work which should be done this year. Therefore, after conference with the Street Commissioners and the City Auditor, I believe it is wise to request an additional appropriation of $200,000. The order for such an appropriation I am attaching, and I recommend that the City Council take as prompt action upon it as is possible.

Respectfully yours,

ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

Ordered, That the sum of $200.00 be and hereby is appropriated for Highways, Making of, under the provisions of chapter 393 of the Acts of 1906, and that to meet said appropriation, the City Treasurer be and hereby is authorized to issue, from time to time, upon the request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the city to said amount.

RECREATION BUILDING FOR VETERANS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, September 8, 1921.
To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—Some time ago the recreation building at the West Department of the City Hospital, West Roxbury, now occupied by the United States Public Health Service Hospital, was completely destroyed by fire. At the present time the veterans there under treatment can get along without a permanent recreation building, using tents instead, but the latter, of course, will not be practical when the cold weather sets in.

I am very anxious to provide a new recreation building so that the men may have proper facilities for recreation during the cold weather. Unless such a building is immediately constructed, the government will be seriously hampered in caring for the men.

The City Hospital Trustees estimate that a new building such as is necessary for the needs of the men will cost $25,000. I am attaching an order which will provide this sum, and I recommend its immediate passage.

Respectfully yours,

ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

Ordered, That the sum of $25,000 be appropriated, to be expended by the Superintendent of Public Buildings, for the erection of a recreation building West Roxbury, and that to meet said appropriation the City Auditor be and hereby is authorized to make the following transfers:

From the appropriation for Hospital Department, West Department, $15,989.07; New Building Rainsford Island $9010.93—$25,000, to the appropriation for Recreation Building, West Roxbury, $25,000.

Coun. BRICKLEY—Mr. President, I think I could say something on that. I think that the Mayor has made arrangements with the United States Public Health Service whereby the amount of money to be spent will be made up in rent; so I think it will equalize itself, and I hope for the passage of the order.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

APPOINTMENTS BY THE MAYOR.

Subject to confirmation by the City Council the Mayor submitted the following appointments for terms ending April 30, 1922, viz.:

REVOCATION OF CONSTABLE'S LICENSE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, September 12, 1921.
To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—You are hereby notified that the appointment of George L. Gilbert, 453 Washington street, Room 713, Boston, and 4 Ufford street, Dorchester, as a constable of the City of Boston is this day revoked.

Placed on file.

ADDITIONAL MEN, FIRE DEPARTMENT.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, September 12, 1921.
To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I am herewith transmitting a copy of a communication from the Fire Commissioner relative to additional officers and privates being appointed to the Fire Department in order to take care of the high pressure pumps which it is expected will be completed by September 15.

It is very desirable that the men be present as much as possible while the pumps are being installed in order that they may have a better knowledge of the pumps. I therefore recommend the immediate passage of the accompanying order.

Respectfully yours,

ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

City of Boston,

Fire Department, August 10, 1921.

Hon. Andrew J. Peters,

Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—I request that the number of engineers in the department be increased from 49 to 55, and the number of assistant engineers be increased from 51 to 57. To comply with this request the following transfers will be necessary under Permanent Employees, A-1, of the budget:

From "Private" item to "Engineer" item, $5,027.34. From "Private" item to "Assistant Engineer" item, $4,763.76.

The services of these men are necessary in connection with the operation of the high pressure system.

Yours very truly,

JOHN R. MURPHY,
Fire Commissioner.

City of Boston,

Fire Department, July 25, 1921.

Hon. Andrew J. Peters,

Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—The Commissioner of Public Works, Col. Thomas F. Sullivan, is of the opinion that the high pressure pumping stations should be manned by and be under the control of the Fire Department. I understand that he has communicated with your Honor in reference to this matter. I concur with the opinion of the commissioner.

I recommend that I be authorized to appoint the necessary men at once, and detail them from time to time to observe the installation of the pumps, machinery, etc., at the various pumping stations, so that they may be thoroughly prepared to assume the duties of acting as engineers at the two pumping stations which are to be completed at the latest by September 15, 1921.

One engineer and one assistant engineer should stand an eight-hour watch in each station, and each day of twenty-four hours should be divided into three watches. It will take on this basis three engineers and three assistant engineers to man each station, or six engineers and six assistant engineers to man the two stations.

It will be necessary to increase the number of engineers in the department from 49 to 55 and the number of assistant engineers from 51 to 57. If this is done it will mean the appointment of twelve probationers in the department.

I therefore recommend that under Permanent Employees, A-1, of the budget, the item of assistant engineers be changed from 51 to 57 in number and the item of engineers be changed from 49 to 55 in number. The extra amount of money to provide for these changes will be $3,675.16, assuming that the men are appointed to take up their duties August 1, 1921. I question the necessity of making a money appropriation to cover these appointments. There should be sufficient money, by transfer from other items in the budget of the Fire Department, available at the end of the fiscal year.

Yours very truly,

JOHN R. MURPHY,
Fire Commissioner.

Ordered, That under authority of chapter 261 of the Acts of 1893 the City Auditor be and hereby is authorized to make the following transfers in the appropriations for Fire Department:

From the appropriation for Privates, 933 at $1,400 to $1,800 per year, $9,791.10, to the appropriation for Engineers, 49 (55) at $1,900 per year, $5,027.34; Assistant Engineers, 51 (57) at $1,400 to $1,800 per year, $4,763.76.

LEGALITY OF PARK PRIVILEGES.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Law Department, September 7, 1921.

To the Honorable the City Council:

Gentlemen,—In answer to your request for information as to whether or not it is legal for the Park Department to give away the privileges at Franklin Park and the headhouse at City Point. The leasing of land or buildings which are under the control of the Park Department for use as boathouses, refectories and other purposes and the granting of concessions for keeping boats, carriages and other things for the accommodation of the public, is governed by section 1, chapter 365, Acts of 1897, which is as follows:

"The board of park commissioners of the City of Boston may lease any lands or buildings under their control, to be used for boat-houses, refectories and other purposes, and may grant concessions for keeping boats, carriages and other things for the accommodation of the public, for such terms and on such conditions as the board, with the approval of the mayor, may deem proper: provided, that nothing in this act shall be so construed as to affect in any way any contract or agreement entered into by said board of park commissioners prior to the passage of this act."

I am of the opinion that while this act gives to the Park Commissioners, now the Park Department, authority to lease and grant concessions for such terms and on such conditions as they, with the approval of the Mayor, may deem proper, that they cannot give away these concessions or privileges without a reasonably valuable consideration to the City of Boston. While the language of the statute gives wide authority to the department, it does not justify the giving away of public property or of rights therein for the benefit of individuals, and if such a construction were placed upon the statute, the statute itself would in all probability be declared unconstitutional. While a gift of these concessions cannot be made, the amount of the consideration, if legally reasonable, rests entirely with the Park Department and the Mayor, and if the party or parties to whom the concession or concessions are granted bid themselves to do certain things which will inure to the substantial benefit of the city, then I am of the opinion whether the agreement be for the lease of land or buildings or the granting of concessions covered by the act they would undoubtedly be upheld by the courts.

JOSEPH P. LYONS.

CLAIMS OF CITY AGAINST EDISON COMPANY.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Law Department,

August 16, 1921.

To the Honorable the City Council,

City Hall, Boston 9:

Gentlemen,—For the information of your honorable body I send you herewith a copy of a report to the Mayor, of even date, concerning the Edison situation. Should you desire any further particulars I shall be glad to go before you at any time.

Very truly yours,

ARTHUR D. HILL,

Corporation Counsel.

August 16, 1921.

Hon. Andrew J. Peters,

Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—In the matter of the claims of the city against the Edison Electric Illuminating Company of Boston I beg to report as follows:

From the facts brought to my attention in the preparation of the case of the petition brought by you before the Department of Public Utilities, asking for a reduction in the rates charged for electricity, I have reached the conclusion that the 10 per cent additional charge and the additional charge under the so-called "Coal Clause," which have at various times between October 1, 1917, and the present date been charged to consumers by the Edison Company in connection with certain of its rates, are illegal and that these charges have not been fairly or correctly applied by the company.

The City of Boston not only takes electricity from the Edison Company under its contract for street lighting (under which neither of these charges have been applied), but also purchases considerable quantities of electricity for lighting its schoolhouses and other municipal buildings. Upon these charges the 10 per cent and coal clause have been applied and large sums of money have this way been collected from the city. As to the future, the matter can be satisfactorily dealt with through the Department of Public Utilities, but for payments made in the past that department has no legal authority to order repayment. I have therefore with your approval brought an action on behalf of the city against the Edison Company to recover the amount which in my judgment has been illegally collected.

So far as relates to payments under the coal clause, what I have done is in accordance with an order passed by the City Council, February 21 last and transmitted by you to me. In this order you were requested to direct the Law Department to take steps to compel the Edison Company to refund all moneys received from the city under the coal clause. Until the present time, however, I have not had the information which seemed to me necessary as a foundation for legal action.

This report is made in pursuance of recent conferences between us and in order that knowledge of what has been done may be transmitted to the Council.

Very truly yours,

ARTHUR D. HILL,

Corporation Counsel.

RESOLUTIONS CONCERNING THE KU KLUX KLAN.

Coun. WATSON offered the following:

Whereas, An organization claiming to be patriotic and calling itself the "Ku Klux Klan" has recently spread its activities throughout our country, and its appearance has been accompanied by lawlessness, disregard of the rights of citizens and crimes of violence of almost every character; and

Whereas, The real aims and objects of the organization have been and are now being exposed by the Boston Post and other news agencies and

Whereas, It is clear that this organization is un-American in its objects (criminal in many of its activities) and is dedicated to the creation of race hatred and religious prejudice; and

Whereas, The lawless activities and un-American objects of the Ku Klux Klan under the cloak of patriotism and hiding behind the racial and religious hatreds which it is engendering are carried on for no other purpose than the financial gain of its promoters; and

Whereas, Wherever it has been established the Ku Klux Klan has proven itself a menace to the peace and well-being of the community and a challenge to the enforcement of law and the exercise of the rights of citizenship; now therefore he it

Resolved, That the Boston City Council, appreciating the dangers that lurk in this form of un-American propaganda, and being aware of the crimes which have followed in its wake, and deprecating the attacks which it is fostering against the negro, the Catholic and the Jew, believes that it is its duty to warn the citizens of Boston and its vicinity of the true character and malign influence of the Ku Klux Klan and to beseech all real Americans to discourage to their utmost the spread of the Ku Klux Klan or the propaganda for which it is responsible; and be it further

Resolved, That the thanks of the City Council of Boston be conveyed to the Boston Post for its patriotic work in exposing the sordid and unpatriotic character of the Ku Klux Klan.

Coun. WATSON. Mr. President, I realize that many members of this body are opposed to resolutions which are national in their scope, and I realize that I have been the sponsor of several of these resolutions which this body has passed, usually unanimously. I am inclined to agree that perhaps we have overstepped the bounds of our actual duty in passing several of these resolutions. I think, however, that good always comes from resolutions if nothing more becomes of them than to spread publicity concerning the activities of those against whom the resolutions are addressed.

I have been following pretty closely the exposure by the Boston Post and the New York World of the insidious and un-American conduct of the so-called Ku Klux Klan. I presume that many others have done likewise. I am not struck much by the importance or the danger of its work other than the fear that it will recreate that religious feeling in our community which has been put underground and kept there for many years, in fact, ever since the days when the late-lamented George Frisbie Hoar, the United States Senator from Massachusetts, put his heel on the head of the serpent called A. P. A.-ism.

The Ku Klux Klan, so called, claim that of all, financial benefit to its members, but in order to create a financial return for those who are at the head of the organization they must use the means of stirring up race hatred and religious bigotry; and I feel that they strike at the fountain of American institutions; they strike at the very source of our freedom, when they attempt to reflect or interfere with the conduct of any of our citizens, be they black, be they Catholic or be they Jew. The Constitution guarantees to all our citizens certain rights and privileges regardless of their race, religion or color.

The Ku Klux Klan, so-called, claim that they have a membership of half a million, and today are propagating in Massachusetts as well as in every other state of the Union and claim that inside of twelve months they expect to have a membership of at least two million in their organization, and I say that there is no more fitting place in the world than here in Boston, where freedom and liberty were born, where we foster and adore the Cradle of Liberty—Faneuil Hall—where the best that is in America was either born or came from foreign shores, the best in the matter of brains, the best in the matter of citizenship, the best in the matter of business life and all that goes to make up a successful community, I say that the best that this Council can do, and do with much credit, is to pass this resolution today unanimously, because when you come to figure out the elements of our citizenship, those against whom the Ku Klux Klan are operating make up the majority of our better citizens, both men and women, and I know that no member of this body will disagree with me as to the principle attached to this order or its purpose. The members may feel that it is none of our business to interfere in this affair, but when cities of the country as large and as influential as ours have taken this action, we can at least follow. We should have led. And, therefore, Mr. Chairman, I move suspension of the rule in order that the resolution may go on its passage at this time.

11. Report on preamble and order (referred today) for revocation of licenses to sell firearms—that the preamble and order ought to pass.

The question came on the acceptance of the report and passage of the order.

Coun. COLLINS—Mr. President, this matter was very carefully threshed out in Executive Committee, and I do not plan at this time to make any protracted statement of my reason for voting against the order. My reasons for voting against the order, they are, briefly, first, because I think as drafted it is illegal. As bearing upon that, I sought in committee an opinion of the Corporation Counsel, but my motion was voted down. The reason why I think it is illegal is that when licenses are once issued, in my opinion, under the statute, the only way in which they can be revoked is for cause and by notice to those holding the license to the effect that the Council or the committee of the Council proposes to give a hearing on the question of revocation of the license. I do not think under the statute as it stands that the Council has a right when it once issues a license to summarily revoke it within a few months, without cause shown and without a hearing. It may be said with reference to this statute, which has been on the books for some years, that various attempts have been made by officials who believe that the law should be amended, to have it amended, from time to time, without success. The gentleman offering this motion has filed a bill, I understand, in the Legislature, asking that a proper statute be enacted for the sale of firearms. I am one of those who believe that some kind of restrictive legislation is necessary, but I do not believe that we ought to proceed in an illegal manner by voting for an order that strikes me as amounting to nothing, as far as results go, in the sense of being an effective order or ordinance. Some weeks or months ago, I think two months ago, the Council passed an order here restricting the sale of firearms only to those people who had a right to carry them, and the Corporation Counsel ruled that we did not even have that right. I voted against that order at that time, not believing that we had the legal right to pass it. I am voting against this order today because I do not believe we have the legal right to pass it. But I am not hiding behind any technicality. I believe, in order that there may be an effective law for the sale of firearms, that it ought to be state wide in its nature. In the event of this order being really effective, we would have the anomaly of nobody in the City of Boston having a right to sell firearms even to people having the right to carry them. It strikes me that we do not want to put ourselves in such a position, which seems ridiculous, in view of the fact that anybody wishing to purchase firearms could go to any of the nearby cities and towns and get them. Maniacs or a dishonest person would be able to obtain firearms or their equivalent and do the damage against which we are trying to protect the public. At the same time we ought to view the matter from a broad standpoint, as I believe we all see the righteousness of honest people having a right to purchase and to carry firearms when it is right for them to do so. I want to say that my opinion in this matter was sustained in committee by the other attorney, Coun. Ford. In my opinion, for two reasons, we should not at this time pass the order that is before us, first, that it would be illegal, and second, that if passed it would be ineffective.

Coun. FORD—Mr. President, I don't want to take up the time of the body by merely summing up what Coun. Collins has said, because, as the councilor has stated, I agree with him absolutely. I thought also it would be well to have the opinion of the Corporation Counsel upon the legal points which the councilor has suggested here. There were also one or two other points that were doubtful in my mind. One was this, whether a license once granted for a term should be revoked except at the expiration of the term? Surely, to my mind, it could not be revoked except for cause, and we have to bear in mind the fact that these licenses have been granted for the balance of the year for which they were given, up to April 1. Another point that struck me was this, that when we vote on these licenses or these various permits we make an individual report on each application for a license or a permit, and therefore I think the proper, legal and effective way to act, if it is to be done at all as suggested, is to introduce an individual order of revocation of each permit. For the reasons I have added to those stated by the councilor who preceded me, I thought in committee, and still think, that the matter ought to go to the Corporation Counsel for an opinion. I say that also in view of the fact that I think the Mayor will send for an opinion of the Corporation Counsel to determine whether or not it is legal, and we ought not to be put in the position of voting for what we might call an illegal order until we find out just where we are on it. I agree fully that something should be done to straighten the thing out, that some action should be taken. The councilor who introduced the order said he would be more or less willing to have us act on the order today and then summon in all those who had applied for licenses and ask them whether or not they would sell a firearm to one who had no license to carry it; that if they were not willing to agree to do that their license should be revoked, but that if they should agree not to sell to one who did not have a license they should be allowed to continue to carry firearms. I thought, and still think, that the better way to accomplish what the councilor has in mind is this, not to revoke the licenses at the present time, but to endeavor to have the Legislature put into effect, state wide, such a law as the councilor has in mind here, a law not to sell a firearm except to one who has a permit to carry it; and then, we can perhaps ask those who have licenses or permits to come before the Council, when we can ask them if they will agree not to sell to those who do not have permits to carry firearms. I think in that way we can accomplish what the councilor has in mind, and what I feel the Legislature itself ought to accomplish. I believe that a great many members of the Legislature want to vote for such a law, that the Police Commissioner wants to have the Legislature pass the law, and that everybody except the lobby at the State House conducting the affairs of those who want to sell firearms wishes to have such a law passed. I think perhaps, in view of what we may call the illegality of the ordinance of the order, and having in mind the other facts we have stated, we are justified in taking the position we take today. Of course, we are all in favor of preventing this whole abuse, but I think, as a lawyer, that it is a matter for the Legislature and not for the Council. If the Corporation Counsel, on the other hand, says we have the power to do what the councilor on the other side is trying to do, conscientiously without a question of doubt, I should not hesitate for a second to vote for his order, even though I think it is a matter for the Legislature, because, as I said in the committee, if we have the power, the legal right to do what is being attempted through the passage of this order, it might have the effect of forcing the large dealers who have power at the State House to go up there and favor action that would correct the abuse. But I think the suggestion made by Coun. Collins is a valid one, that unless broader action than is contemplated here is taken there is nothing to prevent a maniac or one similarly inclined from going to Chelsea or any city or town a few miles out of Boston and buying firearms.

Coun. WATSON—Mr. President, as I desire to vote differently from the two gentlemen who have preceded me, I wish also to get my point of view on the record. I wish to say that if today our vote for revocation of the permits is granted to legitimate and careful, as well as the illegitimate and careless dealers in firearms, will result possibly in saving one life, I will be satisfied personally to vote for revocation, entirely apart from what the strict legal view of the law and statutes relating to firearms and their sale may be. I was one of those who voted in favor of granting licenses or permits to all the so-called dealers in firearms at the last meeting. I simply thought that everybody ought to live up to the same rules and regulations as laid down in the permits, but since then there have been three murders as the result of the careless sale of firearms. I do not feel guilty in those matters, as one who voted for the permits, but I do feel that if there had been a little closer control of the sale of firearms at least one or two of the deaths that took place because of the use of the firearms by individuals might have been stopped. I realize that the legitimate dealers in firearms are entitled to the right to sell their commodities. There may be a close question—I am not a lawyer—whether or not we have the right legally to revoke the permits we have granted. I am inclined to think as a layman that we have, if it is for the public good, in our opinion, to do it. If we are in error, undoubtedly the Mayor, under advice of the Law Department, will prohibit it. But I do want for the sake of my neighbors and the community in which I live, and for the sake of those who may lose dear ones by the acts of insane or criminally minded people, to go on record as being in favor of perhaps acting rather strongly in the matter of registering my vote, as a protest at least, for the revocation of the licenses that have been granted, both to those who sell firearms, legally, properly and carefully, and those who do the opposite. I am prepared to vote to revoke these permits regardless of whether I am acting legally in doing so or not.

Coun. MORIARTY—Mr. President, I realize that the hour is getting late, and I shall not take much time. I will, however, simply repeat the language of my brother on the other side, whether it is lawful or unlawful, if by our action it is possible to save one life, or help to save one life, I believe there is not one of us who ought to duck behind the law. I claim that the allowing of the sale of guns is against the public safety of our city. We have cases every day in court where people who are given a license to operate an automobile are brought in and have their licenses taken away, because they have driven their car under the influence of liquor or in such a way as to endanger the lives of the public; and it seems to me that there is no better reason why licenses should be revoked. What better reason can we have than the protection of the lives of our citizens? As far as the opinion of the Corporation Counsel is concerned, I am beginning to believe as a layman that I never saw two lawyers—and I have a lot of them who are my friends—who will not take a case on opposite sides and argue the law from opposite points of view before the justice of any court, one claiming that his side is right, and the other claiming that his side is the correct one. As far as justice is concerned in our courthouses, I think it is to be found outside of the courthouses. There is little justice on the inside. If we argue on interpretations of law, we are not going to get anywhere so far as prohibiting the sale of firearms in our city is concerned. Agreeing that our action is unlawful, what harm have we done? As far as the action of the Legislature is concerned, one of my brother councilors on the other side has stated, what everybody knows, that they have tried to get legislation along this line every year at the State House, and a powerful lobby had stopped our getting legislation to protect ourselves. My idea is to continue at this thing, if I only have my own vote here, meeting after meeting, introducing orders and keeping the thing alive, so as to keep our citizens awake to the importance of some such action being taken, and so that we will as soon as possible get rid of this menace that comes from guns being bought in this irresponsible way, in the majority of instances from the pawnshops of Boston. The gun that slew Officer Cuneo was bought in a pawnshop; the gun with which the murder of a man and woman in West Roxbury was committed the other day was sold by a second-hand dealer on Broadway. Nobody knows when or where the next case of the sort is going to take place, and nobody knows where the weapon is going to be bought. I believe that it is our duty to act in the matter. If it is beyond our power, that is not our fault. We who favor the passage of this order may be right, or the two lawyers on the other side may be right. But I believe this, that before the order is signed the Mayor will ask the Corporation Counsel for an opinion in the matter, and if the Corporation Counsel says that the order is unlawful, at the next meeting I will have here the number of licenses that have been passed individually, and I will ask that every one of them be revoked individually. If a public hearing upon them is called for, I shall be glad to give my time, if it is possible that we may save one life. I will say this in conclusion. I believe if we had not granted these permits in June Officer Cuneo would be home tonight with his wife and nine children. Again, in that connection, what do we do? We pass an order today for a thousand dollars; we give an annuity of $600 a year to the officer's family. But we allow the newspapers to take up the cause of a public servant, instead of doing it ourselves. The City of Boston allows the newspapers to go out and interest the public in the matter, instead of the city taking care of an officer's family itself, although the officer was killed when he was doing our duty, not his but ours. We simply give his family a thousand dollars, and we allow the public to give him $24,000 or $25,000. It should be the city's duty to take care of the family of any public servant, when he is injured or killed in the performance of the duty that he is hired to perform. If he loses his life, we should amply take care of his family. I believe, so that such cases may not happen again, so that nobody may lose his life through the improper sale of firearms, we ought to revoke each and every license in Boston. Mr. Chairman, they say that people can buy weapons in Chelsea. Let Chelsea take care of itself for the time being, and let every other town take care of itself. We have always heard during the war from speakers, men and women, a great deal said about the prominent part that has always been played by Boston in history. When any big thing has been commenced they have said, "It started in Boston." They told us about the Tea Party, and they told us about a number of other movements that started in Boston. Let this start here. If they want to make it state wide, and can do so, very well, or if it can be made nation wide. But let it start here and now. Let us abolish the sale of firearms here, and then abolish it in Massachusetts, and not only in Massachusetts but the country at large.

Coun. DONOGHUE—Mr. President, in view of the fact that practically all members of the Council have stated their views on this matter, I want also to state mine. I wish to state that I voted to grant these permits to the pawnbrokers after they had been held up for the reason that I felt that we should not make fish of one and flesh of the other, that is, that after we had granted licenses to the so-called larger concerns that sold firearms, we should not discriminate against the pawnbrokers. I felt that we should give to the little fellow the same rights and privileges that were given to the big fellow. I said also, when the order was introduced to revoke all permits, that I would be glad to vote for it. We have had a lot of controversy here today in regard to the legality of this order. Nobody here today is qualified to say whether the order is or is not legal. That is for the Corporation Counsel, and you men who have stood behind his opinion in the past will have to stand behind it again in the future. But we all know that the opinions of corporation counsels very often vary. One will take a certain position at one time, on one side of a question, and another will take just the opposite position on the same question. We have had evidence in regard to the kind of opinions we get here today. The Corporation Counsel has ruled that the privileges given to the Women's Educational and Industrial Union, privileges that in previous year have netted the city over $9,000 a year, and have been given to this organization this year for nothing, are legal. That being so, surely he can rule that this order that has been introduced here today is legal. But if he rules that it is not legal, which, in my opinion, he will do, whether it is legal or not, he will rule that it is not legal, we will at least have the satisfaction of saying to the Legislature that we, the City Council of Boston, have gone on record in favor of abolishing the sale of firearms to anybody who does not have a permit to carry them. So when the bill is presented to the incoming Legislature by the councilor on my left (Coun. Moriarty) and is considered by the committee, you will have something to fall back on. You can say that the City Council of Boston believes that the Legislature should pass legislation that should not alone be local, but should be statewide in its scope. In that way I feel that we will have accomplished something by passing this order.

The order was passed, yeas 5, nays 3.

Yeas—Councilors Brickley, Donoghue, Lane, Moriarty, Watson—5.

Nays—Coun. Collins, Ford, Hagan—3.

FINANCE.

Coun. DONOGHUE, for the Committee on Finance, submitted a report on message of Mayor and order (referred today) for loan of $200,000 for Highways, Making of—that the order ought to pass.

The report was accepted; the order was given its first reading and passed, yeas 8, nays 0.

The order will take its final reading not less than fourteen days from date.

COUNTY ACCOUNTS.

Coun. FORD, for the Committee on County Accounts, submitted a report on order (referred July 12) disapproving salary of Thomas G. Davis, probation officer of Municipal Court—that the order ought not to pass.

The report was accepted, and the question came on the acceptance of the report.

Coun. DONOGHUE—Mr. President, I want to say that I am in favor of the adoption of this order. We have here a situation where the justices of the court are appointing to the position of probation officer a man who is not a resident of the City of Boston. I don't want to make any lengthy speech about it, but I feel that for positions in Suffolk County people who are residents of the City of Boston should be considered first. If you cannot get a resident of the City of Boston capable of filling such a position, it is then time enough to go outside. But on numerous occasions here during the past year we have seen cases where men who live in Arlington, Cambridge, Somerville, Newton and other places outside of Boston have been appointed to such positions here and they are confirmed, or their salaries are approved by this Council. I want to go on record as being in favor of Boston positions for Boston men.

Coun. COLLINS—Mr. President, some time ago we had a debate here in this Council relative to this matter, and I took the position then as I do now, that under the law the judges of the court have the right to appoint; that the only question we have to determine is that of the approval of the salary. The gentleman who last spoke intimates that this is a confirmation. It is not, and it has never been so considered by the Council in the years I have been here. That being so, the only question with me is, whether the position is necessary? All other things being equal, I believe such positions should be given to Boston people. But that is not a matter for us to decide under the statutes; it is for the judges of the Municipal Court. If you disagree with the law, change the statutes. There can be no question that the position itself is one that is most important to the community, and, in view of the fact that all we pass on is the necessity of the position, I shall vote against the order, unless it can be shown to me that the position itself is an unnecessary one.

Coun. WATSON—Mr. President, my position should be well known to the public, as it is certainly well known to the Council. I am opposed with all my limited power to the sort of thing involved in this appointment in our courts. Even though I have no right to vote on confirmation, I want to register my protest against the right of residents of Middlesex or other counties coming in here and taking such positions in Suffolk County. Therefore, I intend to vote for the order, which contemplates not paying the salary.

Coun. BRICKLEY—Mr. President, I want to say that I understand that Mr. Davis, so far as I know, is a resident of Boston. I think some of the members of the Council here are ignorant of that fact.

Coun. WATSON—No, he is not.

Coun. BRICKLEY—Yes, he is.

Coun. WATSON—No, he isn't.

Coun. BRICKLEY—You will find out that he is.

Coun. FORD—Mr. President, I think we all agree with what Coun. Donoghue has said. This Council is unanimously in favor of giving Boston positions to Boston residents, absolutely, so as to keep our men at work; and it is an excellent argument in favor of that position that if we went to Middlesex County, those of us who have resided in Boston part or all of our lives, we could not get a position there. But the fact in this case is that this young man is a resident of the City of Boston. I met young Mr. Davis a long while ago and pointed out to him the objection against him as a probation officer, that he did not reside in Boston. He told me at that time that he intended to move into Boston, and I understand that he has done so, into the Roxbury district, Coun. Watson's district, although at the time I understand that, moving right into Boston then, he did not, of course, immediately become a legal voter. He was not here April 1 of this year, but he does reside in the city at the present time, and by April 1, 1922, he will be entitled to become a registered voter of the City of Boston. He is a young man who has been in the office for some time, who has worked himself up to probation officer, and I think he is entitled to a great deal of credit for the attitude that he has taken in the matter. He has shown himself to be quite willing to meet the objection to his candidacy to that office, and I think he is worthy of the position. Mr. Davis, I understand, is a resident of Boston, and I think his salary ought to be approved. As Coun. Collins says, we are not confirming the appointment. But we ought to be glad that a young man of his type is seeking the position.

Coun. WATSON—Mr. President, I do not propose to let my colleague on the left get away with that last statement without a reply from me. I want it understood, and I want it to be stated entirely specifically, that I don't think any man should be a candidate for an office of this kind in one county who is a legal voter in another county. The mere fact that after he becomes a candidate for the position he becomes a resident of my district, because he wants to avoid the protest against his appointment to the position, I do not think is much to his credit. If Boston, in his opinion, was a good place to live in, he should have become a resident and a citizen of Boston when he was working up in the office, not waiting until this time. I believe that he should have become a resident of Boston at that time. Furthermore, I wish to state that I shall cast my vote in a manner to show the judges, or a few of them, that at least some of the members of this body, the County Commissioners of Suffolk County, are strongly in favor of legal voters of Boston or of the County of Suffolk being appointed to positions of this sort in the court. That is my position. I do not know Mr. Davis. Personal friends of mine have asked me to vote to approve the salary, stating that I was voting not for the position but for the salary, but when I gave them my reasons for opposing the approval of the salary, they all agreed that my position was correct. They all agreed with me that if Suffolk County was a good enough county to be on the pay roll of, it was a good enough county to be a legal voter in.

Coun. FORD—Mr. President, I would like to point out the fact that some of us, excluding myself, were not born in Boston; that they came to Boston a long time ago and that they are now drawing salaries in the City of Boston; that they are now enjoying the full privilege of the City of Boston, although they were not born in Boston.

Coun. MORIARTY—Mr. President, I had no intention of making any further statement, but after the last remarks of my brother on the other side, I will simply say that what he says hits me. I was not born in Boston, although I was born in the State of Massachusetts. I have lived in Boston, however, for twenty-five years, and I believe I am as good a citizen of Boston as he is. I don't believe that means that you have got to be born in Boston. When I moved here, I moved to South Boston, and I have continually resided in South Boston. I have been elected to this body by the people of Boston, not being appointed by a judge, as Mr. Davis has been, and some day the judges will answer to the people, when the people elect the judges. I do not know Mr. Davis. I would not know him if he came into the room. But I have been consistent against the employment by this city and county of those coming from outside. I am surprised that these men who represent Boston, men who were born in Boston, will not stick up for the men who were born and brought up in Boston, but are willing that those from outside districts shall come in here and take the positions that belong to the people of Boston. I want to say that, as far as Mr. Davis' ability is concerned, I am not going into the question of his ability, because I do not know him. I have been asked no questions about him. There have been people who have tried to reach me, to change my vote, but I am going to vote against this, not against Mr. Davis but against the method of the justices of the court allowing other than citizens of Suffolk County to be on the pay roll of Suffolk County. I realize that it is not going to do any good, but I am willing to accept the issue with the councilor on the other side, so far as I am concerned. To the best of my knowledge, there may be two men here who were not born in Boston; but I believe that Mr. Davis, and the likes of Davis, before they take positions here, should become legal citizens of the city. That is what I did before I tried to hold public office here, and I was not elected by the judges, because I realized that few of them voted for me. I did not have the ring in the courthouse behind me in my last election, like some of the men who are sitting here, and I do not do the bidding of the courthouse, like some of the men who are sitting here. If some of the members here want to go into that matter, let them do so. I was not born in Boston, although I would have been proud to be born here, but I had no choice as to where I was born. I claim that my father and mother are as good as any father or mother of any other member of this Council. When I decided to live in Boston, I became a legal citizen of Boston, and if I am going to be criticised by a man who was born in Boston for not being born in Boston, and it then appears in his next breath that he is not willing to vote that Bostonians have the positions that those of us who were not born in Boston, but who are now citizens of Boston, have been fighting for since we have been members of this body, on behalf of the citizens of Boston, let the fact be known to the people of this city.

Coun. DONOGHUE—Mr. President, I want to say that I believe absolutely in home rule for the City of Boston in everything. In this instance, it has been pointed out that we have not the power to confer or appoint to this position, but we have the power to say how the money of the City of Boston shall be spent, and we have the power to say whether or not that money shall go to a resident of the City of Boston or a resident of the city of Newton. Let us draw the lines. We know, if we pass this order today, that we are going to see so much money voted by the City of Boston to a legal voter of the city of Newton. There is no way of getting around it. The councilors who take the opposite side say they agree that these positions in the City of Boston belong to Boston men, and the next moment they vote, under one subterfuge or another, camouflaging it as you wish, to give this position that belongs to a Boston boy to a Newton boy. I am not saying anything against the calibre of this young man. He may be all that they say he is, a high type of man, but we have lots of young men of high type in the City of Boston, young men who will not take off their hats to young men in the city of Newton or in any other cities surrounding the City of Boston. I believe all these positions should be given to citizens of Boston, and if we have not the power to confirm them, we have the power to deny them any salary, and if they have no salary they will not ask for positions in the City of Boston very long. If Boston is a good enough city to draw money from, it certainly is good enough to live in and be a legal voter in.

Coun. COLLINS—Mr. President, I have just one suggestion to make. If we deny and disapprove of this salary, there is nothing to prevent this gentleman from bringing suit in court and recovering against the county for services performed; so the action of the Council in refusing this man's salary will not negative his ultimate right to collect it. There is no better reason for believing he has that right than is shown in the fact that for some months this Council has been refusing his salary and he is still working there. He is confident, I suppose, that he is able to collect it.

Coun. DONOGHUE—Mr. President, in my opinion it is not a question of his knowing that he can recover that salary. It is simply that he knows, if he gets the wires working properly, that it will be only a question of a short time before he can probably get votes enough in the Council to put the matter over. That is all there is to it. If, on the other hand, he stays up there and has to go to court in order to recover his salary, how long are the people of Boston going to stand for any such procedure? How long are the people of Boston going to be denied home rule? We have been trying for home rule since the Police Department was taken away from the City of Boston. There are not a dozen residents of the City of Boston who do not believe that the City of Boston should come directly under the Mayor of the City of Boston. That, like all other departments of the city, each should be directly under the control of the Mayor of this city of ours. It is only going to be a short time, in my opinion, before the people of Boston will rebel against the present set-up against residents of Boston, under which Boston must pay the bills while the positions go to those who are not residents of Boston. In my opinion, the time is not far distant when these judges and others who now have the appointing power and appoint others than citizens of Boston to these positions will dare not appoint other than a Boston man to a position paid for by Boston money. I hope that this order will be defeated.

The report was declared accepted, and the order rejected. Coun. WATSON doubted the vote and asked for the yeas and nays.

Coun. FORD—Mr. President, I understand that the question is on the passage of Coun. Moriarty's order to disapprove the salary?

President HAGAN—The question is on the acceptance of the report of the committee, which reported "ought not to pass" on Coun. Moriarty's order to disapprove the payment of the salary.

The report was accepted and the order rejected, yeas 3, nays 5.

Yeas—Couns. Donoghue, Moriarty, Watson—3.

Nays—Coun. Brickley, Collins, Ford, Hagan, Lane—5.

SALARY OF PROBATION OFFICER DAVIS.

Coun. FORD offered an order—That the salary of Thomas G. Davis, probation officer of the Municipal Court of the City of Boston, fixed by the chief justice of said court at $2,600 per annum from May 23, 1921, be and the same hereby is approved by the City Council.

Coun. BRICKLEY—Mr. President, I think that is out of order. We have No. 2 on the calendar, on the table, which I think covers that, and I think there is no necessity for this order.

(No. 2, referred to, is as follows: "Report of Committee on County Accounts on communication from the Chief Justice of the Municipal Court determining the salary of Thomas G. Davis, Probation Officer—Recommending that the same be placed on file.")

Coun. FORD—Mr. President, I consulted the Assistant City Clerk before introducing the order and was informed that there was no necessity of taking No. 2 from the table, but that the order I have presented would suffice.

The order offered by Coun. FORD was passed, yeas 5, nays 3:

Yeas—Coun. Brickley, Collins, Ford, Hagan, Lane—5.

Nays—Coun. Donoghue, Moriarty, Watson—3.

CONFIRMATION OF APPOINTMENTS.

Coun. HAGAN called up No. 1, unfinished business, viz.:

1. Action on appointments submitted by the Mayor August 15, 1921, of Daniel P. Walker and Earl Wagonfeld, to be Weighers of Goods.

The question came on confirmation. Committee—Coun. Watson and Ford. Whole number of ballots cast 8, yeas 8, and the appointments were confirmed.

SALARY OF PROBATION OFFICER DAVIS.

Coun. HAGAN called up No. 2, from the table, viz.:

2. Report of Committee on County Accounts on communication from chief justice of the Municipal Court determining the salary of Thomas G. Davis, probation officer—recommending that the same be placed on file.

Placed on file.

FIREARM PERMIT FOR H. ANGUS CONNORS.

Coun. BRICKLEY called up No. 3, from the table, viz.:

3. Report of Executive Committee on petition of H. Angus Connors for a license to sell, rent or lease firearms at 99 Massachusetts avenue—recommending that a license be granted.

The question came on accepting the report and granting the license.

Coun. BRICKLEY—Mr. President, I think where we have so much agitation on the question of firearms, and where the other petitions besides this have been granted, this one having been held up, that this petition should be granted at this time, regardless of what action has been taken otherwise, so as to place all these matters on the same basis. Therefore, I move that we proceed to a vote.

Coun. DONOGHUE—Mr. President, in view of the fact that we have just passed an order revoking all permits to sell firearms, it seems to me that if we now grant this permit we will place ourselves in the position of voting to revoke the licenses of those who now have permits to sell and of granting this particular party the right to sell. For that reason, I think that this particular matter, for the present at least, should be left on the table. Otherwise, I shall vote against it, personally.

Coun. BRICKLEY—Mr. President, I think all of the councilors present realize how small are the powers that we have and how little we can do in matters of this sort, that, in fact, we have no power at all, without the sanction of the Mayor. I do not believe that the Mayor will give his sanction to anything that will be detrimental in this case in any way whatsoever. So I say that there is no harm in granting this license here at this time.

Coun. FORD—Mr. President, I think it is a perfectly proper position for us to take that we will grant this permit and get all these matters before the Mayor, because they will not be revoked, if revoked, until they reach the Mayor. So it seems to me all right to grant this permit at this time.

Coun. DONOGHUE—Mr. President, it seems to me if we grant this permit it will be optional with the Mayor to O. K. it or not. He can O. K. it, and then this man will have the right to sell firearms. On the other hand, if he sees fit to O. K. this, and the other permits should be revoked under the action we have taken, he will have no power to revoke this particular license, which would have been granted.

The report was accepted, and the license granted.

Coun. WATSON doubted the vote and called for the yeas and nays.

The Council voted to accept the report and grant the license to the petitioner, yeas 5, nays 3:

Yeas—Coun. Brickley, Collins, Ford, Hagan, Lane—5.

Nays—Coun. Donoghue, Moriarty, Watson—3.

Passed under a suspension of the rule.

PHILLIPS RIZNICK SQUARE.

Coun. MORIARTY offered an order—That the space at the junction of G street and Broadway, South Boston, be named Phillips Riznick square, in memory of said Riznick, who was killed while serving in the United States Navy, and that said space be suitably marked with signs.

Passed under a suspension of the rule.

ALEXANDER A. MILLIGAN SQUARE.

Coun. MORIARTY offered an order—That the space at the junction of West First, East Second and Dorchester streets be named Alexander A. Milligan square, in memory of said Milligan, who fell in action at the battle of Cambrai during the World War, and that said space be suitably marked with signs.

Passed under a suspension of the rule.

JOSEPH HAROLD COYNE SQUARE.

Coun. COLLINS offered an order—That the space at the junction of North Beacon and Market streets be named Joseph Harold Coyne square, in memory of said Coyne, who was killed in action in France during the World War, and that said space be suitably marked with signs.

Passed under a suspension of the rule.

GENERAL RECONSIDERATION.

Coun. COLLINS moved a general reconsideration on all business transacted at the meeting, hoping that the same would not prevail. Lost.

THE NEXT MEETING.

Coun. LANE moved to adjourn to September 26, 1921, at 2 p. m.

Coun. MORIARTY—Mr. President, I am opposed to going over for two weeks. I think we ought to meet next Monday, and I am going to move that we meet next Monday.

President HAGAN—The Council votes on the longer time first. You can vote against that, and that is as far as you can go at the present time.

Coun. MORIARTY—Mr. President, I am going to make an amendment, that we meet a week from today, and I am going to insist on meeting weekly hereafter.

President HAGAN—When different periods are proposed, the question comes first on the longer time. Therefore, the amendment will have to be declared out of order.

Coun. MORIARTY—Mr. President, I am going to appeal from your decision.

President HAGAN—Don't call it my decision. It is the decision of the rules.

Coun. COLLINS—Question, Mr. President.

President HAGAN—The question is, shall the decision of the Chair be the decision of the house?

(A Voice—"Withdraw the appeal.")

Coun. MORIARTY—I will not withdraw it. He declared my motion out of order. I think I have a right to make an amendment to any motion that is made, and then he has the right to put the longest time first. But he has no right to declare my amendment out of order, which he did.

Coun. DONOGHUE—Mr. President, if this motion that we adjourn for two weeks is defeated, will Coun. Moriarty's motion then be before the house?

President HAGAN—That motion will then be unnecessary. Under the rules we would meet in one week. No motion is necessary for that. A motion has been made that we meet in two weeks. The question first comes on sustaining the Chair.

Coun. COLLINS—Mr. President, if an appeal is not seconded, it is not in order.

President HAGAN—The appeal has been seconded.

Coun. MORIARTY—Mr. President, I withdraw my appeal. I think it is about time that we paid some attention to the rules of our Council. There has been a lot of talk here today about law. That is all we have heard. Now, the rules of our Council say that we shall meet weekly, and I am going to insist, if I am the only member here who does so, that we meet weekly, not only next week but the following weeks.

Coun. LANE—Mr. President, I rise to a point of order, that the question of adjournment is not debatable.

Coun. MORIARTY—The time of adjournment is, Mr. President.

President HAGAN—The point of order is not well taken.

Coun. MORIARTY—We will all disagree, Mr. President, I suppose, as far as law is concerned, but the rules of this body say that we shall meet weekly, and there is no question about that. We have been around kidding the people long enough, ducking our meetings and ducking our duty. (To another member) Yes, that means you, too, if you want to take it up. As long as you are starting to get personal here, we might just as well all get personal, and I will be willing to take care of myself with any one of you.

Coun. FORD—You are losing yourself, Jimmy.

Coun. MORIARTY—I am not losing myself as you lost yourself this afternoon.

President HAGAN—The gentleman will come to order.

Coun. MORIARTY—Well, he started it. I would have no idea of doing so if he did not start it. So I will vote against adjournment for two weeks not only today but every other day when the question comes up here. There is business enough for us to do if we come here weekly.

The question was put on adjournment for two weeks, and the President declared the motion carried.

Coun. MORIARTY—Mr. President, mine was the only voice heard, and nobody else responded. If you have any better ears than I have, you are a wonder. I ask for a roll call.

The Clerk called the roll, and when Coun. Donoghue's name was reached he said: "Mr. President, I would simply like to ask a question before voting."

President HAGAN—The gentleman may ask a question.

Coun. DONOGHUE—If the rules say that the Council shall meet once a week, isn't it necessary, in order to amend the rules, to adjourn for two weeks, and, in order to do so, to have at least six votes?

President HAGAN—The rules say that we shall meet once a week unless otherwise ordered, and that is a matter that the Council has within its own power. The motion has been made to adjourn for two weeks.

The Council voted to adjourn for two weeks, yeas 5, nays 3:

Yeas—Coun. Brickley, Collins, Ford, Hagan, Lane—5.

Nays—Coun. Donoghue, Moriarty, Watson—3.

Adjourned at 6.25 p. m., to meet on Monday, September 26, at two o'clock p. m.

of June 20, 1921 (see p. 109), requesting him to report what steps, if any, he deems advisable to take in order that an earlier record may be obtained of those boys and girls who, having obtained working certificates, leave their employment without having their absence from employment properly reported.

The Chief Attendance Officer reported that the duty of enforcing this law rests by mandatory statute upon the inspectors of the State Board of Labor and Industries, but that action by attendance officers is permissive, and this authority is availed of incidentally in connection with investigations made by them when visiting factories, work shops, etc., with considerable success.

The Chief Attendance Officer suggests that the Board assume the task of enforcing this law among Boston employers, and to this end, recommends the appointment of three additional regular attendance officers.

On September 23 to Joseph Rugo as per following communication:

Boston, September 21, 1921.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—Of the bids recently received for alterations and additions to the fire station of Engine Company 26-35, Mason street, the lowest bid was that of Joseph Rugo, for $27,935. The amount of the appropriation for doing the work is $24,972.10. The architect-engineer of the Fire Department has examined the figures of the contractor and is of the opinion that the bid for doing the work is fair. A readvertising would delay the work and it is imperative to have it done before the cold weather comes.

The bids are automatically rejected, so the auditor informs me, because they were all in excess of the appropriation. At the auditor's suggestion I am submitting for your approval the following proposition:

That the following items for the work to be done be taken from the contract:

Composition flooring, submitted price, $1,600; painting, submitted price, $1,167; flagpole, submitted price, $150; awning frame, submitted price, $100; laying up fireplace, submitted price, $125; finish hardware, submitted price, $400.

This makes a total of $3,542, which taken from the price submitted by Rugo leaves $24,393, and I request that your Honor approve, without advertising, the making of the contract with Joseph Rugo for $24,393, covering all other items in the contract.

The items in the contract such as laying up fireplace, flagpole and awning frame can be done by this department. The items of composition flooring, painting and finish hardware would have to be done by special contracts and paid for out of the other items of the Fire Department appropriation.

The following is the list of all bids received:

Joseph Rugo, $27,935; Thomas O'Connor & Co., $28,858; F. G. Coburn, $29,545; Howard Brothers, $29,850; Fitzgerald and Keating Construction Company, $29,986; W. H. Whitcomb Construction Company, $30,000; Archdeacon & Sullivan, $31,600; John F. Griffin Company, $31,890; James F. Kavanagh, $45,754.

Yours very truly,

JOHN R. MURPHY,
Fire Commissioner.

TRANSIT DEPARTMENT.

Waterproofing High Pressure.

On September 23 to Hugh Nawn Contracting Company as per following communication:

Boston, September 21, 1921.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—In accordance with the authority given by you under date of June 3, 1921, this department proceeded with the work of waterproofing and completing floor and walls of High Pressure Fire Pumping Station to Grade 15 in Third Station property of the Edison Electric Illuminating Company on Atlantic avenue at an estimated cost for labor and material of $5,500, this cost to be charged to the Public Works Department.

The work of waterproofing and of placing concrete and reinforcing rods was done by employees of this department. The department did not have the men required to construct forms for placing concrete and for operating the concrete mixer to be used in placing the concrete. As this work had to be done intermittently it would have been impossible to secure employees from the Department of Civil Service and Registration for this purpose. An order was therefore given under date of June 23, 1921, to the Hugh Nawn Contracting Company, then engaged under contract with this department in the construction of the Arlington Station, to construct such forms for placing concrete, with some of its carpenters then engaged on the Arlington Station, as might be directed by this department, and another order was given under date of June 29, 1921, to operate the concrete mixer to be used in placing the concrete with its stationary engineer also engaged on the Arlington Station work. These orders called for work to be done at cost plus 10 per cent and insurance, this cost not including any time spent by the contractor or timekeeper.

The engineer's estimate of the value of the work to be done under these orders was $350 for constructing forms for placing concrete; $100 for operating the concrete mixer; total, $450.

The actual cost of the work as shown on bills rendered by the contractor is $498.39 for constructing forms for placing concrete; $86.09 for operating the concrete mixer; total, $584.48.

After the work was opened up it was found that it would be necessary to extend operations beyond those covered by the estimate, and from time to time oral orders were given to the contractor to proceed with such extra work.

The work is now finished and the total amount due the contractor under these orders is as follows: Constructing concrete forms: Work done under original order, $498.39; extra work ordered, $614.63—$1,113.02. Operating concrete mixer: Work done under original order, $86.09; extra work ordered, $115.22—$201.31; total, $1,314.33.

The nature of the work required that the foundation, on which electrical machinery and in which ducts carrying cables of high tension voltage were to be placed, be absolutely dry. The work was entirely below tide water and would not permit of delay after the waterproofing was placed without great liability or serious injury to or leaks in the work already done. Furthermore, it was important that the work should proceed at a rate of speed to insure the completion of the foundation in time for the arrival of the pumps contracted for by the Water Division.

This work was being done under the direct supervision of this department with most excellent results, and the department believed, by reason of the difficult character of the work and the necessity of completing it at the very earliest possible date, that it was for the best interest of the city to proceed as outlined above.

Your approval is respectfully requested of the payment to the contractor of $1,314.33, being the total amount due for work under these orders.

Yours very truly,

T. F. SULLIVAN,
Acting Chairman.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,

Mayor of Boston:

SIR,—I hereby designate, with your approval, under authority of chapter 3, section 22, of the Revised Ordinances of 1914, John J. McCarthy to serve as Acting City Collector at such times as I may be absent during the four weeks commencing September 29, 1921.

RE $200,000 LOAN FOR CONSTRUCTION OF HIGHWAYS.

Boston, September 23, 1921.

To the Honorable the City Council:

GENTLEMEN,—The Finance Commission has given consideration to an order now before your honorable body, providing for an additional appropriation of $200,000 to be raised by loan for the construction of highways.

The commission understands that this order was presented to your honorable body by the Mayor, without giving any reasons for this appropriation, except that the $800,000 loan authorized April 5, 1921, for the construction of highways was not sufficient.

The reasons given by the Board of Street Commissioners for appropriating this additional $200,000 at this time are contained in a letter and statement sent to the Mayor on August 24, 1921, which are as follows:

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,

Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—Attached is a statement of matters pending before this department for expenditures which are chargeable to the loan "Highways, Making of," requested by your Honor yesterday.

Very truly yours,

J. J. O'CALLAGHAN,
Chairman.

STATEMENT.—MATTERS CHARGEABLE TO LOAN, "HIGHWAYS, MAKING OF."

Uncollected awards for land and grade damages, about	$55,000
It is probable that not more than one half of this amount would have to be paid out this year.
For proposed widening of Washington street, opposite Milk street	57,500
No part of this sum would be paid until entry for construction is made on the street. Entry should not be made until the new building is constructed.
For widening Ashland street, West Roxbury, between Washington and Sycamore streets	45,000
An immediate expenditure if the order is passed.
Total	$157,500

Hearings have been given for improvement of the following-named streets and there is an insistent demand that the work be authorized:

Claffin street, South Boston wateretaoinnn
Redlands road, West Roxbury	$29,600
Amherst street, West Roxbury	10,500
Claffin street, South Boston waterfront	17,500
Landseer street, West Roxbury	18,400
Wildwood street, Dorchester	12,700
Total	$88,700

NOTE.—No expense has been incurred in any of these streets.

The foregoing statement of the Street Commissioners to the Mayor does not disclose how the $800,000 loan of April 5 last was expended. The Finance Commission therefore made inquiry of the Board of Street Commissioners as to the disposition of this $800,000 loan. The reply to this inquiry contains a list of the streets designated by the Street Commissioners for construction this year,—eighteen in all,—giving the estimated cost of construction as $235,300 and land damage awards of $771.75. But these land damage awards have not been paid and less than $600 has been expended on the construction of these eighteen streets by the Public Works Department.

It appears, therefore, that only a nominal part of the $800,000 raised by loan last April has been expended on this year's street construction program, although the auditor's exhibit for September 1, 1921, indicates that $720,746.92 of the $800,000 loan has been expended. It must have been expended for street construction contemplated before this fiscal year.

The following is the list of streets designated for construction by the Street Laying-Out Department this year, with the estimated cost of construction, damages awarded and total cost:

NAME OF STREET.	Estimated Cost of Construction.	Damages Awarded.	Total.
Chilton road, West Roxbury	$10,700 00	None.	$10,700 00
Elmhurst street, Dorchester	11,100 00	None.	11,100 00
D street, South Boston	70,500 00	None.	70,500 00
Arborway, West Roxbury	20,500 00	None.	20,500 00
Morton street, West Roxbury, from Forest Hills avenue	31,300 00	None.	31,300 00
Ruxton road, Dorchester	11,300 00	None.	11,300 00
Parkwood terrace, West Roxbury	6,500 00	$671 75	7,171 75
Metcalfe street, West Roxbury	8,600 00	None.	8,600 00
Marie street, Dorchester	7,000 00	None.	7,000 00
Hastings street, West Roxbury	7,600 00	None.	7,600 00
Colberg avenue, West Roxbury	9,600 00	None.	9,600 00
Crescent avenue, Dorchester	100 00	None.	100 00
Chesterton street, Roxbury	10,000 00	None.	10,000 00
Balsam street, Dorchester	13,300 00	None.	13,300 00
Pond View avenue, West Roxbury	7,400 00	None.	7,400 00
Lawnwood place, Charlestown	2,400 00	None.	2,400 00
Morton street, West Roxbury, at Canterbury street	2,100 00	$100 00	2,200 00
Tilton street, Roxbury	5,300 00	None.	5,300 00
Total			$236,071 75

It will be noted that none of these streets appears in the list given to his Honor the Mayor by the Board of Street Commissioners in answer to his inquiry of August 23 last, although they were "matters pending before the department for expenditures."

It is not at all clear why the Street Commissioners ordered the construction of any new streets this year with so many streets from former years unfinished and to which they have apparently applied the loan that was made for this year's construction.

The Finance Commission understands that no information is furnished by the Street Commissioners or the Mayor to the City Council as to what streets are to be built from a loan proposed for that purpose. The auditor's records do not show the streets to which the loan of any particular year was applied. It appears, therefore, that there is no program furnished your honorable body to which the appropriation requested is to be applied; nor does the system of accounting indicate in sufficient detail how the money was expended. One is unable, without intensive study, to ascertain the cost to the city of constructing a public street under a loan for the making of highways, or the total amount paid in damages to abutting owners; or the amount collected from abutting owners for betterments; or the changes made in betterment assessments and the land damage awards from the original amounts established by the Board of Street Commissioners.

There appears to be no obligation upon the Street Commissioners to carry out a street construction program from this annual loan for the construction of streets, even after they have established such a program. They may designate streets and have the cost estimated, as they have done this year, and then abandon that program and adopt another with totally different streets designated. The present practice and procedure of the Street Laying-Out Department and the inadequate accounting system applied to it makes it almost impossible to tell to what extent the city is committed in advance for street construction.

If a loan for the making of highways is requested in any one year, the request ought to be accompanied at least with information showing whether it was needed to discharge past obligations, or to put into effect a new and definite program not in excess of the amount asked for.

The Finance Commission opposes an additional appropriation of $200,000 by loan for the construction of highways for the following reasons:

1. The uncollected awards for land and grade damages, stated by the chairman of the Street Commissioners to be $55,000, is an obligation which should never have been entered into without funds to meet it. If the city is now obligated to the extent of $55,000 by the Board of Street Commissioners in excess of the money already appropriated for that purpose this year, as indicated by the letter of the chairman of the Street Commissioners to his Honor the Mayor, that fact should be further established and dealt with as a special matter.

2. The item of $57,500 for the proposed widening of Washington street, between Ordway place and Harvard place, will not have to be used in any event in this fiscal year, or the statement of the chairman of the Board of Street Commissioners. If this widening is proposed at this time because of a donation of land by certain interests that are about to construct a building upon a part of that frontage, the city should wait until that donation is actually made before obligating itself at this time to the extent of borrowing money.

3. The widening of Ashland street, West Roxbury, should not be added to the already overburdened program of the Street Laying-Out Department with no funds to carry it out.

If this loan order is passed the borrowing power of the city is reduced to $187,000 which, in the opinion of the Finance Commission, is far below what the proper protection of the city requires for the remaining four months of the fiscal year.

The Finance Commission recommends:

1. That the Street Laying-Out Department and the Public Works Department give a detailed statement of the present outstanding obligations to which these two departments have committed the city on account of street construction.

2. That the Street Laying-Out Department be required to submit to the City Council a list of the streets proposed to be built and the estimated cost of each, with each order for an appropriation from the proceeds of a loan for the construction of highways, and that when any such appropriation is made the streets be designated upon which the expenditure is to be made.

Respectfully submitted,

MICHAEL H. SULLIVAN,
Chairman,

COURTENAY GUILD,
JOHN F. MOORS,
JAMES M. MORRISON,
J. WALDO POND,
The Finance Commission.
